

Medford Gunners Take Top Honors in Diamond Jubilee Trapshoot

MENDENHALL WINS MAIN TROPHIES IN GREAT EXHIBITION

Tribune Trophy, Jubilee Medal Taken With 146 Score — Newton, Bates, Jantzer Also in the Money

Shooting under pressure of severe competition of some of the best trapshooters in Oregon, Washington, California, Nevada and Utah, members of the Medford Gun club won first honors in every event at the Oregon Diamond Jubilee trapshoot at the local club's fine grounds north of the Medford airport yesterday. During the all day shoot it is estimated more than 1000 people visited the grounds.

Outstanding event of the day was the Oregon Diamond Jubilee championship for high score in the 100 sixteen yard event and the 50 target handicap, which was won by S. O. Mendenhall with 100 straight at 16 yards and a high score of 146 in the 150. The 100 straight gave Mendenhall possession of the coveted Mall Tribune trophy for the next year and the 146 score gave him permanent possession of solid gold diamond set Jubilee medal. Mendenhall also made the longest run of the day with 123 broken targets without a miss. It was a popular victory for Mendenhall as he has been a consistent supporter of the local club.

For class B shooters, and under Sid Newton of the Medford club won the handsome trophy donated by S. O. Mendenhall with a score of 96 out of the 100 targets at 16 yards. The trophy, a very large and handsome silver cup, is the finest trophy ever offered at a shoot of the local club.

The 50 bird free-for-all handicap event was won by Bill Bates, another pioneer shooter of the local club with the splendid score of 50 straight. Bates' shooting in the event was perfect, pulverizing every one of the 50 targets thrown for him. He also won the mias and out contest. Winning of this handicap match gave Bates the Chester Wood purse which is a continuous purse shot for by the local club once every year.

In the doubles contest George Jantzer, another Medford shooter, was victorious. Jantzer is a new member of the local club and one of the best shots in the organization. The prize for the high professional attending the shoot was won by L. R. Pickard, resident representative of the Western Cartridge Co., with a score of 142 broken targets contested for in the 100 bird 16-yard event and the 50-bird handicap. The win was a very popular one as Pickard shot against professionals from several different states to win the prize and has been a hard worker in the Medford club.

George Porter, one of the new members of the club, made the splendid score of 48 out of 50 in the handicap event, a very remarkable score for a new shooter.

There were eight squads of five men each in the handicap, six squads in the mias and out contest, and the mias and out contest.

The skeet contest was won by T. D. Wyatt, the only visitor taking a first prize at the shoot, with a score of 24 out of 25. Other skeet awards were as follows: J. B. Troeh second with 22, C. J. Martin third with 20, A. I. Moulton tied for fourth with 19.

Officers of the club said it was the largest and most successful shoot held in Medford for more than 20 years. Shooters from five states contested, some of the places represented being Ogden, Utah; Reno, Nevada; Del Monte, San Francisco, McCloud, Eureka, Yreka, Redding, Dunsmuir, and other California cities; Tacoma, Washington; and Portland, Eugene, Roseburg, Klamath Falls, Bend, Coquille, Ashland, Salem and other Oregon cities. It was especially gratifying to the Medford club that the shoot was so largely attended by visiting shooters from such a wide territory rather than being limited to practically local shooters.

The cash prizes distributed were great drawing cards for outside shooters but the trophies were the coveted prizes. Medford merchants and business men donated thirty special prizes that were distributed among the shooters. Nearly seven thousand targets were trapped during the day. Lunch was served on the grounds.

The shoot was excellently cashed by Earl Fry of the DuPont Powder Co., of Seattle, who is a veteran in this very important work.

