

FIFTEEN PLANES FROM 'FRISCO TO ATTEND JUBILEE

best riders in all divisions will compete for grand prizes. Some hard competition is expected and it is probable a number of new riders will be taking part, arriving today from numerous northwestern points.

The night show is the first of its kind ever attempted in southern Oregon, and promises to present performances long to be remembered.

Pagant Finale Tonight
The object of praise from the thousands who have already witnessed its wonderful presentations of Oregon history, "Over-Under-Go" (Land of Plenty), will be shown for the last time tonight at the fair grounds. City dwellers who have seen the pagant declare it to be worthy of any metropolitan area—a masterpiece in every detail.

Southern Oregon residents and local people who have not as yet seen "Over-Under-Go" are urged to do so tonight. Seating arrangements have been completed for 4,000 people, and in view of favorable weather, a capacity crowd is expected again tonight. This production, along with the pioneer parade of yesterday and the agricultural parade of today, has made history for Medford and southern Oregon. From henceforth, this section will be remembered for the grand success of its jubilee celebration.

Queen Ball Draws
The "Queen's Ball" at the army was well attended last night. Dance Chairman Harold Larson announced this afternoon prices have been greatly reduced for tonight's dance event. The army has been beautifully decorated for the jubilee party and has adequate space for hundreds of couples. The final dance will be presented tomorrow night.

Hundreds of visitors were in Jacksonville yesterday viewing the historic buildings and exhibits of pioneer relics. They were present from every section of the country, and were particularly interested in the back yard gold mining activities in the old mining settlement. The operators of these mines had purposely waited for clean-up operations until yesterday to demonstrate how "clean-ups" are effected. All mines produced fair values of gold.

Old Bank Magnet
The Beckman bank was of particular interest to visitors who saw the interior of the old building exactly as it appeared 50 to 70 years ago when millions of dollars in nuggets and gold dust passed over its counters. The United States hotel was another mecca. There, it was recalled, President Rutherford B. Hayes spent a night in 1880 and was charged $100 for the privilege by Madame Holt, pioneer French hotel woman. The oldest Methodist church west of the Rocky mountains was visited by hundreds, as well as the Brunner building, the oldest brick building in Oregon still standing.

With all buildings breathing of historical significance, visitors carried with them impressions they shall never forget. The citizens of Jacksonville co-operated 100 per cent with the jubilee committee in making the celebration the great success it has proved to be.

Parade Today's Feature
Today's events were featured by the agricultural parade this forenoon, one of the longest ever seen in southern Oregon—a true complement to Parade Chairman R. G. Fowler and his committee members—A. E. Brockway, George Andrews, Edwin Taylor, O. C. Maust, C. C. Hoover, Albert Straus, Floyd Charley, Arnold Bohner, L. H. Gallatin, W. E. Davies, Otto Fuhrman, Eugene Moore and Fred Homes. The county granges were represented 100 per cent.

Chairman Fowler this afternoon took opportunity to thank all participants for their co-operation. The Diamond Jubilee celebration attracted special delegations today

Babe Ruth Hurt By Pitched Ball Striking Wrist

NEW YORK, June 8.—(AP)—Babe Ruth was painfully injured today when he was struck on the arm by a pitched ball in the sixth inning of the Yankees-Philadelphia game. The ball, first pitched by Fiohr, who had just taken the hill for the Athletics, struck his right arm near the wrist. The Babe dropped to the ground, was barely able to rise and wobble to first with the assistance of Doc Pflanter, Yankee trainer, then left the field.

from Roseburg, Grants Pass, Bend, Klamath Falls, Weed, Yreka and other Oregon and northern California points. Eugene was well represented and its large delegation announced the big Sunset Trail pageant in that city July 25, 26 and 27. Cal Young, one of Lane county's best known residents, was in the agricultural parade this forenoon as well as a marching delegation of the Eugene Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Cavemen in Line
The Grants Pass Cavemen followed plans of the big Fourth of July celebration in the Climate City next month. They appeared in their traditional costumes and made a colorful appearance. Numerous cars arrived from Bend, Ore., and told the world of a roundup and celebration there early next month, while another group told of plans for the well known Lakeview roundup next fall.

This co-operation for Oregon and northern California points is deeply appreciated by Medford, southern Oregon and jubilee committee, and these sections are assured they can expect the same whole-hearted co-operation from this section.

With tomorrow the last day of the jubilee, all county citizens can look upon the celebration with rare pride. It has made history for this section. Outside visitors say it has attracted more attention than any other event exhibited in Oregon for years.

The mining and industrial exhibits are open today and tomorrow, during the day and in the evening. Over 10,000 visitors have been counted in the exhibit building and several thousand more will be counted before the exhibit closes its doors tomorrow night. Exhibit Chairman Charles L. Studwell, of the Mystery House, who has spent many days' hard work along with other committeemen, said this afternoon.

Chairman Studwell also announced mining talks will be presented at 1:30 tomorrow afternoon, featuring W. H. Lydiard and Walter Robinson of Medford. This will be followed by general mining discussion.

Will Pan Gold
A gold panning demonstration will also be offered during the afternoon, with real gold mixed up in the gold and sand to be used. The gold found in the pan will be given away. The gravel is from the Van Golden and Green mine on Main street in Jacksonville. This material has regular gold carrying qualities and will be panned, with a lecture accompanying the demonstration.

