HOUSEWIVES SEEK NEW DISHES, SAYS COOKERY EXPERT

"Women never change," say our most profound students of human nature and, generally speaking, Estelle Calkins agrees with them.

But Miss Calkins, who will conduct the Safeway Stores Homemakers' Bureau course in "Kitchening" here for three days beginning Tuesday, May 29, finds that her work reaches close to the domestic desires of women and that recent years have shown a marked change in what housewives want to do and learn to do.

"In my most recent experience in handling cooking schools," says Estelle Calkins, "I have noticed that women have become increasingly enthusiastic about new, simple and delicious ways to prepare plain, everyday foods, and party refreshments. This, I believe, is due largely to changing economic conditions and to the increase in home entertaining."

Women are now buying foodstuffs more intelligently, Miss Calkins finds. In her experience, there appears an increasing preference for nationally-known brands, and a greater familiarity with such technicalities as cuts of meat, while attendance at cooking schools and attention to instructive magazine and newspaper articles has been definitely on the increase during the past few years, she points out.

Another recent change in women's interests, as noted by the prominent Safeway Stores economist, is that in candy and cookie making. Whereas, according to Estelle Calkins, women have, during the past decade, considered it "old-fashioned" to devote time in the kitchen to such creations, there is now a definite swing back to old-time habits.

PLAN BIBLE SCHOOL FOR VACATION DAYS

A daily vacation Bible school will be conducted at the First Baptist church, from June 11 to 22, according to announcement made today. Miss Louise Hunderup of Portland will be here as director, and will be assisted by a corps of efficient workers from the church.

The program will consist of music, Bible study, memory work, story telling, hand work and games.

All children are welcome to attend the sessions.

to every local housewife and prospective housewife to attend "Kitchening." The three-day course will be held in the Rialto theater, and will start each afternoon, beginning next Tuesday, promptly at 2 o'clock. Doors will open at 1 o'clock.