BURLY KING KONG DUE TONIGHT FOR TUESDAY GRAPPLE

Big, bad, burly, boisterous Ted (King Kong) Cox, the meanest man the wrestling ring ever gave the world, is to arrive in Medford this evening. With his monstrous chest stuck out and his eyes full of glaring wrestling hate, he is out to show Charlie Hansen, Seattle mat artist, a thing or two at the armory tomorrow evening in a double main event bill as a part of Oregon's Diamond Jubilee program. Cox bears a reputation which makes him one of the most disliked men in the wrestling world today.

While he is credited with having some intelligence when it comes to holds, his brute strength is his main forte. He can throw a man across the ring and catch him on the bounce from the ropes. Hansen knows all this and more, giving him ample opportunity to prepare himself for anything the slow thinking but dangerous King Kong has to offer.

Cox has such a long list of victories to his credit, it would take him an hour or two to add them up on his fingers, his only means of manipulating mathematics. Hansen, whose handsome body has sometimes been compared with that of a Greek god, has brains, and he has planned some new holds to show the brawling Cox.

The veteran Ted Thy, master of the wristlock and once a world's champion in the light-heavyweight class, is appearing in the second main event against the good-looking Italian, Pete Belcastro, of Sacramento. Both men balance the scales around the 200-pound mark and each is out to win. Belcastro, whose attractive face is yet to suffer even a blemish, has appeared in the local ring often and has a large local following.

"Now down in Hollywood, the bigger they are the harder they fall," says "Ape" O'Donnell, whose movie famous 115 pounds are pitted against the 270 of Bob (Man Mountain) Burns in the first event of the evening.

"I've heard tell of this 'man mountain' who's never been thrown, but he's due to learn something, 'y'know, once I threw a man who weighed 300, he smiled when I got in the ring, but when I got through they were laughing, but not at me. The 300-pounder was out on his feet. He tried to come back after the first fall, but when I throw 'em they never come back."

Several hundred seats have been added for the Jubilee feature match in the armory Tuesday night, and the pass list has been suspended for the show.

OREGON HAS NEW TRAPSHOOT SLATED ASHLAND TUESDAY

QUEEN OF LINKS

JORTLAND, Ore., June 4.—(AP)—A new queen was crowned and the pulling king received new allegiance in Oregon's golf kingdom over the week end.

Mrs. B. E. Eva of the Columbia club of Portland won the Oregon women's golf tournament Saturday by defeating Mrs. George Jones of the Multnomah club, 3 and 2, in the 36-hole final, while Johnny Robbins of Alderwood course, Portland, retained his title by a decisive 13-10 victory over Lester Nichols of Lake Oswego in their 36-hole playoff.

The women battled keenly for supremacy. Mrs. Jones was one up at the end of the first 18, but trailed one on the 27th.

Robbins played superb golf. After shooting par or better all week, he was four under par for the first 18 Saturday, and Nichols, playing on his home course, Lake Oswego, never had a chance.

From Eugene—Mrs. Lee Hendrick of this city, arrived in Medford yesterday from Eugene.

ISAACS THROWS LONGEST FLY IN CASTING TESTS

Local Sportsman Outdistances Portland Experts in Jubilee Tourney—Many Participate in Events

Toggerly Bill Isaacs took first prize in the class B distance event of the fly casting tournament held yesterday forenoon at the specially constructed Bear creek pond, with an average for his three best casts of 108 1/2 feet. He was awarded a $40 Divine fishing rod. Isaacs, whose longest cast was 112 1/2 feet, was the "local boy makes good" of the tournament, as he stepped out in front of a field of experienced Portland casters and sent his fly an average of 10 feet farther than any of the outsiders.

William Block, president of the Portland Casting club, won a $30 Hardy reel for his score of 97 per cent in the wet fly accuracy frame, and L. E. Barnard, also of the Portland club, was awarded a $25 Wilson rod in the class A distance event, with an average of 98 2-3 feet for his three best casts.

Isaacs also placed first in B class of the wet fly accuracy event, winning a $12 tapered line for his percentage of 95. Dry fly accuracy honors went to Bozarth in class A, who was awarded a $5 sweater with a score of 90 per cent, and to Henry Pringle in class B, who won a $5 basket offered by Hubbard Brothers. In the 1/2-ounce plug casting accuracy event, Block won first prize, a $5 merchandise order at Al Piche's.

