Mrs. Woodford Is New President of Local Garden Club

By Jane Sneider.

The Medford Garden club held its regular monthly meeting Thursday evening, when annual reports, from officers and committee chairmen all bore evidence that the past year under the leadership of the outgoing president, Mrs. T. W. Miles, has been one of outstanding and varied activities. The monthly meetings have been unusually interesting and the club has met each new civic demand with enthusiasm and creditable accomplishment.

Flower shows, the entertaining of the Illinois Valley Garden club, the collecting of money, shrubs and trees for the planting of the court house grounds, the planting of the rock garden at the Scout Headquarters, and plant sales have been some of the projects undertaken by the club and now come the planting of the flower bed north of the chamber of commerce building, aiding the city in its general clean-up program and the big flower show in June.

The new officers elected Thursday evening are: Mrs. Ralph Woodford, president; Mrs. Elmer Wilson, first vice-president; Mrs. C. E. Goff, second vice-president; Mrs. Curtis Darby, recording secretary; Mrs. R. G. Fowler, corresponding secretary; Mrs. H. F. W. Spilver, treasurer and Jane Sneider, historian.

The state meeting of the Federation of Garden Clubs will be held in McMinnville, May 18-19 and the club voted to send at least one delegate.

A plant sale will be held in the very near future and the chairman, Mrs. L. Bundy, phone 618-W, asks that any one having seedlings to donate call her as early in the week as possible. Date and place of sale will be announced later.

Mrs. Frank Newman, president of the Post Delphians, introduced Karl Janouch, who gave a very interesting and instructive talk on our national forests and the work of the CCC camps. The pictures shown were splendid and his talk a disappointment to both clubs that more did not attend. Mr. Janouch gave many important facts concerning the value of the woods products of Jackson county, facts which the average citizen knows very little about.

Wednesday Study Club Holds Last Program

The Wednesday Study club held their last study program Wednesday afternoon in the Women's club rooms. Mrs. M. M. Morris gave an interesting and entertaining paper on "The Use of Leisure Time." This topic was presented by a league recently formed by the Newspapers of America, telling people how to use their leisure time. The chief idea seems to be to select and ride hobbies, to take the place of bridge and golf. Mrs. Morris presented many ways both humorous and serious.

The fundamental problem is how to make a valuable use of one's leisure, and also the difference in the use of children's time as compared with that of the adults. Much crime is committed by the youth from sixteen to twenty by not having used their leisure time properly.

Money is best spent in prevention of crime in providing clean sports, more libraries and outdoor recreation. Mrs. Morris pointed out.

Our Movie Made Children by Henry James Foreman, was ably reviewed by Mrs. E. N. Warner. This book was written by educators, scientists, psychologists and many leading students of child psychology. The observations made by this group of men were found to show conclusively that the movies are actually molding the lives of the American youth. Mrs. R. B. Hammond presented the Current Events. The next meeting will be a social one with 1 o'clock luncheon in the club rooms, followed by the election of officers. Each member will bring a list of the best books she has read during the year, as a guide for summer reading.

E., was the main speaker to the delegation of about 2500 young people. Those attending from Medford were: Winifred Jones, Joan Guyer, Maxine Buyer, Jean Grantam, Alta Pahl, Violet Judy, Norman Fraley and Gerlan Fraley.

Gleemen to Join Visiting Artists in Program Here

"Gifted with amazing grace, enhanced by her blonde beauty, Wagner's dancing is characterized by a buoyancy and spontaneity, which makes her interpretive dances appear almost improvisational in their expression of the composition"—such is the intriguing bit of information, which has preceded the arrival here of Dorothy Wagner, who will appear on the program May 14 with the Medford Gleemen and another visiting artist, Frances Mullen, in spring concert.

Dorothy Wagner

Many of the most rhythmic numbers will be portrayed in dance by Miss Wagner, who promises to draw a large crowd to the high school auditorium, southern Oregonians having been deprived of this type of entertainment for a long time.

The program to be played by Miss Mullen also promises to hold much for all lovers of piano music. She has achieved a fine art in program building—a deft commingling of the old with the new—the recognized classics with the controversial moderns. Opening with Bach, her program ranges through Scriabin, Chopin, Mozart, Ravel, Debussy, Schoenberg, Bartok, Gerahwin, Brahms-Grainger, to the very up-to-date era of Lord Berners and the Portuguese composer, Font day Anta.

The Gleemen who have been rehearsing a complete program of new numbers for the spring concert, will furnish half the evening's entertainment, while the other half period will be devoted to the two visiting artists.

Miss V. Anderson Tells Betrothal News at Dinner

Dinner was served Wednesday evening at a table beautifully decorated in tones of yellow and green with a centerpiece of yellow lilies forming the dominant note in the scheme. The announcement of the betrothal was concealed in small corsages of Cecil Bruner roses placed in small baskets for favors.

Snapdragons and ferns expressed further the yellow and green decorating motif used about the rooms, where cards were played following dinner, with prizes going to Miss Ruth Luy and Mrs. Melvin Wright.

Misses Vera Fletcher and Jewell O'Neal assisted the hostess in serving.

Covers were placed for Misses Anderson, Ruth Luy, Marjorie Lindley, Arletta Messenger, Mildred Patterson, Juanita Griffin and Vera Humphrey, and Mrs. Harold Barbour, Mrs. Hall Peret, Mrs. Darrel Huson, Mrs. Melvin Wright and Mrs. Paul Anderson, mother of the bride-elect.

Mrs. Stehnsted Feted At Birthday Luncheon

Mrs. A. F. Stennett, who observed her birthday anniversary the first of the week, was the inspiration of a lovely luncheon Thursday at the home of Mrs. George West. Cards were enjoyed during the afternoon and the honoree received many lovely handkerchiefs.
