

RECOGNITION FOR PUBLIC SERVICE DURING TURMOIL

(Continued from page one)

Mail Tribune for its campaign against unscrupulous politicians in Jackson county, Oregon.

2. For distinguished service as a foreign or Washington correspondent during the year, the test being clearness and terseness of style, preference being given to fair, judicious, well-balanced and well-informed interpretative writing, which shall make clear the significance of the subject covered in the correspondence or which shall promote international understanding and appreciation, five hundred dollars ($500).

Awarded to Frederick T. Birchall of the New York Times for his correspondence from Europe.

Honorable mention: To John E. Elliott of the New York Herald-Tribune for his correspondence from Germany.

To Harry Carr of the Los Angeles Times for his series of dispatches from Australia, Japan, China, and Philippines and Europe.

3. For distinguished editorial writing during the year, limited to the editorial page, the test of excellence being clearness of style, moral purpose, sound reasoning and power to influence public opinion in what the writer conceives to be the right direction, account being taken of the whole volume of the writer's editorial work during the year, five hundred dollars ($500).

Awarded to "Where Is Our Money?" by E. P. Chase, published in the Atlantic (Iowa) News Telegraph on December 2, 1933.

Honorable mention: To "Why We Still Have Lynchings in the South," by Oshorn Zuber, published in the Birmingham News on September 13, 1933.

To "Strategic Gains" by Geoffrey Parsons, published in the New York Herald-Tribune on April 21, 1933.

To "The Governor Sends Troops to Gallup" by E. H. Shaffer, published in the Albuquerque Tribune on August 31, 1933.

To "The Freedom of the Press" by Casper S. Yost, published in the St. Louis Globe Democrat on November 2, 1933.

To "Newspapers and the Code" by Douglas W. Swiggett, published in the Milwaukee Journal on July 25, 1933.

To "Freedom of the Press" by an unknown writer, published in the New York American on October 9, 1933.

To "Towa's Disgrace" by James E. Lawrence, published in the Lincoln (Nebraska) Star on April 28, 1933.

To "Some Aspects in the Administration's Program" by William R. Matthews, published in the Arizona Daily Star (Tucson, Arizona) on July 16, 1933.

4. For distinguished example of a reporter's work during the year, the test being strict accuracy, terseness and the preference being given to articles that achieve the accomplishment of some public good commanding public attention and respect, one thousand dollars ($1,000).

Awarded to Royce Brier of the San Francisco Chronicle for his account of the lynching of the kidnapers, John M. Holmes and Thomas H. Thurmond, published November 27, 1933.

Honorable mention: To Eben A. Ayers, Andrew J. Clarke and Edward J. Kelley of the Boston bureau of the Associated Press, for their vigilance and accuracy in covering the kidnaping of Margaret McMath at Harwichport, Mass.

To Edward J. Donohoe of the Times Leader (Wilkes-Barre, Pa.) for his able and convincing work in setting forth corruption in office on the part of members of the public school boards in Luzerne county.

To H. Ellwood Douglas of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch for his accounts of the epidemic of encephalitis in St. Louis.

To Melis O. Frost of the New Orleans Times-Picayune for his reporting of the case of Pearl Letet, accused of causing a death in an automobile accident case.

To Charles J. Truitt, correspondent of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, in covering the district of Ocean City and Salisbury, Maryland, after the severest storm in the history of the eastern shore had leveled all communications.

To Frederick Wolman of the New York World-Telegram for clear, exact and understanding writing in reporting the status of various closed banks in suburban areas of New York after the national bank holiday.

5. For a distinguished example of

ASSOCIATED PRESS MEN WIN PULITZER HONOR

Eben A. Ayers (center), chief of the Boston bureau of The Associated Press, and members of the staff, Andrew J. Clarke (left) and Edward J. Kelley (right), were given honorable mention in the annual Pulitzer Journalism awards for their vigilance and accuracy in covering the kidnaping of Margaret McMath at Harwichport, Mass. (Associated Press Photos)

a cartoonist's work during the year, the determining qualities being that the cartoon shall embody an idea made clearly apparent, shall show good drawing and striking pictorial effect, and shall be intended to be helpful to some commendable cause of public importance, due account being taken to the whole volume of the artist's newspaper work during the year, five hundred dollars ($500).

Awarded to Edmund Duffy of the Baltimore Sun for the cartoon "California Points with Pride—!" published November 28, 1933.

B. Prizes in Letters: 1. For the best novel published during the year by an American author, $1,000.

Awarded to "Lamb in His Bosom," by Caroline Miller, published by Harper and Brothers, New York, 1933.

2. For the original American play, performed in New York, which shall best represent the educational value and power of the stage, $1,000.

