

DEVERS LOOKS UP COUNTY PROJECTS IN MEDFORD VISIT

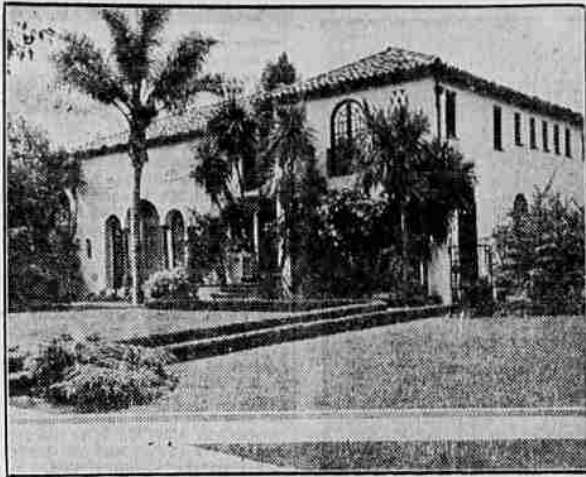

J. M. Devers, Republican candidate for the nomination for congressman, first district, was a visitor in Medford Friday, on a tour through the congressional district, meeting a number of the voters. A member of the state highway commission for the past 15 years, Mr. Devers is widely known throughout the state. Four years previous to that, he was district attorney of Lane county for four years.

Speaking of his stay here, Mr. Devers said: "So far as I have been able to ascertain, Jackson county has no pet projects for which it seeks federal aid, except more and better highways, and a short railroad connection with the coast. These are both worthy projects and will have my support. I believe that every citizen owes to his country his utmost effort for its welfare and promotion in time of peace."

Mr. Devers said that he also favors the control of the moving picture as its source, instead of censorship following the completion of a picture.

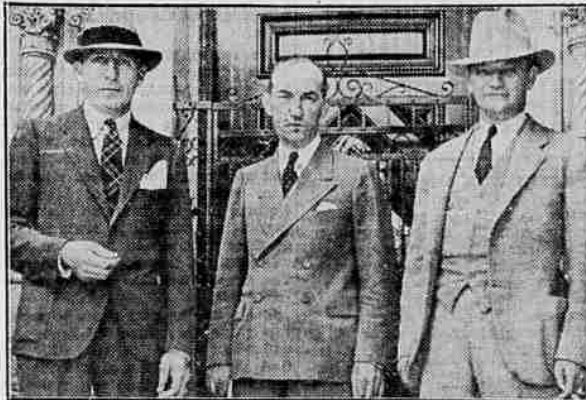

The candidate left in the afternoon for Ashland, where he planned to remain for a short time.

Home of Abducted Millionaire

Mrs. William F. Gettle was reported prostrated in this residence as friends and officials strove to solve the kidnaping of her husband, William F. Gettle. He was abducted by two masked men from this estate at Arcadia, Cal. The oil and stock broker pleaded with his kidnapers to let him go, but they tossed him over the garden wall and carried him away. ASSOCIATE CARDS WILL BE HONORED GLEEMEN CONCERT

In response to many inquiries regarding the tickets for the Gleemen concert which is to be given at the high school auditorium tomorrow night the management has announced that the associate membership cards will be honored as they were at the first spring concert. The question was raised because of the booking by the Gleemen of the guest artists Miss Frances Mullen and Miss Dorothy Wagner, causing many to think that their inclusion in the program would change the status of the season tickets.

The Gleemen were fortunate in being able to secure these two talented young ladies who come to Medford highly recommended. The variety and novelty of their contributions to the program is sure to please the large audience that will doubtless greet them. Equally certain to meet the approval of the listeners will be the different choruses upon which Medford's singing organization has been assiduously working. An entirely new group has been prepared under the direction of Jim Stevens and includes classic and popular numbers that lend themselves particularly to the harmony of male voices. One outstanding chorus is a special arrangement for the Gleemen by Sebastian Apollo of the immensely popular "Wagon Wheels." It is expected that this song will stop the show.

Tickets for the concert are on sale at Pruitt's Melody Shop, The Tugery, Baldwin Piano Shoppe, Palmer Electric store and the Chamber of Commerce. Depression prices still prevail with a half price charge for student tickets.

