

DROUGHT RELIEF IN FORM OF JOBS HELD ADVISABLE

Hopkins Says Not Good Policy to Give Independence Loving Farmers Donations—Food Not Short

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(AP)—A shift in federal drought relief, by which farmers will get paying jobs instead of dollars for feed and seed was proposed today.

While President Roosevelt was personally asserting it a federal duty to aid those in distress, his relief chief—Harry L. Hopkins—expressed to congressmen from affected states a feeling that it was not good policy to donate to farmers who had been independent all their lives.

"We believe it is better to give them cash benefits so they can make their own decisions regarding feed for their stock and seed for their crops," he said.

Keep Crop Restriction.
Meanwhile Chester Davis, farm adjustment administrator, apparently checked a move by the legislators to adopt a resolution asking the farm administration to lift crop restrictions to permit growing of forage crops on contracted acreage. He said the department was willing to go that far only when farm leaders and department representatives in the field reported it necessary.

Davis said the majority of farmers in the corn-hog control program regarded their contracts as "serious things" and were not ready to have them abrogated.

At present conference, in connection with preparations for his request that congress vote $525,000,000 for drought relief, the president spoke of the tens of thousands of families affected by the drought. There need be no fear of food shortage, however, he emphasized.

Many Get Relief.
To the meeting at the capitol, Hopkins said his relief agency would be caring for 300,000 families in drought territory by the end of the week and that 150,000 of these were already deriving a living from work projects. It was explained earlier that the program would include work on roads, conservation of water supplies, soil erosion and similar projects.

He estimated more than a million persons were receiving government benefits as the result of the drought.

In reply to a suggestion that the relief administration should not pay too high a wage level in farm areas, Hopkins said he had no intention of setting up a big public works program "at miserably low wage rates" as long as he was "running the show." He added there would be no "exploitation of the people" because of the situation.

Under the work program, he said, farmers will be paid a minimum wage of 20 cents an hour, the scale above that to be determined by the states on the basis of existing schedules.

FURNITURE HEIRLOOMS INTERESTING DISPLAY FOR JUBILEE VISITORS

The old time furniture and pioneer relics exhibited at the Baldwin piano shop during the week have proved interesting to local people and visitors.

On Tuesday a fine display of old quilts was given and Mike Katherine Smart read a splendid paper on this art of our great grand mothers. Many beautiful quilts are a feature of the showing.

Several new pieces of furniture have been added during the week, among them a chair made by Father Williams, early day Presbyterian minister. The chair is made by hand and has been in use for more than sixty years. The seat and back of the chair are made of rawhide and, like most of the old hand made furniture, it is held together by wooden pegs. No nails were used in its structure. It was a gift to the late Mrs. Walter Goll and was always used by her for her bed room rocker.

Mrs. Sander contributed bound volumes of the "National Magazine" published in New York in 1850, 1857, 1858. These contain many items of interest of that period, the first cablegram over the Atlantic fist, the discovery of gold in Oregon, an item on fruit production in our state, mention of the depression of 1857 and comments on the rarity of moral men in public life. Also amusing comments by a masculine writer on the feminine styles of the day.

The exhibit will be open every day during the Jubilee including Saturday evening when the dress review will be repeated for the benefit of those who did not see it on Monday. A number of new dresses have been added to the review.

CRESCENT CITY ADDS TO PIONEER PARADE

Crecent City was well represented in today's pioneer parade through efforts of the Crescent City fire department, members of which today brought over several entries for the procession.

One party from the coast town yesterday brought over a stage coach on a truck under auspices of the fireman. The party was composed of William Stinson, William Marshall, Capt'n Ches Cutting, Ray Odell and Hank Giddings. Giddings rove the stage coach in the parade.
