"Viva Villa" Coming to Craterian

"Viva Villa," with Wallace Beery in the role of the colorful Pancho Villa, comes to the Craterian theater Sunday for the Pacific northwest premiere of the picture.

Combining fiction with fact, "Viva Villa" offers Beery an ideal vehicle for his talents. As the blustering Mexican war lord, risen to power from the lowly station of peon, he mixes drama and comedy with spectacular action. He even sings and strums a guitar!

The supporting cast of "Viva Villa" was chosen with exceptional care. Leo Carrillo, Fay Wray, Stuart Erwin, in the role made vacant with the dismissal of Lee Tracy—Donald Cook, George E. Stone and Joseph Schildkraut are a few of the featured players.

scarcely furnished. During the second act all is decorated with flowers, drapes and other accessories, ready for the arrival of the "Mysterious Master." Between acts the audience will be entertained with a harp solo by Elaine Brophy and violin solos by Esther Alexander.

Travel North—A. S. Rosenbaum, district freight and passenger agent for the Southern Pacific company, yesterday accompanied a party of Illinois Central railway officials through his district, on their way north. Included in the party were C. C. Cameron, vice-president of the railway, with offices in New York and Chicago; Mrs. Cameron; W. D. Stubbs, coast manager of traffic; and H. J. Nelson of the Portland offices. Mr. Rosenbaum stated that they seemed greatly

To Be in Parade—An invitation was today extended to all Medford and southern Oregon people who are interested in taking part in the Oregon Diamond Jubilee parade, to call at the Jubilee headquarters and leave their names. It will be necessary for many men, women and children to participate in the procession, to ride in the stage coaches, floats and wagons, and to be in the line of march. Ernest A. Roedel, publicity director, said today.

At Operetta Tuesday—The setting for the operetta at St. Mary's academy Tuesday is laid in the living-room of an old Wilderness Castle. In the first act the room is plainly and

Double Bill On Rialto's Screen

Telling the story of two youngsters trying to find happiness together in the mountains, despite the cruel vigilance of the girl's guardian, "The Man Trailing" heads the double feature program at the Rialto theater for today and Saturday. Jean Parker, Tom Brown, Zasu Pitts and Arthur Byron have the leading roles.

On the other half of the program, Buck Jones is starred in "The Man Trailing," a story of an early frontier marshal.

Interested in southern Oregon, and were anxious to learn of the resources of the region.

Bing Crosby Heads Cast Craterian Hit

Bing Crosby sings and acts his way to the greatest success of his motion picture career in "We're Not Dressing," playing at the Craterian theater until tomorrow night.

The fast-moving story has a supporting cast of equally entertaining players—Carole Lombard, as the rich girl whose yacht is wrecked and is forced to work with the others on a desert island; George Burns and Gracie Allen as a couple of naturalists who come booming into the picture; Ethel Merman, the musical comedy star; Leon Errol, old "rubber-legs" himself, who contributes much of the comedy.

Filmed aboard a palatial yacht, and on a desert island, "We're Not Dressing" is full of fun and nonsense moving at a fast tempo, and quite needless to say, numerous song numbers by Bing Crosby, who still is acknowledged to be the king-pin of them all.

Saturday night is again preview night at the Craterian and those attending the 9:00 o'clock show are included to remain for the pre-showing of "Success at Any Price," with Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Colleen Moore in the featured roles.

beer parlor, at 413 East Main street, he announced today. The room has been redecorated, with a bar in front and booths to the rear, he said. Free lunch will be served with the beer, according to Collier's plans.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Adamson of Eagle Point are the parents of a son, born this morning at the Von der Hellen camp south of Ashland.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Young of Portland avenue, a son weighing eight pounds, 10 ounces, at the Community hospital last night.

With a cheerful message for young and old, little Billy Break O'Day, a special representative of health and sunshine, will greet the readers of the Mail Tribune each week, beginning Sunday morning.

This bright young fellow is a protégé of the Madrona dairy and they are anxious for everyone in southern Oregon to get acquainted with him.

At noon Saturday Don Collier of this city will open The Mecca, a