Awarded to "Men in White," by Sidney Kingsley, produced at the Broadhurst theater during the season 1933-34, published by Coriel, Friede, Inc., New York, 1933.

3. For the best book of the year upon the history of the United States, $2,000.

Awarded to "The People's Choice," by Herbert Agar, published by Houghton-Mifflin Company, Boston, 1933.

4. For the best American biography teaching patriotic and unselfish services to the people, illustrated by an eminent example, excluding, as too obvious, the names of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, $1,000.

Awarded to "John Jay," by Tyler Dennett, published by Dodd, Mead and Company, New York, 1933.

5. For the best volume of verse published during the year by an American author, $1,000.

Awarded to "Collected Verse," by Robert Hillier, published by Alfred A. Knopf, Inc., New York, 1933.

C. Traveling Scholarships: 1. Three traveling scholarships, having the value of $1,500 each, to graduates of the School of Journalism, who shall have passed their examinations with the highest honor and are otherwise most deserving, to enable each of them to spend a year in Europe, to study the social, political and moral conditions of the people, and the character and principles of the European press.

On the nomination of the teaching staff of the School of Journalism, the following were appointed: 1. Fred Grun of North Bergen, N. J.

2. Harold A. Bezzian of Chicago, Illinois.

3. Betty Turner of Oakland, Cal., Alameda.

4. Mark J. Ginsbourg of Shanghai, China.

5. Jerome L. Meyerberg of Newton, Mass.

6. Mary Joanna Durham of Greencastle, Indiana.

7. An annual scholarship, having the value of $1,500, to the student of music in America who may be deemed the most talented and deserving, in order that he may continue his studies with the advantage of European instruction, on the nomination of a jury composed of members of the teaching staff of the department of music in Columbia University and of the teaching staff of the Institute of Musical Art.

Awarded to Percival Price of Ottawa, Canada.

8. An annual scholarship, having the value of $1,500, to an art student in America, who shall be certified as the most promising and deserving by the National Academy of Design, with which the Society of American Artists has been merged.

Awarded to Cathal O'Toole of Long Island City.

DR. HARVEY WOODS OF ASHLAND NEW MEDIC PRESIDENT

(Continued from page one)

Dr. Eugene Rockey, Portland; Dr. A. W. Holman, Portland; Dr. Carl Martzloff, Portland; Dr. J. Leonard Smith, Portland; Dr. Chas. E. Sears, Portland; Dr. Thomas W. Watts, Portland; Dr. Helen A. Carey, Portland; Dr. A. H. Ross, Eugene; Dr. George W. Swift, Seattle; Dr. D. M. Brower, Ashland; Dr. H. W. Shaw, Ashland; Dr. Harvey A. Woods, Ashland; Dr. Gordon MacCracken, Ashland; Dr. Mattie B. Shaw, Ashland; W. E. Bolger, Medford; Dr. J. Svedenborg, Ashland; Dr. C. W. McCain, Hood River; Dr. Edward Y. Bywater, Grants Pass; Dr. W. P. Holt, Medford; Dr. Dan E. Standard, Phoenix; Dr. Susie V. Standard, Phoenix; Dr. G. Earl Lowe, Grants Pass; Dr. W. H. Heckman, Medford; Dr. W. S. Johnson, Corvallis; Dr. H. Garsjohm, Corvallis; Dr. E. W. Shockley, Medford; Dr. G. W. Lemay, Medford; Dr. O. A. Massey, Klamath Falls; Dr. L. L. Truax, Klamath Falls; Dr. George H. Alder, Klamath Falls; Dr. Robert W. Clancy, Klamath Falls; Dr. B. B. Shoemaker, Roseburg; Dr. A. C. Luey, Roseburg; Dr. Frank Leslie, Roseburg; Dr. E. J. Watson, Roseburg; Dr. James C. Hayes, Medford; Dr. P. W. Kress, Medford; Dr. Griggs, Ashland; Dr. Chas. B. Wade, Roseburg; Dr. George E. Houck, Roseburg; Dr. L. M. Lehrback, Roseburg; Dr. B. E. Peden, Medford; Dr. Chas. A. Haines, Ashland; Dr. B. G. Wilbur, Grants Pass; Dr. W. H. H. Dale, Eugene; Dr. C. J. Moser, Grants Pass; Dr. D. H. Finley, Medford; Dr. R. W. Stearns, Medford; Dr. E. W. Rockey, Portland; Dr. B. G. Wilson, Medford.

