

Big Indian Village Will Be Feature of Oregon Diamond Jubilee

DESCENDANTS OF SEVEN TRIBES TO PITCH WIGWAMS

Redmen Will Don Native Garb for Occasion — Jubilee Committee Hears Report of Fine Progress

Arrangements have been completed for another outstanding feature for Oregon's Diamond Jubilee celebration in Medford next June 3 to 9. In the establishment of a complete Indian village in the city during Jubilee week. Details were announced at last night's enthusiastic general committee meeting at the Chamber of Commerce.

Over a score of chiefs, braves, squaws and papooses will represent the historic tribes of Oregon and will live as they did 75 years ago when Oregon first learned the meaning of statehood. The Indians will include six chiefs and will be made up of the Klamath, Modoc, Plute, Warm Spring, Snake, Pitt River, and the last remaining direct descendants of the famous Rogue River Indians, who warred with southern Oregon whites in 1853.

To Wear Old Garb.

The redmen will be dressed in their native garb worn before the eyes of white men saw the verdure of Oregon hills. Medicine men will perform weird rites and make "big medicine" in tribal dances and other ceremonies. Artful braves, trained in the way of the woods and embodying all the skill of the hunters, trappers and fishermen, will present exhibitions of aborigine sports. Ancient Indian archery will be one of these attractions.

Squaws, the original native daughters of America, will demonstrate how the earliest of Americans fashioned wearing apparel from wild animal hides, using sinews for thread. They will make baskets of roots, osters and fibres, rapidly becoming a lost art.

Papooses will be at play in native games and contests, all living in tepees, wigwams and wickiups. They will be dressed in buckskins and beaded moccasins, bedecked with gaudy blankets and wampum. The bucks will wear feathered head-dresses and ornaments.

Last night's committee meeting revealed progress in all departments, revealing further assurance that Medford and southern Oregon will be ready for the incoming throngs during Jubilee week. Announcements of other features of intense interest are to be made soon.

Jubilee Caps Ready.

Of especial interest was last night's approval of an official Jubilee headgear. The headpiece is of an attractive design and is now available at cost at the Jubilee headquarters in the Sparta building. Every person in Medford and southern Oregon is urged to obtain a Jubilee cap as early as possible and wear it from now until the celebration is over. The cap will do much to increase the rapidly growing Jubilee spirit, already so much in evidence, especially in the northern end of the state, from which several special excursion trains are expected, as well as auto caravans.

Concession space is selling rapidly. W. W. Allen, concession chairman, reported. Prospective purchasers of the remaining space are urged to see Mr. Allen early.

Likewise, gratifying interest has been shown by up-state manufacturers in the manufacturers' and industrial exhibit at the Oriental Gardens.

Here southern Oregon residents and visitors will see one of the most complete displays ever offered of Oregon products. W. A. Gates, chairman, reported.

Pageant Rehearsed.

Rehearsals are underway for the historical pageant, "Oyer-Un-Gon" (Land of Plenty), and characters have been selected. Prof. Angus Rowmer, author and director, told committee members. The pageant, to be presented at the fairgrounds Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights, will faithfully review events leading up to and including the establishment of Oregon statehood. It is historically accurate in every detail but yet so interestingly presented it will command attention from the opening to final episode.

J. Verne Shangle told of further cooperation coming from all parts of the country for the pioneers' parade on Thursday forenoon. Yesterday a string of 10 wagons were brought to Medford by W. E. Morris of the Table Rock district. He has been donating a great deal of time in gathering up pioneer relics and material for use during the celebration. Other county residents have been donating considerable time and committee members have devoted days to making the parade one of the most outstanding ever presented in Oregon.

The agricultural parade for Friday is rapidly going forward under the chairmanship of H. G. Fowler. Numerous floats will be included and will be one of the bright spots of Jubilee week.

Sport Plans Formed.

Chairman of the trapshooting committee, T. E. Daniels, has completed preparations for this important event and is sending out invitations to numerous clubs on the coast. Further program details will be announced in a short time. W. F. Isaacs is completing preparations for the fly-casting tournament which has already aroused considerable interest among fly-casters. Further details will be announced in a few days.

Entries for the tennis tourney are being received by Chairman H. G. Wilson from numerous parts of the state and will be carried on June 3, 4, 5 and 6. Eight or nine tennis courts will be used in accommodating all the players expected.

fers of displays coming from numerous courts. Citizens of Jacksonville are preparing their city for the important part it is to play in the Jubilee. Thousands of visitors will journey to that historic town during the week. Numerous special attractions are planned there.

E. P. BOY SCOUTS TROOP YEAR OLD

EAGLE POINT, May 2.—(Spl.)—

In the short time of one year Eagle Point Boy Scout Troop No. 18 has grown from seven scouts and four cubs to 11 scouts and five cubs. Gene Wilson is scoutmaster and Floyd Barrett assistant. A great deal of credit is due Mr. Woodrich, who organized the scout executive committee and put scouting in Eagle point on a firm footing. Messrs. Woodrich, Clements, Young and Throckmorton comprise the troop committee.

DIAMOND LAKE ROAD PASSABLE

GRANTS PASS, May 2.—(Spl.)—

Work now being done on the road to Diamond lake from the point where it crosses Rogue river to the body of water itself, will not interfere with travel, it was stated by a highway engineer in a recent letter to O. S. Blanchard of this city. Blanchard owns a cabin by the lake.

