

NINE JAILED FOR WEEK-END DRUNK HEAR SENTENCES

Medford city police put in a busy week-end taking care of the drunks, nine being placed in jail Saturday and Sunday. Evelyn May Aldrich, 29, the only woman arrested, was taken into city court this morning, and ordered by Judge A. D. Curry to leave town. She was en route to Eugene, to visit her father, she said.

Robert A. Stewart, 58, arrested Saturday evening, was fined $10. He was unable to pay the fine, and was ordered to report for work this afternoon to the city street department.

Floyd E. Bryant, 46, also arrested Saturday evening, was scheduled to report to court May 11.

Fred Ruddy, 42, was fined $10 by city police judge on charges of being drunk in a public place.

Pete Summers, 30, charged with being drunk and who also tried to get into the residence at 802 South Grape street, reports show, was ordered by Judge Curry to leave town.

Robert T. Cox, 39, arrested on a drunkenness charge Saturday night, was released on $10 bail, as was Harry A. Thuburn, 56, who was drunk on the street, according to officers.

Three young men, Evan W. Howard, 18, Richard W. Cumming, 30, and Harvey J. Dutton, 25, are being held in jail while officers investigate charges of their stealing gasoline Sunday night.

FIGURES IN TAMMANY SHAKEUP

These men are figuring in the shakeup of New York's Tammany Hall, which was climaxed by the ousting of John F. Curry as leader. James J. Hines (right) and Edward J. Ahearn (upper left) dominate the confused scene. Hines, though he voted for Curry, was accused by the latter of leading the revolt. Ahearn is a candidate for Curry's post. Grover Whalen (lower left) was mentioned as a possible member of a committee which may be named to take over the leadership. (Associated Press Photo)

Asked earlier today if he would request the immediate resignation of the commission, which he could do for cause on 10 days notice, the governor informally declared he would give them a chance to work out their problems first.

The letter to the commission referred to the steps in the formation of the commission for control of the liquor traffic and cited their responsibilities and "extraordinary and arbitrary powers." These, his letter inferred, did not include rejection of the sense of the legislature in reducing salaries nor the board of control in opposing any salary increases for staff members.

"In accordance with my recommendation," the letter stated, "the Oregon legislature in special session last November enacted a law governing the manufacture, sale and distribution of alcoholic beverages, and a supplementary act appropriating the Entrance to the store was gained through a window on the south side, and a hole was cut into a large rug hanging over the window, according to officers. Three cheap suitcases were taken, and a few small articles.