The tournament, the first of its kind held in Medford, was featured by the skill of the Portlanders, who exhibited much prowess with rod and line both in the accuracy and in the distance events. Toggerly Bill Isaacs, as chairman of the fly casting tournament committee, expressed enthusiastic appreciation to Wm. Block and the Portland club for their fine spirit of cooperation, interest, and good sportsmanship shown in the tournament. They traveled 60 miles to aid in making the event the success that a large crowd of onlookers declared it to be.

The club was represented at the tournament by its president, Block, its secretary, Charles A. Anderson, Tom Allen, who edits the "All-Outdoors" column in the Oregon Journal, and Bogart.

The other contestants and their scores were as follows: Distance casting, A class: Block, 90 2-3 feet; Anderson, 78 2-3 feet. B class: Aubrey Norris, 94 1/2 feet; Otto DeJarnett, 88 1/2 feet; O. Sturdivant, M. N. Hogan, Lewis Ulrich, H. H. Pringle, Bert Noblit.

Dry fly accuracy casting, A class percentages: Block, 95; Allen, 88; Anderson, 74. B class: Noblit, 82; Smith, 80; Norris, 79; Isaacs, 78; DeJarnett, 74; Sturdivant, 71; Ulrich, 69; Hogan, 62.

Wet fly accuracy casting percentages: A class, Allen, 95; Bozarth, 93; Anderson, 94. B class: Sturdivant, 86; Norris, 83; Hogan, 84; Pringle, 84; Ulrich, 81; De Jarnett, 79; H. Noblit, 74.

Five-eighths ounce plug accuracy casting percentages: Allen, 90; Pay Diamond, 82; Bozarth, 78; Anderson, 72.

Although the local anglers are not yet organized into a casting club, it is planned that one will be started in the near future, so that tournaments like the Jubilee event may be held on a regular basis. Participation in tournaments, says Mr. Isaacs, will do much toward the improvement of the participant's distance casting, delicacy and accuracy, besides providing for him the thrill of competition.

The Portland club announces that it will hold a casting tournament in connection with the Rose Festival association at Portland June 10, and the starting attraction of this year's Rose Festival. Clubs will compete from Seattle, Salem, and Tillamook. The Diamond Jubilee invitational meet was a regular part of their 1933 program.

KLAMATH GOLFERS BEAT GRANTS PASS

GRANTS PASS, June 4.—(AP)—Klamath Falls golfers get their revenge on Grants Pass Sunday when the local linksmen invaded Klamath territory and lost their tournament there by a 2-point margin, 18 1/2 to 20 1/2.

The outcome saved the Klamath golfers' feelings over their 33 to 7 defeat when they played the Grants Pass course earlier this season.

Nest Sunday the local golfers invade Roseburg, whose team was also defeated on the local course several weeks ago.

Yacht Endeavour Wins First Test

HARWICH, Eng., June 4.—(AP)—T. O. M. Sperry's America's cup challenger, Endeavor, today won her first full test race over a 37-mile course, leading the king's cutter Britania home by two minutes, 34 seconds.

Free demonstration.

Despite the victory the challenger's showing was regarded as not quite satisfactory. It was felt that the Endeavor should have won by a wider margin from the royal trial horse.

There's Power in a Gallon of Gilmore

Amazing as it may seem, there is enough potential energy stored up in a single gallon of the new Gilmore Red Lion gasoline to hoist the Jackson county courthouse more than 12 inches in the air. Through the controlled power principle, the combustion rate of this gasoline is so regulated that the piston absorbs this tremendous energy, and the greatest amount of power output is diverted to the rear wheels of the automobile, according to C. W. Ellis, branch manager of Gilmore Oil company.

