

BELCASTRO, SIRIOS WRESTLE IN MAIN EVENT AT ARMORY

Frenchman Hopes to Stop Winning Streak of Italian—Warren Meets Martin, Anderson Faces Newman

For his second bout here since his return from Mexico, Pete Belcastro, mauling matman from Sacramento, will mix with Walter Sirios, grappling Frenchman, in the main event of Promoter Mack Lillard's mat card at the Armory tonight.

Pete has been handing out a straight row of defeats to all comers, and if he succeeds in tonight's match with Sirios, it is said that Lillard will have to look farther than France to find a man who can pin the Italian to the canvas.

Sirios is pointed to have a lot to handle when he gets into the ring with the Californian, but may prove the turning point in Belcastro's list of wins. Most fans who know the game say Sirios can pin the Italian easily.

A pair that should deliver plenty of speed has been picked for the semi-final, when Roland Warren, agile Copco engineer from Klamath Falls, will tangle with Bunny Martin, Oklahoma grappler. Both Warren and Martin are favorites of Medford fans, and their grapple tonight is counted to bring to the surface plenty of enthusiasm.

Martin was forced to put the mat twice last week when Chief Little Wolf of Colorado, brought his Indian deathlock into use, and the Oklahoman will be on the war-path himself this week when he meets Warren.

In the 30-minute opener, Swede Anderson, who is rarin' to go after being omitted from last Thursday's card, will meet Billie Newman, of Denver.

HELPLESS DUCKS WIN GAME AFTER EIGHT DEFEATS

(By the Associated Press) As the Pacific Coast league race tightened today, with every series knotted at one-all, the lead of Los Angeles over the second place San Francisco Missions was whittled down to four games, San Francisco was only half a game ahead of Hollywood in third place and Seattle was back in the cellar after losing to Sacramento, while Portland broke its losing streak of eight straight games by defeating Oakland.

The Missions belted out 17 hits yesterday to defeat Los Angeles, 10 to 5, their answer to the 2-to-0 drubbing the Angels gave them Tuesday. Jim Denmore pitched shut-out ball for Hollywood through eight innings as the Stars won from the Seals, 4 to 2. The Seals punched three hits to score two runs in a last-inning attempt to overcome Hollywood's lead.

TILLMAN WINNER GRAND PRIZE OF MOVIE GOLFERS

Low Net of 203 Cops Auto Radio—Next Meeting Will Be Held in Marshfield, Is Unanimous Decision

It was unanimously agreed at the close of the first semi-annual Oregon Motion Picture golf tournament held here Tuesday and Wednesday that the event was a success, and the 36 representatives of filmdom who participated completed plans at a meeting last night for a second tourney to be held at the Coos Bay Country club in Marshfield, September 12 and 13.

Fifty-four holes of golf, 37 on each of the two days of the tournament, were rounded out last night, and of the 36 who turned in cards, C. Tillman won the first prize, an auto radio offered by the RCA film corporation, with a low net of 203. Dude Smith of Tillamook, turned in a low net of 206 to win, as second prize, a golf bag given by Tom Shearer. The silver loving cup offered by V. E. Stewart, branch manager for Warner Bros., for the lowest gross, went to Dennis Hull of North Bend, who scored a 247. Jim O'Connell turned in the second best gross with a 251.

The next five lowest net scores were made by Bill Graper, 211; Frank Clark, 211; McDaniels, 211; Tingle, 212; and Gordon Craddock, 212.

The award given for the widest range was given to V. Stewart, and George Olson received a fish in commemoration of his highest gross, a 422, for the 57 holes.

Because $50 was gallantly offered by B. Keller to anyone who scored a hole-in-one during the tourney, it was seen to by his fellow golfers that Bob Marsden, on the eighth, drove off and saw his ball roll into the cup, notwithstanding a few helping kicks en route. At the meeting held in the Hotel Medford last night, it was undecided as to whether or not Keller could be persuaded to make good his $50 offer.

Meetings after the tournament play were conducted as social events, with Billy Green, as chairman of the entertainment committee, furnishing the surprises.

The tournament was the first time that theater and supply house owners and their employees were ever gathered for a sport event, and the movie industry was represented from many states of the northwest.

