ROGUES, ASHLAND PLAY WEDNESDAY

Medford's Rogues, tied with Grants Pass for the top spot in the Southern Oregon league, will journey to Ashland tomorrow, Memorial day, to tangle with the Ashland Eagles in what will be the first meeting of the two teams this year.

The game will be an exhibition affair as Ashland is not entered in the Southern Oregon circuit, and will be played at Fuller field, home of the Normal athletes.

Cliff McLean will probably do the hurrying for the Rogues with Joy behind the bat.

Goenell or Winkle will pitch for Ashland while Hartman will do the receiving.

Ashland's chief claim to fame is their two decisive victories over the Jacksonville Miners who early in the season dented the Medford team 10-9 in ten innings.

Next Sunday, the Rogues and Grants Pass draw a bye in the Southern Oregon league, though Haight is attempting to arrange a game with an outside team to be played at Jacksonville.

MINISTERS HOLD ANNUAL PICNIC

PHOENIX, May 29.—(Sp.)—Rogue River Valley Ministerial association held their annual picnic at Lithia Park in Ashland Monday. A picnic dinner was enjoyed with the Ashland Ministers' association furnishing the coffee and ice cream. The officers elected for the coming year were: Rev. R. S. Peterson, president; Rev. G. Stanley Hall, vice-president; Rev. W. R. Baird, secretary-treasurer.

Resolutions were passed deploring the attempt to lower taxes on tobacco and liquor, while simultaneously the taxes are being increased on flour, sugar, and staple food commodities. The further attempt to legalize gambling as a source of revenue was also regretted. It was further voted that copies of these resolutions be sent to the representatives in congress.

Whiskey No Cure For Spring Fever Is Judge's Ruling

BUFFALO, N. Y.—(UP)—Whiskey is no spring fever tonic. So ruled Judge Clifford J. Chip in finding John Schultz, 38, guilty of intoxication.

"It was like this, Judge," Schultz explained. "I got spring fever and when I get that way I feel blue, so I thought a couple of drinks would do me some good."

"Well, did it?" queried the court.

"No, I feel worse now," Schultz answered glumly.

"Well, that's settled then," the court opined. "Alcohol does not cure spring fever."

Spencer Tracy in Rialto Picture

"Now I'll Tell," written by Mrs. Arnold Rothstein, and featuring Spencer Tracy, Helen Twelvetrees and Alice Faye, plays at the Rialto theatre for three days starting tonight.

Here Tomorrow 'BOMBAY MAIL' HEADS ROXY DOUBLE BILL

Fast in the footsteps of William Powell and Olive Brook comes a new "detective" star in a suave and unusual role.

Edmund Lowe brings a startling new character—"Inspector Dyke"—to motion pictures.

Dyke is a suave inspector of British colonial police in India. He carries no magnifying glass, has no peaked cap, and doesn't take pictures of foot-prints in the course of his crime solving. His method is new and unusual. He studies character.

The Inspector is on the Roxy theatre screen in "Bombay Mail," which heads the double feature program, today and Wednesday.

One of the most daring, most revealing and most absorbing stories ever to be presented on a motion picture screen, "I Was a Spy," story of the actual wartime experiences of a woman agent for the Allied forces, is the second feature.

PENDLETON, Ore., May 29.—(AP)—An office of the Farmers' National Grain corporation will soon be opened in Walla Walla, and that office will be the buying agency for the territory served by grain growers' cooperative at Pendleton, Athena, Weston, Walla Walla, Walsburg, Dayton, Pomeroy and La Grande.
