Music and Dance Feast Promised Medfordites

Great interest is already evident in the valley in the coming concert of music and the dance to be given here two weeks from tomorrow night at the high school auditorium by Frances Mullen, pianist, and Dorothy Wagner, interpretive dancer, in connection with the much anticipated spring concert of the Medford Gleemen.

Dorothy Wagner, for three years a member of the Metropolitan Opera ballet, attracted the attention of John Murray Anderson, through her beauty and grace, winning a place as specialty dancer in the fourth edition of Irving Berlin's Music Box Revue, where she soon became a popular favorite with the New York public. Following over three years of work under Mr. Anderson's direction, she was engaged for a tour of continental Europe, which included several appearances in Paris, where she was enthusiastically acclaimed. Advance press dispatches reveal. On her return to California, she was engaged by the Hollywood Bowl association to present four dance solos on their summer symphony program.

Frances Mullen, who has introduced many hitherto unknown works to the musical world of California, recently became the storm center of an artistic controversy which raged over the "Six Little Piano Pieces" of Schoenberg and a Bartok Sonata which she presented at a Los Angeles concert. Both these works will be presented at the concert in this city.

With such recommendations preceding their arrival here, the concert of the two visiting artists, to whom half the evening's program will be devoted, is expected to draw all lovers of music and dancing from various sections of the valley to Medford May 14.

The program to be presented by the Gleemen, who need no introduction, will be announced in the near future through the director, James Stevens.
