

300 NOW WORKING IN OWEN-OREGON MILL AND CAMPS

The sawmill unit of the Owen-Oregon Lumber company started operations this week, and is now running on an eight-hour day, under the NRA lumber code. Employment is furnished by the company to close to 300 men—the largest number to be employed by the organization since 1930.

The first train of logs from the logging camps of the company in the Butte Falls district is scheduled to be hauled the end of the week. Repairs to the trestles and track of the Medford Logging company are completed and the logging crew has a supply on hand.

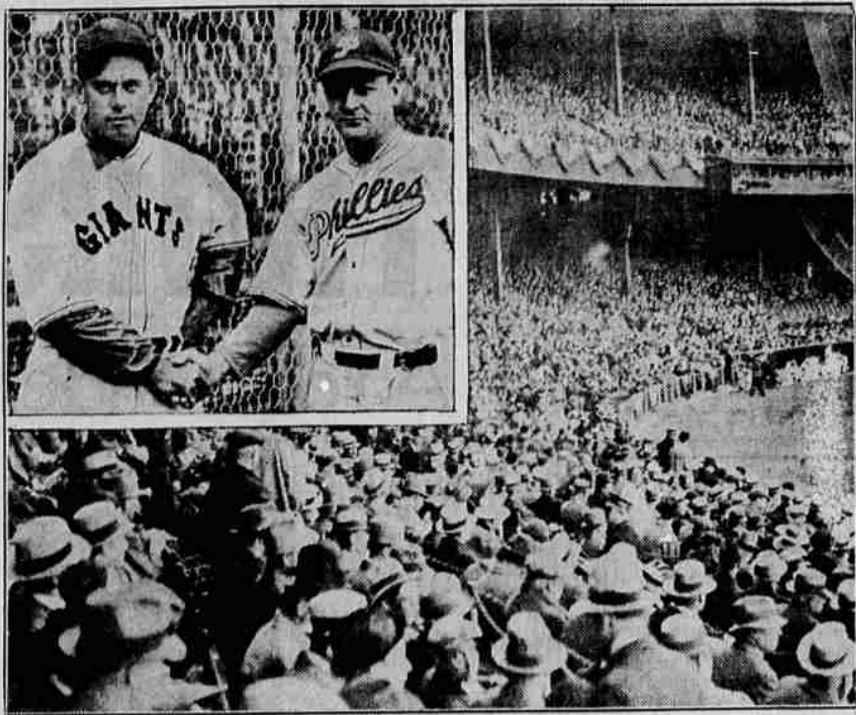

Present operations of the sawmill are on about a million feet of logs in the mill pond.

At present 75 men are employed in the Butte Falls district logging camps, and the balance in the other departments of the plant.

Starting of the sawmill lessens the labor tension in this county and is another chapter in the improving conditions. All the mill employees are former workers and residents of this city and county.

The sawmill operations are contingent upon lumber market conditions, now brightening.

MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL SEASON GETS UNDERWAY

With ideal weather prevailing, another big league baseball season was launched before banner crowds. The World's Champion New York Giants got off to a good start with a victory over Philadelphia. TAX SALE CONTEST ARGUMENT FRIDAY

Arguments in the suit of Dan Watson against George L. Jantzer, sawmill operator of the Prospect district, in which the sale of timber land by the county for delinquent taxes is contested, are scheduled to be heard Friday morning before Circuit Judge H. D. Norton.

Jantzer, the evidence shows, purchased the timber claim on a delinquent tax certificate from the county for the amount of the taxes, approximately $131. Watson homesteaded the land. Jantzer purchased it, among other tracts, for his sawmill operations.

Watson, through counsel, contested the sale, professed the amount of the taxes, and attacked the validity of the sale.

Jantzer is represented by Attorney F. J. Newman; Watson by George M. Roberts and William M. McAllister.

GASOLINE PUMPS GET STATE TEST

Testing and inspection of all gasoline pumps in the county to determine accuracy and insure the motoring public a "full gallon" is under way this week, under the direction of Joseph Tompkins, state inspector of seals and weights. The inspection will include all pumps—rural and city.

Prosecution will follow any violation of the fair measure regulations. Deputy District Attorney George W. Neilson said this morning. One pump inspected showed it was running at a loss of one gallon in every ten, to the purchaser.

It is estimated there are between 200 and 250 gasoline pumps in the county. The inspection also includes measures and scales.