PULITZER PRIZE NEWS CARTOON

This news cartoon entitled "California Points with Pride—" won the 1933-34 Pulitzer prize for Edmund Duffy, cartoonist of The Baltimore Sun. The award is $500. The cartoon was published November 28, 1933, a few days after a mob had lynched Thomas H. Thurmond and John M. Holmes at San Jose, Cal. (Associated Press Photo)

Just Another Miscarriage STATE PENITENTIARY, Salem, Ore., May 8.—(UP) Informed by the United Press the Medford Mail Tribune had been awarded the Pulitzer prize for "Hiding Jackson county of its political scandal," Llewellyn A. Banks, central character in the upheaval termed it "another miscarriage of justice."

The former Medford newspaper publisher, a bitter enemy of the Mail Tribune, declined to discuss the award, further.

On the nomination of the teaching staff of the School of Journalism, the following were appointed:

1. Fred Grun of North Bergen, N. J.

2. Harold A. Bezzian of Chicago, Illinois.

3. Betty Turner of Oakland, Cal., Alameda.

4. Mark J. Ginsbourg of Shanghai, China.

5. Jerome L. Meyerberg of Newton, Mass.

6. Mary Joanna Durham of Greencastle, Indiana.

7. An annual scholarship, having the value of $1,500, to the student of music in America who may be deemed the most talented and deserving, in order that he may continue his studies with the advantage of European instruction, on the nomination of a jury composed of members of the teaching staff of the department of music in Columbia University and of the teaching staff of the Institute of Musical Art.

Awarded to Percival Price of Ottawa, Canada.

8. An annual scholarship, having the value of $1,500, to an art student in America, who shall be certified as the most promising and deserving by the National Academy of Design, with which the Society of American Artists has been merged.

Awarded to Cathal O'Toole of Long Island City.

has since been known as the Father of Medicine and from that time on the science of medicine underwent one change after another in an attempt to get the truth of disease and to combat it rationally. But the progress that has been made in the past 50 years, as I stated before, has made this a golden period of medicine.

"During this time the span of life has been lengthened by 15 years. Among the important discoveries or epochs of importance we could name first the diagnosis of appendicitis and an operation by which the disease could be cured. The first operation was performed in 1884, or just 50 years ago.

"While time goes on and because of familiarity, we have become negligent and the mortality from this disease is yet too great. Yet no one can dispute that it was a great step in the progress of medicine.

"Second, the discovery of the specific organisms which cause typhoid fever, pneumonia, tuberculosis, scarlet fever, syphilis, and many other diseases the discovery of which has marked great progress in the stamping out of these diseases where possible and in the treatment of many other diseases.

"During this same period aseptic surgery has been fully developed. This dates from 1895 following the period of Lord Lister's antiseptic surgery, and there is no need to speak further on the wonderful success which this has given to surgery because each one knows and is familiar with all the details and the great advantage to be obtained from strict surgical cleanliness.

"The X-ray is another achievement of the late nineties and its inestimable value can at no time be underrated. The control of typhoid fever by preventive vaccination and the prevention of scarlet fever and diphtheria by inoculation marks another epoch in medical history. The control of not only typhoid fever but other water borne diseases and the means to control such conditions not only in the city but in the rural districts under the supervision of health officers is worthy of notice.

"Another achievement which the medical profession may be proud of is the development of diphtheria antitoxin less than 40 years ago that has saved the lives of many, many children. It is one of the most important advances ever made in medicine and is only surpassed by inoculation prevention which is now available in every part of the world. The discovery of insulin and its use in the treatment of diabetes and lately other ailments of malnutrition other than diabetes and its preparation by Dr. F. W. Banting of Toronto is one of the real romances of medical history.

"Lastly, but not least, has come the standardization of medical schools. Fifty years ago medical schools were not standardized. There are now nearly one hundred grade A medical schools in the United States and their graduates are all trained in the most reliable method.

management that has been largely responsible for a success of this firm. John Moffatt, manager of Mann's Department store, followed Mr. Boyle in the vocational program by outlining to the Rotarians and guests the preparation behind extensive merchandising events in the Montgomery Ward store in Medford. Mr. Moffatt particularly mentioned the exploitation of National Cotton Week and entertainingly told of the importance of the cotton industry.

C. D. Bean, manager of Montgomery Ward & Company's Medford store confined his remarks to properly planned advertising such as that featured by Mann's Department store. Mr. Bean paid tribute to the splendid advertising program of Mann's and told the Rotarians that this Medford store had established a state-wide reputation along this line. He also told of the advance preparation before advertising finally appeared in newspapers.

The petroleum industry, its growth and the extent of operations such as the Standard Oil company came in for discussion in an interesting talk by Harold Reichstein of the Medford Fuel company. The romance of oil and the conditions leading up to various changes in the petroleum industry were stressed by this speaker.

