TEACHERS PLAN WORK, STUDY IN VACATION TIME

Plans for the summer vacations of the members of the high school faculty include many interesting trips. Some of the local instructors will spend the summer vacationing at distant points, others will devote their time to teaching or studying, and still others will spend their vacation months at home.

The Diamond Jubilee held the interest of nearly all the faculty members, and those who were able remained in Medford longer than is usual to take part in the celebration.

Mrs. "Jerry" Jerome, typing instructor, will leave with her husband and Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Alenderfer next Thursday for a trip to a Shriners' convention in the east. They will visit Chicago and attend the convention in Minneapolis, spending a month for the trip.

Miss Lora Mitchell, bookkeeping and shorthand instructor, hasn't definitely decided on plans for the summer, but will either attend the University of Washington or go on a trip to Alaska.

Darwin K. Burgher, coach, will be employed in the forest service at Crater Lake for the summer.

Miss Maurine Carroll, dean of girls, will spend the vacation months at Oregon Caves, where she manages the chateau dining room. She also spent last summer at the caves.

Miss Carin Degermark, girls' physical education instructor, will be the physical director at a girls' summer camp near Seattle, Wash., where she also spent last summer.

Miss Doris Baier, English instructor, will leave for the east and her home in Dubuque, Iowa. She will then continue to Cornell University in New York, to study for her master's degree.

Miss LaVera Moe, bookkeeping and typing instructor, will spend the summer at her home near Corvallis.

Miss Myrna Barrett, librarian, has not made plans for a trip this summer, and announces she will stay in Medford.

Miss Eula Benson, instructor in mathematics, said she has not decided on what she will do during the summer months.

Miss Louise Hollenback, art instructor, who recently received an art scholarship at the University of Oregon, will go to Eugene after a visit at her home in Los Angeles.

C. G. Smith, principal, will spend the summer in Medford to aid in the superintendent's office during Superintendent Hedrick's illness. His brother-in-law will be in charge of the resort concession at Lake of the Woods.

C. D. Thompson, instructor in general science, is at present at Diamond Lake for a few weeks outing.

Miss Harriett Baldwin, music instructor, will teach during the summer months at the Southern Oregon Normal school summer session.

Mrs. Wilma Kincaid, French and English teacher, formerly Miss Wilma Manly, will leave for Skagway, Alaska, to join her husband, who is connected with the White Horse-Yukon Pass railway.

Miss Josephine Kirtley, assistant principal and history and civics instructor, with her sister, Jacquoise, left last night to spend the summer in Los Angeles.

Ed Kirtley and his family will go to Eugene for most of the summer months, as will Miss Marie Ridings, mathematics instructor, and Mrs. Glennie Mae Early, who left for the university city yesterday for a few days.

Mrs. Gertrude Gates, instructor in domestic science, left last Friday night for Montreal, and will stop en route at San Francisco, Chicago and Minneapolis.

1095 CCC SLATED FOR JULY DISCHARGE FROM DISTRICT OF MEDFORD

Early in July, a total of 1095 Civilian Conservation corps men in the Medford district will be discharged, having completed their 18 months, or five quarters, the length of service in the CCC, according to announcement at the district headquarters today.

Of this group there are 482 local experienced woodsmen, enrolled in Oregon, and 28 from California. Of this number, about 204, or 40 per cent, may be re-enrolled.

In the junior class (young men between the ages of 18 and 25), there will be 188 Oregon men discharged, 110 Californians, 285 Illinois Juniors, one from Kansas and one from Nebraska. Under the CCC regulations, none of this class may be re-enrolled, but new men will be taken in to fill the vacancy.

Men from the east, who are being discharged, will leave here July 1, and the men enrolled in the Ninth corps area, which includes Oregon and California, will be discharged on July 10.

Enrollment of the new men will take place between July 1 and 31, according to Lieutenant Robert H. Soule, adjutant at CCC headquarters. The enrollments, he pointed out, will be carried out as previously, through local relief agencies.

A study at Washington university, St. Louis, showed freshmen ate more than upper classmen and vegetables were the favorite type of food among medical students.

LIQUOR, TRAFFIC CASES HEARD IN COLEMAN COURT

Charges involving violation of the liquor laws, and the traffic regulations occupied the attention of Justice of the Peace William R. Coleman's court this morning.