The rest of the entrants and their low net scores were as follows: Bob White, 240; Stover, 214; Bob Marsden, 221; Mark Corey, 233; V. Stewart, 243; Ned Clark, out; E. L.

DROULETTE LEADS SOUTHERN LEAGUE BATTING AVERAGE

Grants Pass Catcher Snags Five Safeties in Six Trips to Plate Sunday to Boost Hitting Mark to .563

By BILLY HULEN
Secretary Southern Oregon League.

Al Droulette, Grants Pass catcher and former Pacific Coast league player, hammered out five hits in six trips to the plate against Shaw Bertram Sunday and took over the Southern Oregon league batting leadership with a mark of .563. Droulette's average shows a gain of 163 points over the preceding week.

Paul Hoffard, Medford outfielder and last week's leader, went hitless Sunday and dropped 118 points to a mark of 316.

Dean Joy, Medford catcher, went into second place as a result of a perfect day at bat against Ewauna. His average is 462.

Williams Nominal Leader.

Ken Williams, Grants Pass manager, inserted himself as a pinch hitter against Shaw Bertram Sunday and cracked out a single to take over the nominal leadership with an average of 1.000.

Wheeler, first baseman, leads the Ewauna hitters, batting .444. Wake-man heads the Shaw Bertram players with a mark of .384.

Although at the top of the circuit, the Medford Rogues are next to last in team batting averages, hitting .323. Grants Pass leads with a mark of .352, followed by Ewauna with .280, Shaw Bertram is batting .168.

Hughes and Earhart Tied.

Jack Hughes, big Medford right-hander, and Earhart, gangling Grants Pass southpaw, are tied for the top Southern Oregon league pitching spot with one victory apiece and no losses.

Hughes worked 5 2-3 innings Sunday against Ewauna and got credit for the win, while Earhart limited Shaw Bertram to two hits in 7 1-3 innings at Klamath Falls.

Following are the official Southern Oregon league batting averages for players hitting 200 or over.

THOMPSON WINS DUFFERS CROWN AT ROGUE LINKS

Awarded a trophy which cost him one dollar to get, Jack Thompson, disputed by nevertheless champion duffer of the Rogue Valley golf course, defeated Jack Reynolds yesterday in the finals of one of the club's favorite tournaments, and won, besides the trophy, the title of being the champion "chiseler" of the course.

After the contest had been rained out twice and postponed various other times, the two finally got together yesterday and turned in the scores which decided that the duffers, championed by Thompson, were better men than the dubs, represented by Reynolds. Because he scored a 90, Thompson was forced to give a dollar for the prize, according to the rules, which specify that a fine shall be paid by duffers who make the rounds of 18 holes in 90 or less strokes.

Reynolds, it is said, decided not to shoot an 89, which, with the help of $5, would have given him the championship. The title of "chiseler" was awarded Thompson when he notchalantly coupled a 43 that he shot yesterday with a 47 carded some weeks ago. Thus the alleged chiseler averted a score under 90 and escaped the accompanying $5 fine, at the same time winning the hard-fought tourney. The champion played the last nine holes first and the first nine last, but otherwise conformed with the rules. Had he been able to dig up the convenient 47 which he shot some time ago, Thompson would have been relieved of a $5 bill, as his total for yesterday's 18 holes was under the allotted score. Suffice it to say that card has been turned over to the grievance committee.

Jack Huston, pro, announced yesterday that the dubs are picking a 10-man team to challenge the victorious duffers, and that the winners of this team match will play the team that represented the local club in Ashland two weeks ago.

Gene Thorndike captains the duffers, while the dubs are piloted through the traps by E. L. Childers.

SEALS GROOMING YOUNG DI MAGGIO FOR BIG LEAGUES

San Francisco Italian Declared Greatest Baseball Find of Recent Years—Batting Over .400 Now

By RONALD WAGNER
United Press Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO.—(UP)—The Pacific Coast league, cradle of many big league baseball stars, at present is grooming young Joe DiMaggio, San Francisco right fielder, as the circuit's next contribution to the majors.

Critics say that the 19-year-old who is playing his second season with the Seals, is about ready to go up. Many big league scouts, including Ernie Johnson of the Boston Red Sox, have looked him over. If DiMaggio fails to make good in the big show, some of the nation's leading "ivory hunters" must eat words of praise used to describe Joe during baseball fests.

