

BUSINESS FIRMS ADVISED TO ASK FOR NRA EAGLES

New Recovery Insignia Can Be Obtained by Mailing Application Cards to the State N. R. A. Office

Oregon Business firms which have not yet made application to the state NRA compliance division for code blue eagles will find themselves the object of the buying public unless they make immediate arrangements to secure the new recovery insignia. It was declared today by Edgar Freed, state NRA compliance director.

Application cards to be filled out by employers have already been distributed. These should be mailed to the state NRA office, as indicated on the cards, and the new blue eagle will then be forwarded.

Campaign Planned.
The importance of making an early application for the revised insignia was stressed by the state compliance director, who pointed out that the national recovery administration is planning a nationwide campaign of education and public information designed to aid those firms which display the new emblem.

Firms which failed to secure application forms for the code eagle may obtain blanks at any postoffice. "The state NRA office, 407 Park building, Portland, also has a supply of the application cards which will be forwarded to any applicant on request."

Importance Stressed.
"The importance of making immediate application for the code insignia denoting continued compliance with the fair competition codes cannot be stressed too strongly," said Mr. Freed. "The responsibility for securing these new emblems rests on the employer. As the buying public will be urged to deal only with those firms which are paying decent living wages and are observing the fair trade code provisions, it is important that all business men entitled to these code eagles secure them to protect their firms against public belief that they are not complying because they fail to display the new insignia."

Applications for code eagles are carefully checked at the state NRA office and only those firms which are able to show they are complying with the codes are given the new blue eagle.

ROTARY CLUB HEARS GREENE LECTURE ON FRUIT AUCTION MART

Members of the Rotary club, meeting at Hotel Medford, Tuesday heard Henry D. Greene, special representative of the American Fruit and Production Auction association of New York City tell of the fruit auctions, and also enjoyed the films he displayed giving details of the work as carried on in the auction rooms.

Mr. Greene's talk and pictures are of particular interest in Medford, as many of the Rogue River valley pears are handled in the New York market.

Tomorrow Mr. Green will be guest speaker at the Lions club luncheon at the Colonial club, and Friday evening at 7:30, he will speak in the courthouse auditorium, and show additional films.

Guests at today's Rotary club meeting were W. M. Moses of Grants Pass, Sam L. Ziegler of San Francisco, H. P. Bosworth, Jr., of Klamath Falls and G. A. Allen of Tacoma.

Daughter First State Governor

ANNE WHITEAKER, of Eugene, daughter of the first governor of Oregon, has been named the Queen Mother for Oregon's Diamond Jubilee celebration in Medford next June 3 to 9. Elaborate coronation ceremonies will be held for her the evening of June 4, including a children's pageant having over 400 participants. The Queen Mother was selected on the basis of being one of the most outstanding pioneer women in the state. Her father, John Whiteaker, served as governor from 1859 to 1862.

HELEN BRISCOE WINS LEAGUE OF NATIONS EXAMINATION AWARD

During the past few months, the National League of Nations association, Inc., has held its eighth League of Nations examination for high school students. The entry of Miss Helen Briscoe, senior at Medford high school, won the state prize of $10 for the best examination in Oregon.

This contest is sponsored yearly for the benefit of high schools all over the United States. There are now 92 schools enrolled. Each year the first prize, a trip to Europe is awarded to the writer of the best examination in the country. This year the much coveted prize was won by Miss Clara Moody of Providence, Kentucky.

The contest consists, first, of reading as much material as possible on the history of the League of Nations, and a special booklet is sent to all those who wish to compete. A short test is then sent to all entrants, who are to write an essay on each of the given questions.

Last year Wildon Colbaugh, senior, represented Medford high school by winning a state prize, and ranked ninth in the United States.

COWBOYS INVITED TO JUBILEE RODEO

Bulldozers, steer-ropers, broncho busters and cowboys from all parts of the coast have been sent invitations to enter Oregon's Diamond Jubilee roundup during the jubilee celebration here next June 3 to 9. The roundup is open to all comers. Some of the meanest bucking horses ever turned loose will do their stuff during the four days of the roundup, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoon, followed by a special show Saturday night.

A special committee, composed of E. W. Kubli, "Wig" Ashpole, George E. Nichols, R. E. Richmond, and Verne Brophy of southern Oregon points, will make arrangements for all entries. Three judges will be selected, one from the Rogue river valley, one from Fort Klamath and a third from California, to render fair and impartial decisions.

Call for Warrants.
Notice is hereby given that there are funds on hand for the redemption of warrants drawn on School District No. 69, as follows: No. 29 and 49 and numbers 52 to 230 inclusive. Payable at Medford National Bank. Interest ceases May 22nd, 1934.

CHAGO BATTLING GOING ON SINCE CABOT INVASION

Death Struggle at Fort Ballivian Hurried to Secure Decision Before Arms Ban Becomes Effective

By CHARLES E. HARNER, Associated Press Foreign Staff. (Copyrighted, 1934, by the Associated Press.)

