FOOD AND DRUG BILL SCORED BY PUBLISHER

NEW YORK, April 27.—(AP)—A sharp attack on the so-called Tugwell food and drug bill and the "pernicious influence" of advertising definitions and restrictions pronounced by Dr. Rosford G. Tugwell was made today before the annual convention of the American Newspaper Publishers' association.

Condemnation of the Tugwell advertising theories was presented by L. B. Palmer, general manager of the association.

"During the past year," Palmer said, "there has been marked evidence of effort on the part of administrative officials and others to change the existing philosophy and practices relating to advertising and to substitute punitive and tyrannical legislation to harass manufacturers and advertisers."

St. Marks Festival To Be Celebrated Sunday Morning

St. Mark's church will celebrate the saint for whom the church is named on Sunday next, at a special service commencing at 11 o'clock. The pastor will preach upon "The Parish," stressing its place in the Anglican church, and the relation of the members of the parish to the local and the whole church.

The choir will render special music for the occasion, under the direction of Mr. Wilson Wait. With the advice and consent of the vestry, the festival has been made the occasion of a change in the regular time for the mid-morning service. Hereafter it will commence at 11 a. m., thus conforming to the established custom of the other churches in Medford.

Church school will commence at 10 a. m., and there will be no change in the early service.

EXILED JEWS TRAINED FOR NEW LIFE START

AMSTERDAM, (AP)—A training colony for German-Jewish refugees is to be founded on 16,000 acres in the reclaimed Wieringen Polder region of the Zuyder Zee. The land has been leased by The Netherlands government to the Dutch relief committee for Jewish emigrants.

The colonists will be trained there by experts in agriculture and horticulture to enable them to emigrate afterwards to Palestine or other countries.

The government, however, strongly objects to a permanent colonization of Jewish emigrants in view of the growing unemployment in Holland.

MODES of the moment

Many spring costumes of two or more pieces use contrast of fabric and color as a smart style feature.

Liana Muwini

One spring style note of evident importance in ensemble and suit modes is the use of contrast in garments—plain color jacket or coat with gay print frock or a plain color skirt or frock with checked or striped coat.

This idea of contrast is emphasized in the fascinating spring ensemble sketched here, combining a printed silk dress of navy blue and white with a long swaggar type coat of solid navy blue. This makes a most attractive outfit for dreary town wear, yet either garment can be worn separately with equal effectiveness.

The dress has long puffed sleeves, a self belt with covered buckle and two pom-pom effect flowers which trim the point of the V-neckline. Shirred ruffles over the shoulders give a rippling fullness both front and back. The scarf tie of same material as the dress extends outside on coat and down under the lapels, each of which fasten back on the shoulder with a self covered button.

The coat has saddle shoulders, with three darts being used on each shoulder front, to give a quite different effect. It is seven-eighths length, reaching almost to the bottom of the dress, and has two slash pockets.

EVANGELISTS TO OPEN CAMPAIGN

The Duff evangelistic party is to arrive late this afternoon, coming from Portland by car, and will be entertained at dinner by Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Knotts of the First Methodist church.

During their stay in Medford the Duffs will occupy apartments at 230 South Grape street which have been prepared for them by the committee of the Ladies' Aid; Mrs. W. A. Holloway, Mrs. A. S. Bliton and Mrs. E. S. Hitzler.

The evangelists are said to be very popular with the young people wherever they hold meetings and the members of the Epworth leagues of the local church are anticipating the coming meetings with considerable interest.
