

MEDFORD CURFEW WILL RING AGAIN IS COUNCIL EDICT

Children Out Late Become Problem—Ring Cards Return $341 to City—Audit Shows Balance $126,174

Curfew may ring again in the city of Medford, it was revealed at last night's meeting of the city council. A great demand for renewal of the old-time warning to the city's youth has been made, Mayor E. M. Wilson informed the city dads, and the requests were referred to the public safety committee.

The curfew ordinance, it was pointed out, is still on the books. Its enforcement can be ordered at any time and several councilmen agreed with the mayor, "children, running at large in Medford nights, are becoming a problem."

Parents Fall in Duty. The councilmen agreed that the parents should keep them at home, but added that, since they were failing to do so, the city might as well assume the responsibility to the extent of ringing the 9 o'clock bell.

Other indications of summer's approach were revealed in a motion to postpone meetings of the city council from the 7:30 hour to 8 o'clock. The motion, which is an annual one, passed and the next regular meeting will be held at the latter hour.

Requests for installation of sewers on Court street were referred to a committee. Petition for drainage of a portion of Narraigan street was also referred to the streets and roads committee.

Ring Cards Pay Benefit. A report from the boxing commission, submitted to the council, showed a total of $341.44 in the treasury.

Request for installation of illuminated city entrance signs by the city before opening of Oregon's Diamond Jubilee here this summer, forwarded the council by E. C. Jerome, jubilee chairman, was referred to the finance committee.

Audit Reported.

The annual city audit and reports of the recorder and treasurer presented were ordered filed. The treasurer's report, submitted by Gus H. Samuels, showed a total balance on March 31 of $126,174.46. The cash balance in each fund was as follows:

PREDICT BIG GAINS IN TOURIST TRAVEL TO WEST THIS YEAR

Predicting a marked pickup in tourist travel to the northwest this year, the Southern Pacific company has announced material reductions in roundtrip transportation for the summer season.

The low fares will be in effect from May 15 to October 15, with return limit of October 31, according to representatives of the railroad.

Intermediate and coach rates will be cut particularly, it was stated, and all classes of roundtrip fares to Chicago will be reduced to accommodate travel to the World Fair, scheduled to re-open May 26.

With Pullman fares already cut one-third throughout western and southeastern territory, and with plans completed for addition of new air-conditioned equipment to its leading trains, Southern Pacific is preparing for heavy travel to and from the northwest, officials said.

BODY FOUND FLOATING ON WATERS OF CREEK BY SELMA CCC BOYS

GRANTS PASS, April 18.—Much praise was given by local county and state police officers to the staff and officers of the Kerby CCC camp at Selma, Oregon, following finding of a badly decomposed body identified as Luther L. Young, aged 67, a prospector who resided at Selma. The body was found floating on the waters of McMullen creek about three miles from Selma by members of the camp, according to Lt. Preston E. Rohner, member of the army staff in charge of the camp.

Young had been missing since March 5, when he left to go fishing, Rohner said.
H. A. Wilder, justice of the peace at Selma, led the organized search which led to the discovery of the body.

According to available information, Young first came to Selma last fall from Granger, Wash. He has two brothers, one at Granger and the other at Yakima. Also two sisters, one at Potosi, Idaho, and the other believed to be somewhere in California.

THE GRANGE

Live Oak Grange
Live Oak Grange at Rogue River met April 16, in the Girl Scout hall, Worthy Master Fuhrman, presiding, opened the grange with the lecture hour which was conducted by the worthy lecturer. Roll call was answered by each member telling some current event of interest. A discussion on "What can we do for the betterment of the community," was participated in by the members. Mrs. Frank Greenwood gave a short reading from Ella Wheeler Wilcox. Three candidates were instructed in the work of the fourth degree. We were glad to see two visiting members from Phoenix Grange on the side line. Live Oak Grange is always glad to welcome visiting members from other granges. Next meeting, to be held May 7th, will be in the form of a program under direction of Flora and should prove very interesting, especially flowers of all kinds will be on display, and they will be the main topic. Songs, readings and legends pertaining to flowers will comprise the program of the lecture hour.

THE DALLES, Ore., April 18.—(AP)—Wasco and Sherman county officers today continued their search for the body of an unidentified man who drowned Sunday while trying to cross the Deschutes river.
