NET CLOSING AROUND KIDNAPERS

News Behind The News
 By PAUL MALLON.

 WASHINGTON, D. C., May 9.—Stock market today started passing around the tip ten days ago that the market was soon to begin a major downward movement.

All the worst and some of the best Wall Street houses wired their clients, advising the sale of stocks and transfer of the money into high-grade bonds. The tips were not confined to a select circle. Nearly everyone anywhere near the inside had them.

Only two deductions can possibly be drawn from that fact. Either the Wall Streeters, in unison, simultaneously discovered dangerous flaws in the business situation, or else they got their heads together and decided for political reasons of their own to sing the "Wall-Street Blues" in a chorus.

Certain non-partisan economic experts have been running around Washington the last few days, trying to find out what flaws exist in the business situation.

They have discovered these things: Inventories are large in some lines; the 60 per cent steel production is somewhat abnormal, being based on the desire of all steel consumers to stock up before the price increase July 1; a few orders for automobiles have been canceled.

INFORMANT GIVES CLUE TO HIDEOUTS IN SONORA REGION

'Contact Man' Held in Arizona Provides Important Information—Three Described Girl's Abductors

CANANEA, Sonora, Mex., May 9.—(AP)—Harried by Mexican police, their former hide-outs betrayed by an informant revealed to have implicated himself as their "contact man," three asserted kidnapers of six-year-old June Robles were believed fleeing through Sonora today, the child with them.

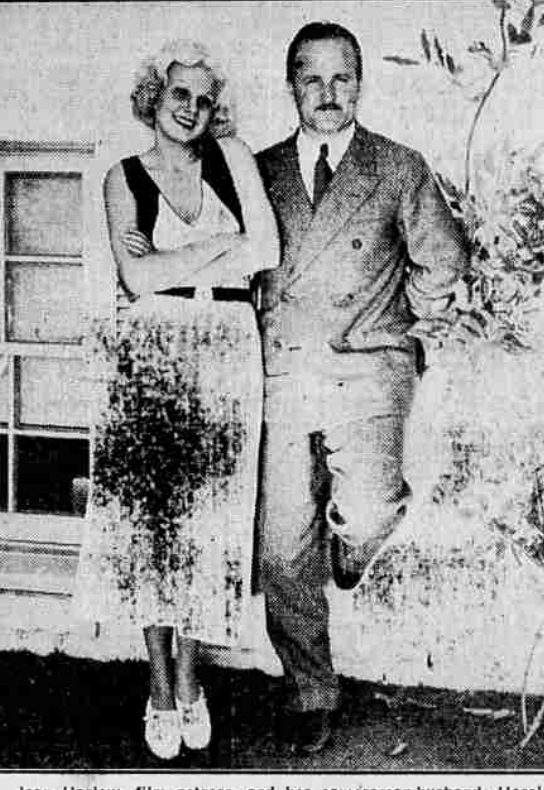

Alarms were sounding throughout the northern Sonora country as authorities sought to "close in" on the elusive trio, who already had escaped from two traps sprung by United States and Mexican investigators, on information from the self-implicated "contact man," who is in technical custody in Arizona.

Three Described Documentarily evidence received from the asserted contact man by Arizona authorities, it was revealed, described the fugitive as an American and a Mexican and his wife.

The description fitted three adults, who had with them a little girl said to resemble June Robles, who disappeared from Cananea only a few hours before searchers descended on the hut in which they had been living here.

Two days before they had been in Santa Cruz, Sonora, 20 miles northwest of here, Mexican police said their investigation showed, but had fled from there shortly before searchers from Nogales reached the little town last Monday.

FLASKS OF HARD LIQUOR TABOO IN BEER EMPORIUMS

PORTLAND, May 9.—(AP)—The flask, which performed active but illegal duty during prohibition days, again has been outlawed.

No longer will tipplers in beer parlors be permitted to tote a pint or a quart along with them to bolster appetites for alcoholic drinks. The state liquor control board so ruled yesterday.

Support of the commission's order reducing the amount of alcohol in beer was pledged by the Oregon Brewers' association, which said such action will safeguard both public welfare and the legitimate rights of citizens and of the industry.

While the Midwest suffered under winds, a tornado wind swept Plentywood, Mont., wrecking business buildings and damaging houses.

SIX DIE WHEN AIR LINER HITS SEAS

LE BOURGET, France, May 9.—(AP)—The air France trimotor plane "Breguet" with her crew of three and three passengers was lost with all hands in the English Channel today.

Her wreckage was sighted 18 miles northwest of Boulogne by rescue planes sent out from Crocydon airfield, England, and La Fourget field.

Among those lost was a French nobleman, Count Ernest De Neuville. On its regular flight to Crocydon, the big airliner went down in a fog, smashing into rough seas which hampered the efforts of rescue ships.

Apparently, the Breguet crashed at about 12:30 p. m., just 20 minutes before she was due at the English flying field.

Pioneers Urged To Register At Jubilee Office

Pioneers who have lived in Oregon for the past 60 years or more are invited to make themselves known at Oregon's Diamond Jubilee headquarters in the Sparta building. A register of these pioneers is to be started at once. They are asked to sign their name, age and length of residence.

It is probable these old timers will take an active part in the celebration, primarily inspired by the opportunity of paying tribute to these adventurous souls who were so instrumental in the establishment of statehood and in the development of Oregon.

INSULL GRANTED HEARING ON BAIL REDUCTION PLEA

CHICAGO, May 9.—(AP)—Judge Will M. Sparks of the U. S. circuit court of appeals granted a habeas corpus writ for Samuel Insull this afternoon and agreed to hear a petition at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow for the reduction of his $200,000 bond.

The petition, signed by Insull himself in the county jail hospital, was presented by his attorney, Floyd E. Thompson, after another federal judge had refused an informal motion to trim the heaviest bond ever required in a Chicago federal case.

Thompson said he would argue that $100,000 which Insull can furnish, was ample bond to assure his appearance for trial and that the higher sum was exorbitant and violated his constitutional rights.

Will Rogers says: SALINAS, Cal., May 8.—This is Salinas, the home of the Wild West Rodeo. It takes place in July. They let everybody in free that comes horseback and they come by the hundreds. The horse all over the country is not coming back. He is back. Fred Stone and I spent all day Sunday, went, four or five hundred miles just driving through these old California ranches—they were land grants from Spain—and seeing the old missions, good horses, fat cattle, plenty to eat and plenty of mortgages; but, lord, every branch of businesses have them. There is a change coming over the country anyhow. People have just got to get more used to debt. Let's all let the fellow we owe do the worrying and the U. S. will be the happiest land on earth.