Like two bulldogs, heedless of the spectators who seek to pull them apart, Paraguay and Bolivia are locked in a death struggle at Fort Ballivian.

The censored dispatches which have come through from Asuncion and La Paz indicate each nation has thrown the full power of its main armies into the fight in an effort to end the war decisively and in a hurry.

The rush of troops into battle has come just as the world powers announced through Geneva, Washington and London that the war in the Chaco must end.

Steps have been taken to shut off further war materials from the combatants by embargoes. It is possible that the Fort Ballivian campaign, although in progress for four months past, is being expedited by both nations in an effort to beat the embargo deadline.

It probably will be weeks before any kind of authentic estimates come out of the Chaco as to the number of casualties in the Fort Ballivian engagement. The engagement however is only an incident in 400 years of Chaco fighting.

Hostilities started there in 1526, when Sebastian Cabot sailed up the Parana river to the Bermejo. Other conquistadores followed. They fought the Guarano, the Indians who still live in Paraguay and whose language still is spoken there, even though it is also a Spanish speaking country.

The Jesuits went there in 1605, baptized the Guarano and established missions.

Came Diplomacy.
Then came old-world diplomacy to wreck the peace. The king of Spain ceded part of this Jesuit territory to Portugal in 1763. The Jesuits refused to acknowledge the dismemberment of the territory and both Spain and Portugal dispatched soldiers to subdue the fighting priests.

The Jesuits were driven from the country in 1769.

Paraguay declared its independence from Spain in 1811. Even in those days fighting was going on in the Chaco Boreal—which means "the forest wilderness," the sovereignty of which Paraguay and Bolivia are contesting. Then, it was warfare with hostile Indians.

This is not the first time that the Chaco has caused concern to the United States. One of the strangest episodes in United States history

REPUTATION BIG FACTOR IN SALE BUDWEISER BEER

For the past 75 years Anheuser-Busch, Inc., of St. Louis has been known the world over as producers of quality products, exclusively.

The world-wide acceptance enjoyed by this famous St. Louis institution for over three-quarters of a century has been achieved solely on the rigid policy of the maintenance of superior quality.

The brewery, which is the largest in the world, never closed its doors or ceased operations, during the 14-year period of prohibition. The equipment was continually kept up to the minute and beer, which was converted into legalized beverage, was brewed under government license all through the prohibition period.

Anheuser-Busch have consistently, year in and year out, supported their dealers with localized advertising through the newspapers. This year, as always, they are banking the country with newspaper advertising to run continuously through the height of the beer selling season.

This advertising is hammering home the fact that the quality of Budweiser has set the standard measure for all bottled beers.

Anheuser-Busch officials report that they have orders for Budweiser beer from every civilized nation on the face of the globe. Such popularity could never be won with anything short of Budweiser quality. This quality, combined with the support of newspaper advertising, shows just what can be accomplished when a product of outstanding merit is backed by consistent newspaper advertising.

While the world is full of things that people want, it is up to the producers of these things to tell people about them and in doing so, Anheuser-Busch is using the medium of the daily newspapers, the medium most people read.

REST ROOMS FOR JUBILEE OFFERED

The solution of one of the major problems of Oregon's Diamond Jubilee celebration next June 3 to 9 is coming closer to realization through the cooperation of local organizations.

The Medford Christian Science church announced that arrangements have been completed for the use of the Jackson County Bank building for the benefit of women and children during the celebration. Attendants will be in charge throughout the entire day, also providing for the care of children. Rest rooms will be open to the public.

Reading material will be provided for visitors, including complete exhibits of the Christian Science Monitor.

Rest room facilities have already been offered by the Greater Medford club which has club rooms in the city hall and by the Salvation Army in its headquarters on East Main street.

SALEM, May 23.—(AP)—The executive's office announced today that the state board of control meeting next week will be held on Tuesday instead of Monday, as Governor Meier could not be here on the regular date due to an important state meeting in Portland.

ROY WEAVER PASSES CALIFORNIA EXAM TO ENTER LAW PRACTICE

Of interest to his many former friends, including several of his former school teachers in both Medford and Central Point, is the announcement that Roy A. Weaver, a former local boy, and son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Weaver, now in Sams Valley, has successfully passed the California state bar examination and will be admitted to the bar June 12. Mr. Weaver graduated from law school in San Francisco one year ago and took the bar examination last February.

Weaver graduated from Central Point high school in 1923 had two years at U. of O. He went to San Francisco in January, 1929, where, after taking a course in business college, he entered night law school classes. For seven months he worked in the American Trust company bank on Grand avenue, in San Francisco, then accepted a position as bookkeeper for a wholesale grocery company, which position he now holds.

Mr. Weaver is one of the self-made young men, who deserve much credit for his perseverance, determination to climb upward and the stick-to-it-iveness which has helped him gain his success. He was one of those boys who always had a job, even when a man had.