STATE GAS PRICE NOT TOO HIGH, IS MADE BY CODE

PORTLAND, Ore., May 12.—(Sp.)—Continued charges in news dispatches from Salem to the effect that the gasoline industry is seeking to force a higher price upon the state of Oregon in its purchase of gasoline than the normal price structure prevailing on the Pacific coast, were declared misleading today by the Oregon Petroleum Industries committee, which pointed out:

"Reports from Salem have declared that gasoline could be purchased outside of the state at a lower price than exists here. However, they have failed to tell that these purchases can only be made in areas affected by disastrous price wars, disastrous to retail dealers and to supplying companies."

"Statements have also been published in Salem indicating that the state had to pay 21 1/2c per gallon, the prevailing retail price. This, too, is misleading. As a matter of fact, since May let the state government has been able to purchase gasoline at Salem at 17c per gallon in tank cars. This figure includes the 5c state tax but does not include the 1c federal tax, which is exempt to state governments and municipalities."

"The bids for business of the state government are controlled by the President's Code of Fair Competition for the Petroleum Industry, which states that such bids shall be made on the basis of the seller's posted price at time and place of delivery. Any person selling petroleum products to the state government must comply with this rule, except that a top price may be bid, but in no event shall the top price be lower than 25 per cent more than the posted price on the date the bid is made and then not for a period exceeding three months.

"The petroleum industry seeks to maintain the Code, which is designed to provide a fair margin of profit to the thousands of dealers in gasoline throughout the state, whose business must be protected, a fair margin for the petroleum industry and a fair price to the consumer. More than one thousand additional persons have been given employment in the oil industry in Oregon as a result of the adoption of the Code, with a combined increased monthly salary of $80,000. The oil industry has millions of dollars invested in the state, and upon the industry's prosperity depends the welfare of many thousands of employees and their families."

MEMORIAL POPPY SALESMEN READY

Organization of volunteer workers to distribute Memorial poppies on Friday the 25th and Saturday the 26th, has been completed, Mrs. Belva Aiken, poppy chairman of Medford unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, announced. More than fifty will take part in the "Poppy Day" activities, through which poppies to be worn in honor of the World War dead, will be offered throughout the city, Mrs. Aiken said.

The distribution of poppies will be carried out under a systematic plan that will assure everyone in the city an opportunity to wear one of the little red Memorial flowers. All workers distributing poppies for the auxiliary serve without pay or commission, Mrs. Aiken explained, every penny contributed for the poppies going to the relief of needy, disabled veterans and their families. Making of the poppies has provided employment for many disabled veterans during the winter and spring and the funds collected will help finance the relief activities of the American Legion and auxiliary among the disabled veterans and dependents of the dead and disabled in the city during the coming year.

SENIORS ANNUAL PICNIC ENJOYED

With the weather perfect and the feelings of the youngsters high as the result of the idea of some youngster getting a chance to "duck" other members of the bunch in the river, the senior class of Medford high held its annual picnic on the Elks picnic grounds Friday.

The class left Medford at about 9:30 o'clock in the morning; journeyed to the airport and then followed a trail left by the leading car to the picnic grounds. Indoor baseball and swimming were enjoyed by the boys and girls present during the morning. Lunch was served at approximately 12:30. In the afternoon games of different kinds were played. But "rest" seemed to be the thing that most of the students were interested in, for a little royal was forthcoming. The word had spread around that the juniors had spotted their picnic grounds. The juniors are regarded as enemies on that particular day, most certainly during the annual tug-o-war. The tug-o-war grounds usually is laid as close to a mud hole or any body of water as can be attained so that the loser will have to be tossed into the water or mud. The territory used for the tug-o-war at the Elks picnic grounds was a muddy legion just south of the dance floor. However, the juniors lost but resented the idea of having to go in the muddy water. The seniors forced them to go in. The boys after the battle, were hardly distinguishable for the mud that covered them. The senior girls proceeded the ducking to the ducking of junior girls although they carried their victims to the cool and clear waters. After the ducking party was over, winners with bumps were served.

Industry Loan Delayed WASHINGTON, May 12.—(AP)—The senate today postponed until Monday a final vote on the Glass loans-to-industry bill after a long argument over an amendment to authorize 20-year reconstruction finance corporation loans to municipally-owned power plants.
