When the Russians go bourgeois, they do it in a big way. Their new embassy proved that at its first reception a few days ago. It will go down in history as one of the outstanding social events of many seasons.

State Secretary Hull was frightened when he was routed out of bed by a long-distance telephone call from Ireland the other midnight. His European traveling salesman, Richard Washburn Child, was there, and Hull has been privately worried about Child's flair for publicity. The call happened to be about another matter.

The idea has been broadcast around the country that Mr. Roosevelt has second sight because he took his vacation when he did. The truth is he had planned to take it earlier, but threatened strikes delayed him.

Mr. Roosevelt is very close to Harry Hopkins, CWA director, who is slated for a bigger administration job shortly.

HEARING SOON ON RESTAURANT CODE

SALEM, Ore., April 13.—(UP)—Max day said hearings on the proposed state restaurant code would be held here within two weeks to set minimum prices of meals and a definite markup of sale prices of dishes over costs of materials.

According to present plans the code would be administered by a board of 15 members, five named by the state association, five by the county associations and five by the governor.

New restaurants would have to have permission of the county association before being permitted to open.

From Lithia City—G. W. Bawer of Ashland spent Wednesday in Medford attending to business affairs.

G. G. C. CANDIDATES ARE ANNOUNCED IN ARMORY MEETING

The "Good Government Congress, Inc." met this morning in the Armory, and endorsed candidates for state and county offices, conferred honorary memberships upon President Roosevelt, Mrs. Roosevelt and Col. Howe, by an adopted resolution; listened to an "educational talk" by Mrs. Adah Deakin of Ashland; heard a few words from Attorney A. C. Hough of Grants Pass, candidate for circuit judge, and adjourned until the next meeting, due notice of which will be given.

According to an accurate count of the attendance there were 126 persons present, which included a number of children, curiosity seekers and two deputy sheriffs.

The recommendations for office, as read by Mrs. Henrietta B. Martin, president, from a prepared speech, were:

For Circuit Judge, A. C. Hough of Grants Pass.

For County Judge, Henry Conger of the Jacksonville district.

For Commissioner, Fred Rapp of Talent.

For Sheriff, Amos Walker of Medford.

For Governor, Rufus C. Holman.

For State Senator, George W. Dunn of Ashland.

Mrs. Martin, in explaining the endorsement of Amos Walker for sheriff, said that all the 10 candidates had been contacted, and he was the only one "who has agreed to make a clean sweep that is so essential in the conduct of that office." She said

"It will do no good to merely change the head of that department, and continue to leave the same element in the minor positions."

Mrs. Deakin's "educational talk" was based upon a Congressional Record article entitled "The Great Conspiracy," and devoted to the flying of the utilities and all their works.

M. A. Kenyon was introduced as vice-president, and submitted a resolution conferring "honorary membership" upon the President, his wife, and confidential secretary, "for their assistance to our president, Mrs. Martin, and their services to the country." The resolution was adopted by a standing vote, about half the audience standing.

Mrs. Martin presided, C. H. Brown acted as secretary, and Mrs. Deakin and Vice-President Kenyon occupied chairs on the platform.

The organization president said "no hat passing will be made, as that is considered not dignified for an incorporated body," but that memberships of $1, payable semi-annually or quarterly, could be secured from the young man at the table by the door."

The meeting was opened by starting at attention before the American flag.

In conclusion, President Martin reiterated her written hope there would be no "difficulties and mud-slinging, and all would unite to make the campaign the cleanest in the history of the state."

The meeting lacked excitement and human interest. There was little criticism, but the county court, the sheriff's office, the "power trust" and the Mail Tribune were recipients of good-natured slaps at times.

The meeting started at 10:45 and adjourned at 12:15.

— what it means — to store

70 million dollars worth of tobacco

— 4½ miles of warehouses

Everything that Science knows about is used in making Chesterfields. It means something to keep 70 million dollars worth of tobacco in storage. It means just this:

One thing we do is to buy mild, ripe tobaccos and then lock up these tobaccos in modern storage warehouses to age and mellow like rare wines.

We do everything possible to make Chesterfield the cigarette that's milder, the cigarette that tastes better.

It takes about 3 years to age the tobaccos for your Chesterfield, for Time does something to tobacco that neither man nor machine can do.