High Praise

Charles H. Graham, president of the Seals, called DiMaggio "the greatest all-around young player to wear a uniform for the Seals in the 17 years I have been connected with the club."

Graham's words bear weight, since the Seals have sent to the majors Paul Warner, Willie Kamm, Lefty O'Doul, Gus Suhr, Jimmy O'Connell, Lefty Gomez, Jimmy Caveney, Frankie Crosetti, Earl Averil, Roy Johnson and other stars known far and wide among diamond fans.

Other famous baseballers to add praise for DiMaggio are Ty Cobb, who sees most of the Seals' games, and Earl McNeely, now owner and manager of the Sacramento Pacific Coast club.

Alger Story

If DiMaggio makes the big leagues, the writers can prepare to chronicle another Horatio Alger story. A little more than a year ago, young Joe thought this world had ended when he lost his newspaper route. Having nothing to do, he loafed around the Seals' park, where his brother, Vincent, was playing. Jimmy Caveney, Seals manager, thought he observed natural talent in Joe and gave him a tryout. He became a regular player from the first day and stayed with the Seals when Brother Vincent went to Hollywood.

During 1933, DiMaggio hit in 61 consecutive games to shatter a Coast league record made in 1915. He played in all but two scheduled games and averaged 340 for the season. He drove in more runs than any player in the league and made more assists than any outfielder.

This season, DiMaggio is batting over .400 for early games. He is fast on the bases and covering more territory in the outfield.

BOAT CLUB GOING TO COPCO LAKE

At the last meeting of the Southern Oregon Boat club an invitation was extended to all members and anyone else having a boat or interested in boating, to go to Copco lake. The Boat club has quite a few members living in northern California and they have been working hard the last two weeks getting facilities ready for the caravan. They have built a dock, a driveway for launching the boats, cleared a picnic ground and have provided sanitation facilities. This committee assures all those making the trip that they will have an enjoyable time.

All those going in the caravan are requested to meet at the Medford Chamber of Commerce building Sunday morning at 7:00 o'clock. Bring your boat, a picnic lunch and as many friends as you like.

This is the first of the trips planned for this year and each month there will be some different excursion planned.

Your Allies in Pest Control

S-W SUMMER MULSION

Use S-W Summer Mulsion Light in your oil-laced combination for Codling Moth control and kill the eggs before they hatch. S-W Summer Mulsion is very economical to use because only one-half gallon to one hundred gallons of water is required to kill better than 90% of the Codling Moth eggs hit.

S-W ARSENATE OF LEAD

S-W Lead Arsenate not only leaves the heaviest deposit on the fruit and foliage but it has the greatest toxicity because it is a perfectly balanced diplobasic lead arsenate. Thousands of growers in the Northwest testify to its superior qualities.

S-W TARSO FLAKES

S-W Tarso Flakes not only spreads the Lead Arsenate but increases the deposit by flocculating the lead particles. Tarso Flakes may be dissolved without heating by washing through the strainer while filling the tank. Tarso Flakes is the latest development in tar soap spreaders.

Banding Pays!

BANDIP treated bands will catch 80% to 70% of Codling Moth larvae leaving the fruit. Thus, banding actually saves one or more sprays. It reduces the percentage of wormy or stung fruit by reducing the worm population. It will not only help you grow a cleaner crop this year, but will help to grow cleaner fruit the coming season by reducing the worm carry-over.

It costs less to treat bands with BANDIP

- The cost of BANDIP treated bands is only a few cents per tree.
- This inexpensive treatment gives you maximum control of the first brood of Codling Moths, making subsequent broods less difficult to handle.
- A more uniform deposit of Beta Naphthol on the bands is possible in the use of BANDIP. That is because the high temperature required in the heat treatment of other materials causes a high percentage of the Beta Naphthol to evaporate—weakening the treatment. There is no evaporation in cold-treating bands with BANDIP.
- The grower may treat his own bands with BANDIP and be certain of getting a sufficient coating by simply weighing the bands after treatment.
- BANDIP is more effective—and more economical. See your packing house for prices and supplies.

The Sherwin-Williams Horticultural Adviser will gladly cooperate in suggesting an effective and yet economical spray program.