"When the combustion rate is not controlled, the energy is released so fast that the pressure waves traveling with extreme velocity, much faster than the rate of travel of sound waves, strike the inner surfaces of the combustion chamber and cause a pinching sound or detonation," said Mr. Ellis. "These pressure waves traveling at such destructive speed under extremely high operating temperatures result in a loss of power and speed and are very detrimental to the mechanical condition of the engine."

"Controlled power through the elimination of detonation, instead of wasting this vital energy, diverts it evenly and steadily to the piston. Controlling the power makes it possible to derive the greatest amount of useful work from every gallon of gasoline which acts in the motor exactly like smokeless powder in a big 6-inch long range rifle. The smokeless powder does not explode, it burns evenly with a steady expansion.

MINERS AND ROGUES PULL OUT VICTORIES IN DOUBLE-HEADER

Playing the second game of a double-header on the Jacksonville diamond Sunday, the Jacksonville Miners made the Gilmore Lions say "down" when they went on a hitting spree to knock Pitcher Paul Hea—recently of the Miners—out of the box, final score resulting in a 10-3 victory for the gold diggers.

Neither side scored for three frames, but Sakrada, for Gilmore, poled out a home run in the fourth for the first tally. Manager Hall started a long string of runs for the miners when he angled, stole second and went home on a passed ball in the sixth.

Gilmore Lions, in a recent five-inning tilt, beat Jacksonville, 6-1. County teams, including Gold Hill, Ashland Eagles, Shorty Miles' Butte Falls timber cruisers, Gilmore Lions and Jacksonville are rated as of equal strength, each nine having taken about an equal number of wins and losses.

The Miners, however, are the only team to have set down Hal Haight's Medford Rogues, and Thursday of this week, on the Jacksonville field, the gold diggers will meet the powerful Rogues for the second time, in an effort to prove it was not a mistake.

The Medford Rogues hung up another victory when they took Shorty Miles' Butte Falls Loggers into camp, 8 to 4.

Bud Conlin went on the mound for the Rogues when Jack Hughes failed to make an appearance, and held the invaders to six hits and no runs.

TENNIS TOURNAY BRINGS DISPLAY OF FINE TALENT

In the first rounds of the Diamond Jubilee tennis tournament held on the junior high school courts yesterday, eight singles and four doubles matches were played to bring a brilliant field of tennis stars gathered here from along the entire coast, into the quarter and semi-finals, which are being run off today.

The singles events featured a game between Bud Deuel of this city and Wayne Sabin, of Portland, Canadian amateur champion, who won the encounter 6-4, 5-7, and 6-1. The 18-year old Portlander won from John Reddy of Gonzaga, inter-collegiate champion of western Washington and Idaho, 6-2, 6-2. Jimmy Johnson of Portland won from Rex Applegate, Roseburg and central Oregon champion, 6-4, 6-3.

In the remaining singles, Deuel beat Peterfield of Redding, 6-3, 4-5; Hartman, of Portland, beat Pruitt of this city, 6-4, 6-3; Cook, of Portland beat Brown, of Roseburg, 6-3, 6-0; Glascock, of this city beat Silva, of Redding, 6-3, 4-6 and 6-4, and Cook beat Kemp, of Bend, 6-3, 6-0.

The Deuel-Sabin match was a highlight of the singles events. The local player put up a hard game against the Portlander, but weakened in the deciding set under the steaming barrage of Sabin's drives. The Canadian champion also holds the championship titles of Oregon, Washington and the Pacific Northwest. He has been invited to play in the Forest Hills amateur national singles tournament, and is eyed as a possible Davis Cup team candidate.

In the doubles matches, Sabin and Johnson beat Ricksaker and Silva, 6-3, 6-4; Applegate and Kemp beat Wilson and Reddy, 6-3, 7-5; Boggs and Deuel beat Brown and Peterfield, 6-3, 6-3, and Hartman and Cook beat Pruitt and Glascock, 6-0, 6-0.
