

LOCAL WINNERS POPPY CONTEST

Medford winners in the American Legion Auxiliary's annual poppy poster contest were announced yesterday by the chairman, Mrs. Lee Garlock, who was assisted by Miss Louise Hollenback in sponsoring the local competition.

Twenty-three posters were entered and the prizes awarded in the schools were as follows: Senior high school—Eugene Moffatt, first; Cyril Sander, second; Junior high school—Ruth Garlock, first; Lincoln school—Margaret Ash, 5A, first; Peggy Daley, 5A, second; Lillian Newton, 5A, third.

Roosevelt school—Donald James, 6A, first; Philip Robinson, 6A, second; Reed Cox, 6A, third. Jackson school—Ned Lyman, 6B, first; Naomi Burell, 6B, second; Dorothy Barton, 6B, third.

Horace Bromley and Harry Hinman acted as judges for the contest. Three of the prize winning posters will be entered in state competition. They will be those by Eugene Moffatt, Ruth Garlock and Margaret Ash. The others will be displayed in local shop windows preceding the Legion Auxiliary poppy day.

Posters winning first places in state competition, which is also sponsored by the Legion Auxiliary each year in advance of poppy day.

JUBILEE CHORUS MEETING CALLED

All choir directors of Jackson county, or representatives from each group, are requested to meet here Monday evening at the Chamber of Commerce building at 7:30 o'clock to confer with Elice Carlton Strang.

Plans will be made at the meeting for organization of a large chorus to sing at the religious service of the Diamond Jubilee, which will take place Sunday evening, June 3, at the fair grounds.

CIVIC CLUBS AIM TO AID JUBILEE

Representatives of the five civic clubs of Medford met at the Jackson Hotel Friday noon to form an inter-club committee to work with the Chamber of Commerce and the Diamond Jubilee committee. Dr. D. E. Standard was chosen chairman of the committee and Jacque Lenox, secretary.

The following members were chosen to represent the several clubs: Leo Bishop and Horace Bromley, Rotary; C. G. Lemmon, Dr. D. E. Standard and Max Peirce, Kiwanis; Earl Poy and Larry Pennington, Lions; Dr. Suste Standard and Jacque Lenox, Business and Professional Women's clubs; Glen Fabrick, Active.

The following recommendations were made:

1. That no donations for civic improvement be made by any civic club without the consent of the inter-club committee.
2. That the road emblems of the different clubs at the entrances of Medford be redecorated and the surrounding ground be cleared and planted to flowers before the Jubilee.
3. That the pioneer parade be supported wholeheartedly by entering floats from each club, who will confer with Mr. Hopkins, as to type of float desired.
4. That Blue canyon be set aside as a virgin recreation area, wherein no roads or modern improvements would be constructed. This primitive park to be accessible only by good trails.
5. That the inter-club committee meet each Friday noon until the Jubilee.
6. That all clubs co-operate to the fullest extent with the Chamber of Commerce and the Jubilee committee, by giving plenty of publicity to the Jubilee, and that each club set aside at least five minutes of their program at each meeting for a talk on the Jubilee plans.

ST. MARY'S GIVES OPERA TUESDAY

According to the present plans, the two-act operetta, "The Mysterious Master," to be given by St. Mary's academy, will be presented Tuesday evening, May 8, at 8:15 in the academy auditorium.

Final touches are being given to the scenes and rehearsals are well on the way. The production promises to be a very entertaining and amusing presentation of this well-known musical comedy. The plot centers around the expected arrival of a new master who is accompanied by pirates. The corps of servants employed in the household enthusiastically anticipates this event with action and song, while detectives are summoned to unravel the mystery. The untimely arrival of Rastus Joephus Brown, the master's valet, creates new excitement. Mystery and suspense prevail until an unexpected climax is reached. John Applegate, as Rastus, and Warren Loffer, the ridiculously stupid gardener, keep the humor at its height throughout the play; while Jack Marshall as the butler and Jeanne Pan Court as the housekeeper of the establishment, aided by a crew of detectives, endeavor to discover the mystery which shrouds the arrival of the master, interpreted by Paul Sakralds, and the pirates. Other important roles are played by Cecil Blaylock, John Eates, Gertrude Louie, Jean Barnum, Geraldine Wilkinson, MacDonald DeVaney, Chester Logan and Thomas Dallaire.
