

ROOSEVELT SENDS RED CROSS MEET WORDS OF PRAISE

'Organization Has Worked to Develop Feeling of Responsibility in Misfortune of Others,' He Says

WASHINGTON, April 10.—(AP)—In a message to the Red Cross annual convention, President Roosevelt said today the organization had "worked to develop among our people a feeling of responsibility in the misfortunes of others" and the activities "may have a more far-reaching effect than is generally apparent."

The message, sent from the yacht Nourmahal, was read to the convention after Henry Morgenthau, Sr., had appealed for support of the Red Cross in order to make it "a school where the brotherhood of man is not only taught but practiced."

The president's message follows: "Honorable John Barton Payne, Chairman American Red Cross, Washington, D. C.

"I am sorry that circumstances are such that I cannot be present at the opening of the National Red Cross convention. At the same time I do not want you to think that because I am permitting myself to enjoy a brief vacation I am not deeply interested in the proceedings and work of your convention.

Not All Apparent. "As I have thought over what this convention represents, it has occurred to me that the activities of the Red Cross may have a more far-reaching effect than is generally apparent. You have worked to develop among our people a feeling of responsibility in the misfortune of others. You are the instrument of expression of a great group of Americans who have given generously for human welfare in times of distress or emergency. The guidance which you have given has been practical, well-planned and far-sighted.

"These are accomplishments which we look for in other phases of our national life. A sense of responsibility for the welfare of others—surely we need that in the men who are leaders in our private as well as in our public life. Well-planned and far-sighted measures to assure this welfare—surely we need them, too.

"It seems clear to me, then, that in serving the Red Cross you are also aiding by example those similar great causes for which this nation is daily striving.

"I am happy, therefore, to offer to Judge Payne and to you all, my congratulations and my wishes for the continued success of your generous activities.

"Franklin D. Roosevelt" Giving Listed.

James L. Pieser, vice-chairman of the organization, said $5,000,000 bushels of wheat and $44,053 bales of cotton, valued at $75,000,000 had been distributed to the needy last year. John Barton Payne, national chairman, opened the convention attended by 738 delegates from all sections of the country and many island possessions.

GIRL TOURIST TERMS THIS 'GOD'S COUNTRY'

Southern Oregon, three years ago, made such an impression upon a little high school girl from Albuquerque, N. M., that she recently wrote an article about the region, entitled "God's Country." The article, signed "Ina Traveler," appeared in the high school magazine in that city and is illustrated with pictures of Crater Lake, the Lady of the Woods and the Redwood highway.

The author, whose real name is Betty Shannon, is a niece of Mrs. C. O. Larson of this city, and a daughter of the late B. F. Shannon, who made his home here at one time and was employed by the United States forest service. He left Medford 20 years ago. His daughter, now a senior in high school, motored through this section three years ago, gaining the inspiration for the article.

NATION ON BRINK COMPLETE CHAOS WARNS SEN. REED

G. O. P. Pennsylvanian Opens Campaign for Re-election With Slap at Roosevelt Inflation Policy

WASHINGTON, April 10.—(UP)—The Roosevelt administration's policies threaten to "carry us over the brink of inflation to complete chaos," Senator David A. Reed, R. Pa., declared yesterday.

Pledging himself to continue to support the president when "I believe him to be right and to oppose him when I believe him to be wrong," Reed denounced many administration policies as "futile and fantastic," "poisonous," "wasteful and dangerous to American civilization."

Reed is a leading conservative Republican spokesman in the senate. His platform seemed likely to be taken as a keynote by many Republicans in the congressional campaigns which will provide their first tests of popular opinion in the Illinois primaries this week.

"In the name of national recovery,"

Reed said, "the present administration has launched the country on a course which, unless soon checked may well carry us over the brink of inflation to complete chaos and which even now mortgages the future of our youth and wastes wildly the slowly accumulated savings and present earnings of all the people.

"A little band of men in Washington are seeking covertly to change our course as a nation, to increase the power of the central government and to substitute for individual initiative a government control of all agricultural production and all business activity. I am against that and I can never support policies which to me seem likely to lead us in that direction.

"Deluged by promises of magic cures for ancient ills, America is being fed poisons from which it will take decades to recover.

"I call upon the people of Pennsylvania to join me in a stern and sincere protest against the wasteful policies which, carried into effect with no warning, without submission to the people, threaten their happiness and security and invite disaster for the nation."

Announces Creed. Declaring he was fighting "for the liberties, the justice, the domestic tranquility, the common defense and the general welfare which the constitution guarantees to all Americans," Reed set forth his creed:

"I do not believe that we can spend our way to prosperity.

"I am unwilling to see destroyed in four years a civilization which has been centuries in the building.

"I am opposed to fascism as strongly as to communism.

"I believe that, given liberty of expression and action, and a chance

K. K. K. BURN CROSS NEAR MILLS FIELD

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—(UP)—A 40-foot cross was burned near Mills Field late Saturday night—the first to be fired in this area since 1929.

Walter Heuser of Millbrae told police that he fired the cross as an agent of the Ku Klux Klan. He said he acted on orders of Klan headquarters in Los Angeles.

The flaming cross was visible for miles and hundreds of spectators were attracted.

Afterwards, the boys put on several charades by way of entertainment. During the afternoon, a meeting of the league was called to elect girls for the annual merit award.