He successfully handled a Tribune paper route while attending high school, and was active in sports and all high school activities.

He was married in January, 1930, in San Francisco to a graduate nurse, and they, with their two-year-old son, Roy Bernard, make their home in Berkeley.

One brother, Carl E., who operated a Standard Station at Medford for several years, has been superintendent of Standard Sales, Inc., for more than two years, his territory including parts of Washington, Idaho and Oregon. His home is in La Grande, Ore. His brother, Earl, who is interested in the Sams Valley farm, at the present time is living in Medford.

FLOOD OF RELICS SENT FOR JUBILEE

Antiques and relics of long ago have been making their appearance with astounding regularity at Oregon's Diamond Jubilee headquarters in the Sparta building. Several hundred exhibits from all parts of the country have been on display for the past month.

One of the most interesting displays appeared at headquarters yesterday in the form of a "treasure chest," said to have been owned by Mary Howell, once a lady-in-waiting of Queen Elizabeth. The chest is made of oak and finished in linen tapestry and rosewood veneer. It is valued at $10,000 and until the celebration it was kept in a safety deposit vault in the Farmers and Fruitgrowers bank.

The chest contains numerous antiques, such as snuff boxes, knives, pin cushions, quartered hazelnuts, gravy boats and others. It is owned by the Jacksonville Antique Shop.

GANGSTER MOLL'S CASE PLACED IN JURY'S HANDS

ST. PAUL, May 23.—(AP)—The case of Evelyn Prechete, Dr. Clayton E. May and Mrs. Augusta Salt, charged with conspiracy to harbor John Dillinger, was given to a jury in federal district court today.

Judge Gunnar Nordbye told the jurors Miss Prechete was aware "at all times of the identity of John Dillinger," that he was an escaped convict and that he had stolen automobiles.

TICKETS ON SALE FOR SENIOR PLAY, 'TAKE MY ADVICE'

With the final practices on the verge of completion and stage settings all in place the members of the 1934 graduating class of Medford high school are marking time until the opening curtain of "Take My Advice," tonight at 8 o'clock, in the high school auditorium.

It was announced late yesterday that tickets will go on sale immediately. The high school student body is to handle all the tickets sale. Patrons of the high school are particularly urged to buy their tickets early so as to avoid that last minute delay that has so many times occurred in the past, causing them to miss part of the show in securing a ticket.

MISSOURI VETERANS ELIGIBLE FOR BONUS

Adjutant Ray Wright of Medford post, American Legion, has received the following from Oregon State headquarters:

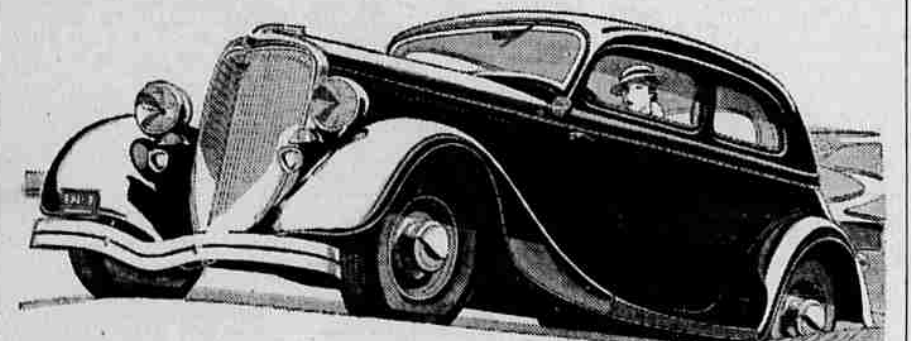

"We are advised that the state of Missouri is now paying a bonus of $10 a month to each ex-service man who resided in that state a year prior to April 6, 1917. Last date for filing application is December 31, 1934."

Oregon state headquarters has requested a supply of application forms and should be in receipt of them within the month.

HERE'S PROOF THAT THE FORD V-8 can "take it!"

FORD V-8s took first 7 places, Elgin 200-mile National Stock Car Race; Ford V-8s took first 10 places, 250-mile Gilmore Gold Cup Stock Car Race; Ford V-8s took first 10 places 150-mile Ascot Speedway Stock Car Race, and May 6 Ford V-8s took first 6 places, 250-mile Oakland Speedway Stock Car Speed Classic, under A. A. A. supervision. All within a year!

The reason for Ford superiority is simple. Like a racing car it has positive mechanical brakes, a Torque-Tube Drive, strong radius rods to give you safer, surer steering and to keep the rear axle in perfect alignment. But that is not all!

The Ford V-8 has a one-piece all-steel body, welded steel spoke wheels and safety glass. It is a safer car to drive at ordinary speeds because its safety is constantly being demonstrated at above eighty miles an hour.

Before you buy any car at any price, drive the Ford V-8.
