STRIKE DANGERS IN EAST WANING, GOVERNMENT ACTS

(By the Associated Press) Some of the strike menace faded out of the industrial picture Saturday and government agencies strove to intercede where other shutdowns threatened.

A tie-up of the American petroleum industry seemed more remote as the petroleum labor policy board indicated it would recommend that Secretary Ickes disapprove the wage differentials proposed by the petroleum planning and coordination committee.

The oil workers had warned that adoption of the wage differentials would precipitate a general strike involving 100,000 men.

A month's strike of 800 employees at the Aetna Rubber company in Ashtabula, Ohio, ended Saturday. A new strike broke out, however, at the Belleville, Ill., plant of the Knapp-Monarch company, makers of electrical supplies.

There were no developments at the Detroit automobile capital. At Milwaukee, 4,700 employees voted to reject new proposals to settle strikes at the Seaman Body corporation and the Nash Motor plants.

Secretary Perkins' anthracite coal investigating committee recommended a "drastic reduction" in working hours.

2 OF 800 FELONS GIVEN CHANCE FOR LIBERTY GAMBLE

DENVER, April 14.—(AP)—Two gray-haired life-term convicts, one a mine-blacksmith and the other a farmer before prison bars closed about them in middle-age, will be permitted by the state of Colorado to volunteer for sacrifice upon the altar of science.

Gov. Ed C. Johnson today announced he had designated Carl Erickson, 60, and Mike Schmidt, 55, as the two state penitentiary prisoners, who will at their own request, submit to experimental inoculation with serum which Denver scientists hope may be proved a preventive of tuberculosis.

Governor Johnson found more than 800 convicts in the state prison at Canon City who were willing to undergo the tests, which, Dr. Corper warned might result in infection if they did not immunize. The governor promised that those prisoners finally selected would be, at the completion of the tests, highly recommended for executive clemency which would either give them freedom or shorten their present terms.

There were no developments at the Detroit automobile capital. At Milwaukee, 4,700 employees voted to reject new proposals to settle strikes at the Seaman Body corporation and the Nash Motor plants.

BLIND WRESTLER ASKS NO MERCY

SEATTLE.—(AP) Totally blind, Bill Dent is the most amazing athlete at the University of Washington. He asks no quarter and gives none.

He has the makings of a truly great wrestler," declares Frank Vance, his coach. "He has vice-like arms and a variety of holds. In spite of his loss of sight, it is almost impossible to get behind him, and he knows what his opponent is doing every second."

Dent follows every move of his rival with a keenly-developed sense of hearing. He applies a body scissors and a half-nelson in effective manner. The youth rowed in one of Washington's minor crews a year ago. He is a brilliant law student.

Also in the cast are Spencer Tracy, Herbert Mundin, Sid Silvers, Harry Green and Thelma Todd. The off-gasped-about truth that you have to bluff Hollywood to win its favors is brought out in the picture with Tracy, Silvers and Harry Green as three merry rogues who take the delectable Miss Paterson and crash the movie capitol in a big way. The bluff works, and it isn't long before the girl is playing a big part opposite a famous star, and the three comrades are situated in soft studio jobs. The fun really starts when the true identity of the girl and her companion is revealed. Interwoven with the comedy and romance of the picture is some glorious singing by John Boles. There are four song numbers with both Boles and Miss Paterson contributing their share.
