

94 GIRLS AND 70 BOYS SENIOR HI GIVEN DIPLOMAS

Commencement exercises for the graduating class of 1934 were held in the high school auditorium Friday night, and in a beautiful setting of floral baskets and bouquets 164 seniors received their diplomas.

The 94 girls and 70 boys composed the largest class that has been graduated from the high school in several years, and presented an impressive picture, seated on a raised platform behind masses of flowers arranged at the foot of the stage.

A rendition of "Spirit of the Trees" by the high school orchestra opened the program, and the invocation was given by Rev. E. S. Hartman.

The valedictory address was delivered by Sabrina Thatcher, who won a sincere ovation from the audience by her simple message on behalf of the graduates and her acceptance of the challenge that the world issues the graduating high school student.

Seven Torch Honor society awards for scholarship were given to Sabrina Thatcher, Arletta Tyrrell, Irene Stubblefield, Doris Rose, Helen Crane, Arline Gossett and Dorothy Gore.

Diplomas were presented by M. B. Jarvin, chairman of the school board, and the senior boys' glee club offered a selection adapted from Heldeberg, "Medford High."

Benediction was given by Rev. Hartman and the exercises closed with the entire audience remaining to watch the distribution of flowers.

ROME, June 2.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini told 10,000 war volunteers today that Italy will fight her next war for herself alone and not on behalf of any other nations pretending to be her allies.

VANCOUVER, Wash., June 2.—(AP)—The Washougal river claimed its third drowning victim in three days when Ernest Tempier, 7 years old, fell from a rowboat near his parents' home yesterday.

CO-OPERATION WAY OUT TO RECOVERY WALLACE ASSERTS

LOGAN, Utah, June 2.—(AP)—Co-operation is the way out of America's present difficulties was presented by Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture, in the commencement address at Utah State Agricultural college today.

"We are having a conflict between cooperation on one hand and rugged individualism on the other," he told the graduates. "From this may come a higher synthesis—a conflict, if you please, between voluntary regimentation and Jeffersonian democracy, from which may also come a higher synthesis."

He likened the coming of the western pioneers to the Israelites who conquered Canaan, and said: "The ruggedly individual pioneer farmers, faced with the dire need of water for irrigation, soon developed a spirit of cooperation, between communities and later between states."

The conflicting contentions of today, he asserted, must be solved through a willingness to "come and counsel together," and he condemned those he said "plead a cause they know is unjust."

He blamed the rapid growth of the United States and its development from a debtor into a creditor nation for the present situation, and said two alternatives present themselves—to restrict production to domestic needs or restore foreign purchasing power.

Declaring "The AAA offers the only alternative until world trade conditions have been corrected," he said it is "meeting with disfavor" from producers, shippers and commission merchants.

He declared that probably in the future the program for restricted production must be coupled with a program to remove 50,000,000 acres from production, and added: "I suspect that even when the president gets his tariff powers he will not take any drastic action to restore foreign purchasing power."

LOSS BY FOREST FIRE DECREASES

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(AP)—Timber area destroyed by fire last year totaled 144,000 acres, "the lowest in a great many years," E. A. Sherman, associate forester told a house sub-committee on deficiency appropriations.

"The total value of timber destroyed last year was $334,758, as compared with $569,340 the preceding year and $3,652,241 in 1931," said Sherman.

The regular agriculture appropriation bill allows $100,000 for fire-fighting and authorizes the incurrence of a deficiency when necessary.

INDUSTRY EXHIBIT AT NATATORIUM

Practically every major industry in Oregon will be represented in the manufacturers' and industrial exhibit to be presented in the Natatorium throughout the length of Jubilee week.

All booth space was sold days ago, indicative of the interest this exhibit has aroused. Numerous outstanding displays will be shown with dozens of the booths giving away samples of products.

The exhibit will be open daily from 1:30 to 5:30 p. m. and in the evenings from 7:30 to 11 o'clock. Free entertainment will be provided.

T. J. BELL, PIONEER PASSES, AGED 91

Thomas Jefferson Bell a resident of Jackson county for the past 65 years, passed away near Talent Saturday morning at the ripe old age of 91.

He was born in Platt county, Missouri, December 20, 1842. He came west in 1865 and settled in California where he remained until coming to Talent in 1886.

He was married February 14, 1863, before coming west to Nancy J. Bain. Eight children were born, two of whom survive, Thomas J. Bell of Talent and Bert of Klamath Falls.

Also 12 grand children and six great-grandchildren. Also one brother, Albert Bell of Phoenix and one sister, Cordelia Richardson of Medford.

Mr. Bell was the homesteader of what is now known as the Golden Crest orchard east of Talent in 1867. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Monday at the Baptist church in Talent, with the Conger Funeral Parlor in charge. Interment in Phoenix cemetery.

Child Auto Victim LEBANON, Ore., June 2.—(AP)—Stanley Vernon Mays, 15, was fatally injured near here last night when a truck carrying nine children overturned four miles east of Lebanon. The children were en route home from the Lebanon strawberry festival.

SNOW FALLS HIGH CASCADES AREA

BEND, Ore., June 2.—(AP)—Snow was falling along the Cascades of central Oregon and in the Paulina mountains today, and the high ground was white even below the timber lines. Flurries of snow were beating across the McKenna pass summit.

An inch of snow covered the ground at Crescent this morning, and Black Butte, lofty volcanic cone in the Sisters district of the Deschutes national forest, was white to the base.

NORTHWEST CURBS FUNDS FOR ART

PORTLAND, June 2.—(AP)—The CWA paid $25,164 to 198 artists of the Pacific Northwest for work done under the federal works art project. It was announced here today by Milton A. Miller, collector of customs for Oregon. Miller was the paymaster.

Miller said the administration allotted $32,500 to this district, and that $6,336 was returned to the treasury.

BILL HANLEY TO JUBILEE BOOSTER

All of Oregon is jubilee conscious, is the belief of Bill Hanley, the not only well known but famous sage of the eastern Oregon prairies, who arrived in Medford yesterday to spend the entire week. Mr. Hanley, a brother of Alice Hanley, well known local resident of this valley, has been invited to take part in the pioneer parade next Thursday forenoon. He is enthusiastic over the prospect of the state celebration here and states one of the largest crowds ever in southern Oregon will be present.

GOVERNOR URGES ROAD COIN LIFT

SALEM, June 2.—(AP)—Governor Julius L. Meier today telegraphed Senator Charles L. McNary urging him to do all in his power to secure restoration of original appropriation of $400,000,000 for highway work in Cartwright bill.

The governor stated that "highway work is one of the most practical and beneficial programs for unemployment relief, and that plans for the Oregon highway program have been laid on the basis of original appropriation and the proposed drastic reduction will work severe hardship." Under the original act Oregon would receive about $6,500,000 for road work. If reduced half or one-fourth as amendments propose, Oregon's share would be reduced proportionately. The proposal to match some of this money by state funds would also be impossible, state highway officials have declared.