The industrial exhibit is attracting capacity crowds to the Natatorium, where merchandise gifts will be given away to visitors. Free entertainment is also being offered to all visitors at the exhibit, composed of one of the most complete displays ever seen in this part of the state.

Other attractions of the celebration will be in operation tonight and Saturday, including concessions, carnivals and the Indian village. Most of these are centered around Main street between Main and Fir streets.

Make That Dream Come True!
Have you dreamed of a HOME? Not just a home, but a HOME, with a big green lawn, lots of shade and shrubbery, climbing vines and roses, a family orchard and berry patch, rose garden and other flowers galore and plenty of garden space to raise all your own vegetables?

Can you picture in this setting a modern, two-story well-built house in splendid condition, with seven well-ventilated airy rooms—all with cross ventilation—bath rooms on both floors, a fine sleeping porch, concrete cellar, an A-1 heating plant and a triple garage? And this located on Capitol Hill with a wonderful view all around you?

Such a HOME is available on very favorable terms at about 60% of new replacement cost. May we show it to you?

FORESTRY EXHIBIT EYED BY THROGS JUBILEE VISITORS

Approximately 600 people visited the forestry exhibit in the Hogan investment Co. building yesterday to inspect various displays that make it one of the most interesting of the jubilee features.

Visitors are acquainted with the use of equipment for the location and suppression of fires, and are furnished literature on the resorts at Diamond Lake, Lake of the Woods and the Oregon Caves, through the co-operation of their respective managers, George Howard, U. G. Smith, and George C. Sabin.

Panoramic photographs taken from the various forestry lookout stations, arranged in groups of three, present views of the entire surrounding territory of each peak, encompassing 360 degrees. A fire-finder, such as is used in lookout stations, is exhibited, as well as a forest service radio set used to report fires from a distance up to 15 miles and a back pack pump used to extinguish swamp and snag fires.

A map eight feet square of the territory extending from Roseburg to Diamond Lake and from Lower Klamath lake to the Oregon Caves, is also included.

One of the most attractive features of the exhibit is the use of branches from various forest trees to decorate the room and lend an out-of-doors atmosphere.

FARMERS' PICNIC FOLLOWS PARADE

Farmers of Jackson county held a basket dinner in the city park this noon, as part of the Diamond Jubilee and filled up on country goodies.

An estimated crowd of 1200 watched the Grange drill execute their maneuvers. The Central Point Grange which won the right to enter the state grange contest, went through their evolutions.

A program arranged by the Pomona was given.

One of the largest turnouts of Jackson county rural life in the history of the city was attending the jubilee program today.

FORESTERS TALK FIRE PREVENTION

PORTLAND, Ore., June 8.—(AP)—Nine forest supervisors of the Douglas fir territory were gathered here today to discuss ways and means of preventing the disastrous forest fires which each year destroy hundreds of dollars' worth of Oregon's finest timber.

Yesterday the group studied provisions of the lumber code, and today private owners and operators were called in for conference on fire problems. The code requires that all snags in logging areas comprising green timber be felled. C. J. Buck, regional forester, said one of the main causes of fires is the presence of snags in forests.

The dress review is sponsored by the P.-T. A. will be repeated Sat. evening at 8:45, as many people employed during the day were unable to see the display the first time. The review will be given only once and will include many dresses not previously shown. A charge of 15c is made for this showing.

QUEEN JOYCE WITH PRIME MINISTER

TEMBLOR LEAVES L. A. UNHARMED

LOS ANGELES, June 8.—(AP)—No damage had been reported today following an earthquake which shook a large area of central and southern California at 2:45 p. m. last night, although observers at the Carnegie Institution's seismological laboratory in Pasadena described it as severe enough to wreak considerable havoc in the epicenter.

The quake was felt in only a small portion of this city, but Fresno, Hanford, Bakersfield, Santa Maria, San Luis Obispo, Buellton, Santa Barbara and Ventura all reported the shock was quite severe.

RAIL TELEGRAPHERS WILL MEET IN SALEM

SALEM, June 8.—(AP)—Telegraphers and station agents in western Oregon will meet in Salem Saturday on the 48th birthday of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers. It was announced here today.

MAHONEY TOO BUSY TO TELL INTENTIONS IN COMING ELECTION

KLAMATH FALLS, June 8.—(AP)—Willis E. Mahoney, mayor of Klamath Falls, said today he was "too busy with local affairs to discuss politics."

This statement was offered in answer to a query if he would be a candidate for congress, second district, on the independent ticket. Mahoney was defeated for the democratic nomination for governor at the primary election.

Considerable speculation has been connected with Mahoney since his defeat. At this time, he said, he would not declare himself either way as to the congressional race now involving Representative Walter Pierce, democrat, and Jay Upton, republican candidate.

The mayor also refused to comment on the gubernatorial race. Since Mahoney polled over 30,000 votes in the primaries, it is expected his endorsement will carry considerable influence at the general election.

LITHUANIA REVOLT SOON SUPPRESSED

LONDON, June 8.—(AP)—The revolt of Prof. Augustinas Waldemaras against the Lithuanian government has been suppressed completely and Waldemaras is held in jail on a charge of treason, according to dispatches from Baltic points.

(A German news bureau report from Kaunas, capital of Lithuania, stated that 20 army officers were arrested with the leader of the uprising.)

The fate of Waldemaras, former dictator of the nation, rests with Lithuanian authorities.

Aroused by the recent wave of lawlessness, leaders are expected to offer to the next Texas legislature bills simplifying and speeding up procedure in criminal court cases.