H. D. Farmer, senior highway engineer, wrote that a crew of men is now grading the road from the crossing of Rogue river to Diamond lake, expecting to complete the work within a month or six weeks. "A little trouble would probably be experienced in getting through now," he said.

"For your information, the westerly 12 miles of the project is under contract for surfacing, and this work will be carried out during the coming season," Farmer wrote.

THEATER LOSES BOUT WITH NRA

PORTLAND, May 2.—(AP)—

Labor has been upheld in the first controversy here in connection with NRA provisions involving union workers and the theaters.

A theater here known as the "Pantages," but not operated by that family, has been ordered by the NRA to reinstate "wrongly discharged" operators to their jobs at the wage scale provided by the motion picture code.

The theater had refused to acknowledge rulings of the local and regional labor boards and an appeal was taken to Washington, D. C. A telegram from Sol A. Rosenblatt, division administrator of the NRA at Washington, advised the theater owner "I herewith advise you to immediately comply with said decision, otherwise proceedings will be taken against you for violation of the motion picture code."

Dr. B. R. Elliott and daughter Amy will be leaving the middle of this month for an extensive trip through the south. They will travel the southern route to New Orleans, leaving May 20, then sail from New Orleans on the S. S. Dixie of the Morgan line, for New York. They expect to return to Medford about June 23.

While away Dr. Elliott plans to spend a day in each of the following establishments of dental interest:

- L. D. Cauk Dental Laboratories, Milford, Del.; S. S. White Dental Mfg. Co., Philadelphia; Dentists Supply Co., New York; Forsyth Children's Clinic, Boston, Mass.; X-ray Dept. Eastman Kodak Co., Rochester, N. Y.; Ritter Dental Mfg. Co., Rochester, N. Y.; Cleveland Dental Mfg. Co., Cleveland, Ohio; and Patterson Dental Supply Co., Minneapolis, Minn.

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA REGIONS HAVE SNOW

MINERAL, Cal., May 2.—(AP)—

A spring snowstorm blanketed two spots in northern California Tuesday with three feet of snow falling in the Lassen volcanic national park here and 10 inches at Tahoe City on the Nevada border.

At Tahoe City, several weeks of warm summer weather had caused wild flowers to bloom and trees to bud.

MEDFORD FINANCE IN GOOD SHAPE IS TREASURY REPORT

Definite Improvement Noted —All Warrants Paid to May 1—City Employees Get Pay This Afternoon

Reflecting a definite improvement in the city of Medford's financial condition, which has at no time been particularly discouraging, according to Gus Samuels, city treasurer, announcement was made by the latter last night that all outstanding warrants have been paid up to May 1. Less than a year ago Medford was also at one time operating on a cash basis while other political divisions were many months behind with warrant payments.

Warrants issued for the new month were not distributed at last night's meeting of the city council, which was adjourned because of lack of a quorum. The session will be resumed at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, to which time city employees will receive their pay.

Councilmen Frederick Heath and S. A. Kroschel were out of town yesterday and Dade Terrett and Al Littrell were also absent from the regular meeting, scheduled for the city today. The four councilmen, who appeared, lingered for about an hour discussing matters unofficially, with Mayor E. M. Wilson, then adjourned the session.

Harry Parkinson, representing Flak Flag and Decorating company of Portland, appeared before a group to present the cost, estimated, for decoration of the city hall for the Diamond Jubilee. He placed the maximum cost at $50, which would include decking the building from roof to street with Jubilee banners and other festoons. The Flak company has the contract for decorating the city for the jubilee and will place, in street decorations alone, four tons of material, Mr. Parkinson stated.

The matter was referred by Mayor Wilson to Councilman George Porter's committee.

The beautiful blue and gold banner to be used as the dominant note in the decorating motif was displayed by Mr. Parkinson. A letter, forwarded from the Chamber of Commerce, voicing requests from the Parent-Teacher association for supervised playgrounds in Medford this summer, was read by Mayor Wilson and referred to the parks and playground committee with instructions to confer with the finance committee.

The letter asked that the city finance the hiring of two men and two women, needed as supervisors at the local playgrounds, stressing the urgent need for supervised play during the Diamond Jubilee, when many visiting children will be in the city. The cost of the project was quoted at $300 a month, which would necessitate, for the three months' period, expenditure of $900.

AMATEUR PILOTS PLANNING FLIGHT HERE TO JUBILEE

W. R. Schanahls, who is head of the amateur aviators' group recently organized in Portland, was a visitor here yesterday and conferred with Tom Culbertson, superintendent at the Medford municipal airport, concerning a flight of the club here during the jubilee.

Mr. Schanahls said that last Sunday a number of the pilots in the club were taught flight formation, in order that they might follow the Army system when making long trips. It is the plan, Mr. Schanahls pointed out, for the ships to be divided into groups according to cruising speed, and placed in formation with experienced fliers leading.

Mr. Schanahls, who is branch manager for the claims department of the Farmers' Automobile Inter-Insurance exchange, also attended to business matters for his company while here. He continued to Portland from Medford late yesterday.

Plan to attend the Factory Demonstration of CONLON AUTOMATIC IRONERS, Thursday, May 3, at White Sewing Machine Company.