49 CROP LOANS ASKED IN WEEK

Applications for farm production loans from the Medford Crop Production Credit association total 49 so far this week, according to Luther J. Deuel, secretary-treasurer. This is a gain of 45 per cent over the previous week, he says. Applications continue to come in from Cook, Curry, Douglas, Josephine and Jackson counties, which comprise the Medford district with headquarters in the courthouse.

The increase is due in part, says Secretary Deuel, to the recent interest rate reduction from 8 to 5 1/2 per cent. The association will advance money to the farmer only when he needs it. If the farmer wishes, and he does not begin paying interest charges until starting use of the money, according to Secretary Deuel. They thus can save $30 on a $1000 loan.

EX-GRAPPLER HAS YEN TO REFEREE

Another husky candidate for second referee in the Billy Edwards-Paul Murdoch wrestling match tomorrow night appeared this morning when Bert Clark, 205-pound former wrestler and referee applied for the job. Bill Morgan, ex-Medford and Oregon university football star and now with the New York Giants, had previously signified his willingness to undertake the task of helping the regular referee, Ray Frisbie. Clark declared himself in good condition from juggling freight and willing to see that "Bad Boy" Edwards tried no monkeyshines in the re-match tomorrow such as featured last week's card when Frisbie was knocked cold by a glancing Sonnenberg and the butcher boy felled Murdoch with a punch in the solar plexus.

THEFT OF BEDDING BRINGS SENTENCES

Sixty day sentences in the county jail were meted yesterday by Justice of the Peace William R. Coleman to R. H. Vorheis, 47, and Marjorie Kimball, 22, for theft of three woolen blankets, a coffee percolator and other articles from the Merrick Motor Inn. The pair originally from Chicago, came here from Texas. Vorheis acted as his own lawyer.

The couple are said by authorities to have planned an auto endurance exhibition here, with the woman at the wheel. It is alleged they collected about $50 from local merchants, on the proposition: before it collapsed.

Anna Quackenbush, residing near this city, entered a plea of guilty to having no operators license and was fined $5 and costs in justice court.

Milton DeLoe O'Neill of Klamath Falls, charged with speeding a truck, and James H. Seabrooke charged with having no license plates on a trailer, were each assessed $5 and costs on pleas of guilty.

John Seward, charged with tipsy driving, entered a plea of not guilty and his hearing was set for Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

Ten big departments are included in the new "Daylight Store," featuring dry goods, notions, ladies' and women's shoes, ready-to-wear for women, bedding, men's clothing, men's furnishings, men's work clothing, men's shoes and boys' apparel. Everything is conveniently displayed to facilitate shopping.

A total of 7050 square feet of floor space makes Whillock's remodeled store a spacious place with merchandise attractively arranged.

In keeping with the Golden Rule's policy in the past, low prices will prevail at the Daylight Store, C. A. Whillock, manager and owner, stated today.

HULL GIVES LIONS OUTLINE JUBILEE FINANCIAL PLANS

Frank Hull was today guest of the Lions club at its regular meeting held in the Colonial club, and gave a comprehensive outline of the financial plans for the Oregon Diamond Jubilee which is being underwritten today and tomorrow.

There will be 12,000 seats arranged for the pageant, "Over-Un-Gon," being produced under the direction of Angus Bowmer of the Southern Oregon Normal school, and a portion of the revenue for the state-wide observance is expected to come from this source, he pointed out.

Lion Larry Pennington read an invitation from the Eugene Lion's club, host for the state Lions convention early in June for the Medford Gleemen to participate in the concert at McArthur's court on the University of Oregon campus June 3.

Also as a part of the program, three clubs, Robert Skinner, A. C. Walker and Leiland Knox were invited into the local organization, and Lion Pennington read to them the accomplishments of the club, and gave each a copy of the Constitution, its by-laws and the code of ethics.

Through a motion introduced by Ljon B. G. Harding, Ted Gillenwaters of Klamath Falls was endorsed by the Medford club for the position of district governor, to be elected at the Lions state convention.

Captain R. G. Durham of the Salvation Army was a guest and announced the benefit concert to be presented Friday evening at the Baptist church by the combined choirs of the Medford churches. Also a guest at today's meeting was Jack Fitzgerald, of the Rogue River National forest service offices.

Livestock breeders advise that calves be fed whole milk the first two weeks to assure them a good start in life.