James M. Moore, local resident, charged with reckless driving, was fined $25 and costs, and given 30 days in jail, upon a plea of guilty. The state police report showed that Moore, with two companions, had driven a Hudson sedan on the Crater Lake highway Sunday, narrowly averting an accident, while traveling 60 miles per hour.

Moore admitted the charge, but asked for leniency.

The court, in sentencing Moore, commented, "There is money for gasoline, for beer, for amusement, money to go places, but none for fines."

He was ordered committed to the county jail.

Edgar W. Wolfolk, charged with reckless driving on the Pacific highway yesterday, will appear later today.

Andrew Johnson of Grants Pass, who plead guilty a week ago to drunken driving in this city, was fined $50 and costs, and paroled. Johnson's employer agreed to pay his fine at the rate of $20 per month. A large number of Grants Pass residents signed a petition recommending leniency, and attesting his good character during the past two years.

J. Frank Stroud, of this city, charged with sale of liquor, asked time to consult a lawyer and bail was fixed at $500.

Henry H. Dynge and wife, charged with sale and possession of liquor and the maintenance of a nuisance at a house at 26 Cottage street, will be given a hearing tomorrow. They are at liberty on $1000 bonds.

Buck Edwards, charged with disorderly conduct at a local beer parlor last Sunday night, is scheduled to be given a hearing this afternoon. Edwards, a jubilee buckaroo, is alleged to have "teased" the special deputy in the resort, in the course of which Edwards pulled out his jack-knife. A citizen called the state police, who promptly nabbed Edwards. While being escorted from the place, police say Edwards' pal yelled:

"Come on gang! Let's rescue Buck," and made a rush for the state troopers. The pal, P. Cecil, was also arrested.

Old School Boys at Reunion.

BOSTON.—(UP)—The old school boys of the Eliot school, mostly octogenarians, recently observed the 121st anniversary of their alma mater. Eliot school was founded in 1713 by John Eliot, apostle of the Indians.

Oregon Weather.

Fair tonight and Tuesday, but fogs on coast and scattered thunder showers in high mountains Tuesday afternoon; continued warm; gentle northwest wind offshore.

COUNTY BOURBONS ARE SURPRISED BY UPHEAVAL REPORT

Jackson county democracy was much surprised this morning to read in the Oregonian, in a "special dispatch" to the metropolitan daily, words to the effect there was an uprising brewing, and great disgust in their ranks, and that the political snickerees in these parts were being sharpened for General Martin, the party nominee for governor, and R. R. Turner, the selection for congress.

"My gracious!" said Attorney Evan Reames, a southern Oregon democratic warhorse of long standing, when apprised of the alleged weakening in the faith, "there never was a time when the Jackson county democrats were so much together. There is peace. There is even harmony in the county central committee."

Citizens who know their Jackson county democracy, can only recall a few times when there was harmony in the county central committee.

Other leaders of the local democracy affirmed emphatically that Jackson county democrats are united behind all democratic candidates from constable to congress.

The "special dispatch" averred that the speech of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, a week ago, failed to impress the local democracy, and cited the lack of applause as proof. There was not much applause for Secretary Wallace. This is explained with the claim the democrats were too busy listening to clap, and they were awed in the presence of cabinet greatness. The democrats like everybody else, say the secretary made a good speech and they understand the world situation better. All were well pleased and not angered by the words of the distinguished visitors.

Jackson county democrats "poohpooed" the article, and are looking for its author. The local democracy will also write the editor of the Oregonian a letter, and demand a retraction of the charge there is an upheaval in their midst.

Clothes on Fire—City fire department was called to the residence at the corner of East Eleventh and South Front streets at 1:35 this morning, to extinguish some clothes which had caught on fire. The owner could not be aroused to open the door, and firemen entered the home through a window. Little damage resulted from the blaze.

Wagner Leaves—Lieutenant Selas E. Wagner, who has been stationed with the Medford CCC district as motor transportation officer is leaving this evening by train for Fort Benjamin Harrison, his regular station, where he has been ordered to report. Lieutenant Wargner is on leave of absence, and will report to the fort on June 25.

Visitors in Medford—William Tugman, manager editor of the Eugene Register-Guard, accompanied by his family, spent the week-end in Medford for the Diamond Jubilee.
