B. P. W. Club Discusses Plans for Conventions

Numerous plans for club women for this spring and summer were discussed by members of the local Business and Professional Women's club at the meeting Tuesday noon at the Hotel Jackson. The last state conference of this year will be held this coming Saturday in Marshfield and the state convention May 23 to 27 in Portland.

The regional meeting of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs will be held at Yellowstone park, June 18 to 20. Business women from the eleven western states will assemble at Canyon hotel for this inspiring conference.

Special rates have been announced for traveling to the scene of the conference and the Canyon Hotel, the headquarters, is one of the most beautiful resorts in the west. It is near the rim of the canyon, a short walk from the Great Falls.

Three of the leading women of the federation will be the guest speakers, Miss Emily Kneubuhl, executive secretary of the federation, who recently returned from the Hawaiian Islands; Miss Chari Williams, former president of the National Educational association, and Eudora Richardson, field secretary of the federation.

Plans were also made by the local club Tuesday for a bazaar dinner to be held in the women's club rooms in the city hall one week from next Tuesday.

Sander and Corliss Please Large Audience in Recital

There was something very refreshing and indicative of growing interest in music about the recital last evening, in which Sebastian Apollo presented his young piano pupil, Cyril Sander, who was assisted in the program by Harold Corliss, soloist. And that something was emphasized, rather than reduced, strange to say, by the gathering of listeners lined up in the street outside the Baldwin recital hall.

For high school boys as well as experienced musicians, who lingered there, did so because of interest, not curiosity, and they did not carry on conflicting conversations, but expressed their appreciation of piano and voice.

The hall was more than filled to capacity for the recital, early in the evening. And additional guests, who wished to hear the promising young pianist and the inspiring voice of Corliss, found their only opportunity in street standing room. They made the most of that opportunity.

Sander, in whom a number of local musicians see a pianist who may some day bring honor to Medford, appeared as the very unassuming youth, playing with ease, which brought relaxation to his audience and a mood in which to enjoy the playing. For his second group, he shed his coat, it having become cumbersome in the overcrowded hall, and continued the program in shirt-sleeves, and the audience liked it.

Compositions of Nollet, Godard, Chopin, Moszkowski, Lavalley, Spindler and Liszt, were woven into his program pattern, each one characterized by Sander's very delightful lightness of touch, which promises to bring still greater beauty from piano keys in years to come. Each number received the enthusiastic applause of his audience.

Mr. Corliss, accompanied by Apollo at the piano, sang with his usual inspiration, "I Love Life," and a Russian number by the same composer, adding in response to a very insistent applause, "The Road to Mandalay."

ALTOONA, Pa., April 6.—(P)—The body of Second Lieutenant John Leonard McAllister, 25, who leaped from his falling airplane, was moved to the Dunlapville airport today pending word from federal authorities.

Farmers who saw the crash near Altoona late yesterday, said the pursuit ship was losing altitude as it sped through this mountainous region, and at a height of about 200 feet the pilot stood up and jumped.

The farmers found the body of McAllister, a resident of McCormick, S. C., in tangled underbrush about 80 feet from the wreckage of the plane. Local fliers could give no reason for the crash.

CHERRY TREE TUMBLE VICTIM WILL RECEIVE ACCIDENT INSURANCE

Mrs. Wanda Jones of this city, in a suit against the State Industrial Accident commission heard yesterday in circuit court before Judge H. D. Norton, was awarded $30 per month and $5 per month for a minor child. The Industrial Accident commission defaulted by non-appearance to contest the action. The plaintiff was represented by Attorney William M. McAllister.

The injuries upon which Mrs. Jones based her claim for compensation, were assertedly sustained in an accident wherein Mrs. Jones fell out of a cherry tree on East Main street, on city property. The injuries are held permanent.

The award yesterday has no legal bearing upon the damage suit of her husband, Ivor T. Jones, for $10,000 alleged damages, against the city of Medford, for "loss of consortium," and which grew out of the cherry tree accident. The suit is still pending, but is scheduled to be heard in the near future.

Undisputed facts in the suit are: that the city of Medford, through an agent, granted Mrs. Jones permission to pick cherries from a tree on city property. During the picking process Mrs. Jones fell from the tree and was injured.

The city in its complaint holds that Mrs. Jones was guilty of contributory negligence. The plaintiff that proper safeguards were not provided by the city.

to add something to the taste

So important is Turkish tobacco in the Chesterfield blend that we maintain a modern up-to-date tobacco factory in the far-off city of Smyrna.

Turkish tobacco adds something to the taste and aroma of a cigarette that no other tobacco can give.

It means something that Chesterfield always has in storage upwards of 350,000 bales of this aromatic Turkish leaf.

This Turkish tobacco is blended and cross-blended with ripe mild home-grown tobaccos to give Chesterfields a taste and aroma that is not like other cigarettes.

Everything that money can buy is used to make Chesterfield the cigarette that's milder, the cigarette that tastes better.