Jack Carle's remarks were based upon the activities of the California Oregon Power company in southern Oregon and the results of his interview with John Boyle were told to Rotarians who attended today's luncheon. Mr. Carle, agent for the Southern Pacific system, pointed out the substantial part the Copco organization plays in the life and growth of this community.

The final speaker on today's program was Lee Bishop, manager of KMBD. Mr. Bishop told the Rotarians of the Medford Concrete Construction company's operation in Medford and followed these remarks by an interesting talk on the romance of cement, its place in history and part in present-day life.

Before the vocational program opened today, Program Chairman George Henselmann introduced Robert W. Ruhl, editor of the Medford Mail Tribune and winner of the Pulitzer prize for 1933. A veritable oration was given the Medford publisher who won national recognition for the meritorious public service his paper had rendered during the past year.

In responding to the reception given by the Rotarians, Mr. Ruhl pointed out that his paper had always strived to truly reflect the thought and action of this community and the awarding of the Pulitzer prize should be considered a tribute to all Medford and southern Oregon.

An interesting vocational program was presented before the Medford Rotary club luncheon meeting today under the supervision of Chuck Hill. In this unique program, six members of the club briefly discussed the business activities of six other Rotarians.

John Boyle, vice-president of the California Oregon Power company described the extensive operations of the Timber Products company of this city, pointing out the remarkable growth of this industry and efficient

ROTARIANS TAKE OTHER VOCATIONS FOR TALK TOPIC

Clean Up Sale

CLEAN UP and PAINT UP with Lampport's Specials

AGAIN WE OFFER TO Furnish Labor and Material to Kalsomine Rooms up to 12x14, first grade Kalsomine, $3.00 Room for

Wall Paper, Paste and Labor to paper rooms up to 10x12, 50 patterns to choose from, $4.44 for

FLOORS VARNISHED, with high grade floor varnish, labor and material furnished, $2.00 for, each

Floors Cleaned, Waxed and Polished $1

SPECIAL TERMS and prices for Painting the Exterior of your homes with first grade material.

HOUSE PAINT—Better grade than most $1.75 and $2.00 paints on the market. We offer in a variety $1.25 of colors for, per gallon

Package Kalsomine 6c pound

Pure Linseed Oil $1.10 gallon

Boiled Oil 85c gallon

Eastern Spirits Turpentine $1.00 gallon

PAINT YOUR STORE front with Valdura Aluminum Paint—covers 1000 feet to the gallon.

50 feet 5-8 in. GARDEN HOSE $2.65

3-foot Window Awnings complete with fixtures to set up, each $1.75

Complete stock of Worth Tools, quality guaranteed, and priced lower than any line of tools on the market.

LAMPOR'S

226-230 E. Main

What You Want When You Want It

Clean Up and Paint Up

The Handicraft Shop CLOSED ALL DAY WEDNESDAY! —Rearranging and where possible cutting the price still deeper for the FINAL WIND-UP SALE Thursday! Friday! Saturday! Watch Tomorrow Night's Paper The Handicraft Shop 42 South Central, Medford We Are Not Going Out of Business

OFFER ARGENTINA HELP FOR WHEAT LONDON, May 8.—(AP)—The United States, Canada, and Australia are

LA GRANDE, Ore., May 8.—(AP)—With two-thirds of the Hot Lake sanatorium in ashes, the future of this famous health institution was definitely in doubt today. Dr. John B. Gregory, who has a contract to buy the place, could not say today what his future plans will be.

BASS-HUETER PAINT Don't be fooled! Paint that's too cheap "in the can" is too expensive "on the job" it won't wear as it should either in length of time or in look. Bass-Hueter Paint wears years and years. That's "cheap" in the right place—on the job!

Paint when the sun shines Warm dry weather helps any paint job. Paint now and rest content with your house for years to come. That's the job you'll get with B-H MIXED PAINT $3.45 Gallon Gal. $3.50 Pint . 65c $1.00 Quart

SPECIAL SELECTION of LOW PRICED LUMBER—CEDAR & COMPOSITION SHINGLES Let us estimate your re-roofing job. PORTER LUMBER COMPANY "Builders' Bureau of Information" 204 So. Fir St.

HOW DID WE EVER DO WITHOUT NORGE ROLLATOR REFRIGERATION

Think of being able to take advantage of "one day bargains" at the grocery or meat market—and buying for a week or two weeks in advance! Think of leaving the house for a week-end or a week in hottest midsummer—and returning to find the food or frozen dainties in your Norge as pure, fresh and wholesome as when you left!

THE ROLLATOR —has only three moving parts—simple, powerful, almost everlasting. NORGE Rollator refrigeration Norge Corporation, Division of Borg-Warner Corp., Detroit, Mich. 20-N-2 E. J. FELDMAN 24 North Bartlett St., Medford