

DROUGHT AND HEAT NOW MENACE LATE MID-WEST CROPS

CHICAGO, May 29.—(AP)—Drought and mounting temperatures threatened damage in the middle west today to late crops which had escaped previous ravages.

Wheat and other early crops already were beyond redemption in many sections and now the heat and continued lack of rainfall are reported to be periling all crops.

Reflecting conditions, grain prices yesterday soared wildly on the board of trade and livestock prices declined. Wheat moved up the limit allowed in one day, five cents a bushel, with May wheat halting at 98 1/4 cents. Corn swung up 3 1/2 cents, and oats also advanced the daily limit, up three cents. Rye was up nearly four cents and barley more than three.

Receipts of cattle were the largest since February. The run was swelled with large numbers of cattle from drought districts where pastures have dried up.

No substantial rains were reported in the middle west, except in a few spots in the Dakotas and northern Minnesota.

Forest fires, abetted by the drought, blazed over thousands of acres of Minnesota woodlands yesterday with temperatures ranging around 100 degrees. One man perished in the flames.

PARKED DYNAMITE ON DOCKS ARREST

PORTLAND, Ore., May 29.—(AP)—Charges of transportation and possession of high explosives in violation of a city ordinance were filed last night against John Bitte, 29, unemployed electrician, in whose automobile 204 sticks of dynamite and a firing device were found. His bail was set at $1000.

Bitte has insisted he knows nothing about the dynamite, and that two men stole his car. Bitte was reporting the car stolen when police discovered the dynamite in the machine which was parked in the waterfront district.

Electric Kitchen Attracts Interest

An "all-electric kitchen" which represents the acme of perfection in domestic kitchen equipment, is now on display in the lobby of the Copco home office building on West Main street. This is the first all-electric kitchen exhibit to be installed in this part of the state and it has already been inspected by hundreds of Southern Oregon residents.

The new Copco kitchen is equipped with all modern, labor-saving appliances such as the electric range, electric refrigerator, electric dishwasher, food mixer, ventilating fan, telechron clock and many small devices, such as percolator, toaster and waffle-iron. The scientifically arranged cabinets and drawers, which were installed by the Trowbridge Cabinet Works, represents the latest ideas in convenience and takes care of every need. The combination electric dishwasher and metal sink promises to make a hit with local housewives who dread the daily drudgery of washing dishes, and the attractive refrigerator and range are the last word in this popular electric equipment.

The illumination of the "dream-kitchen" is also worthy of special attention as it provides an abundance of shadowless light, free from glare, and at the same time enhances the beauty of the decorative effects, which are both clever and colorful.

Proponents of the all-electric kitchen idea have stated that in this new and modern addition to the home the housewife no longer has to do the work with her hands; she merely directs it. Electricity preserves the food safely and economically in the electric refrigerator, cooks the daily meals automatically without constant supervision, and even washes and dries the dishes much more efficiently than by hand. A snap of the switch and electric servants swiftly and silently accomplish the tasks that now require hours of time. In short, the "workshop of the home" where the average woman now spends one-third of her waking hours, becomes the most enjoyable room in the home—the new guest room of the house.

Refrigerator Big Help for Hostess

Some women seem to dread the social of entertaining guests, while others really enjoy giving dinner parties, luncheons and teas.

It's easy to gain a reputation as a good hostess when one has an electric refrigerator to help entertain. Dozens of delicious salads, frozen desserts and dainty loaves are so simple to prepare in an electric refrigerator and all foods can be preserved in such excellent condition. There is never any worry or doubt whether refreshments for a party will keep properly until ready to be served, and a plentiful supply of ice cubes for cooling beverages is always on hand.

To attain a reputation as a perfect hostess, the first step is to acquire an electric refrigerator. Many new and attractive models with all the latest improvements and refinements are now being displayed by local dealers, and terms are said to be the lowest in history.

PACKING THEIR KITCHENS IN TRUNKS

A COMPLETE kitchen that can be carried in a trunk! (Well, the kitchen range and refrigerator are not included.) Otherwise, this kitchen is a duplicate of the Safeway Stores' Homemakers' Bureau test kitchen. Homemakers attending the Kitcheneering course will note the colorful equipment used. Julia Lee Wright, director of the bureau, and her assistants are firm believers in color—the Testing Kitchen itself is a symphony in cherry red and cream. The first equipment ordered for the kitchen was a red tea kettle, acquired only after long search. To go with this bright red tea kettle, are creamy walls, built-in fixtures of leaf green and bright checked curtains in which red predominated.

So cheerful did Mrs. Wright and her assistants find this color scheme that it must go traveling with them throughout the West. The red tea kettle has become a sort of trademark for the Homemakers' Bureau. The Kitcheneers themselves have grown so fond of their cheerfully bubbling slogan they have hunted red tea kettles for their own homes.

BRUTAL SLAYING OF AGED EMPLOYER IS TOLD BY CHORE MAN

LOS ANGELES, May 28.—(UP)—The brutal slaying of Mrs. Ella Straw, 72, whose body was sewn in a sack and thrown into San Diego bay last October, was described today in an alleged confession by Telle McQuate, 41, arrested as a vagrant.

McQuate, an ex-convict, was quoted by police as saying he killed the aged woman in her San Diego home after a quarrel. He was held on suspicion of murder charges.

Sought for months in connection with the case, McQuate has lived here under an assumed name. He said he came to San Diego from Ohio, where he served a year in the state prison on conviction of bootlegging in 1924.

"Mrs. Straw gave me a job as handyman, and we had an argument," McQuate was said to have admitted. "I took a hammer and hit her on the head. Six days later I made a canvas bag and put the body in it. Then I took $250 from the house and came to Los Angeles in a cab."

The slaying was one of a long list of brutal homicides involving women and girls in San Diego.

Dishwasher Wins Approval Modern Woman in Kitchen

One of the newest arrivals in electric equipment for the modern home is the electric dishwasher recently perfected by leading manufacturers. With this wonderful new electrical servant it is said to be possible to wash a whole day's stack of dirty dishes, glasses, silverware, pots and pans in five minutes and at a cost of only a penny a day. The method is simple, the dirty dishes first being placed in roomy, rubber-plated trays. Then the cover is lowered, a faucet is turned, a switch is snapped and in a few minutes everything is washed spotlessly clean and dried with a sparkling luster. The dishes will be washed much cleaner than if by hand, for much hotter water than hands could possibly stand can be used in the electric dishwasher. It is estimated that this new appliance which eliminates the most disagreeable task in housework, saves more time than all other household appliances put together.
