

PEAR IRRIGATION IMPORT STRESSED IN ROTARY TALK

Problems confronting pear growers of the Rogue River valley were briefly discussed at today's luncheon-meeting of the Medford Rotary club at the Hotel Medford by W. W. Aldrich of the United States department of agriculture. Mr. Aldrich, whose headquarters is in this city, compared the pear crops from Rogue River valley orchards with those of other prominent coast fruit districts and stressed the importance of irrigation as a solution to the problem of increasing production.

From fifty to sixty gallons of water are consumed in one day by a normal pear tree. Mr. Aldrich pointed out in discussing the importance of plenty of water for fruit orchards. Most of the soil of this valley is sufficiently rich in tree foods but water must be plentiful if the tree secures enough food to assure good production, he said. Mr. Aldrich's department has also devoted considerable effort toward the reduction of blooms in the interest of healthier trees and increased crops.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Rotary club last night, arrangements were made for Glen Smith, president-elect of the club, to attend the Detroit meeting of Rotary International as official representative of the Medford Rotary club. Mr. Smith is well qualified to represent the club here at the international session as he has been actively identified with Rotary work for several years in Medford and on the coast.

In recognition of his winning the famed Pulitzer award for the most meritorious and disinterested public service rendered by any newspaper in the United States during 1933, Robert Uhl of the Medford Mail Tribune was presented a life honorary Rotary membership by the Medford club. This action followed a unanimous vote of the club at today's meeting.

Miss Irene Stubbfield, who has won scholastic honors in Medford high school, was awarded the Rotary cup for this year for forensic ability. Presentation of the cup was made by Glen Smith.

SERA SUPERVISOR FOR PLAYGROUND

Through the educational program of the S. E. R. A., the city playground at the scout headquarters on East Main street will be put under supervision every day, except Sunday, from 11 a. m. until 7 p. m. It was announced this afternoon.

Games, story telling and other entertainment will be afforded, and safety while playing is insured, so that mothers may feel free to allow their children to spend the day at the grounds.

Also of interest to mothers is the announcement that a story hour will be conducted by the children's department at the public library every Friday, starting at 10:30 a. m. for boys and girls between the ages of 5 and 10 years. Parents, however, are requested not to remain with their children during the program.

BAPTIST BIBLE SCHOOL PROVING BIG SUCCESS

The Daily Vacation Bible school, now being held at the Baptist church, is proving a great success, under the efficient leadership of Miss Louise Hunderup of Portland. The beginners' department is led by Mrs. L. K. Knox, with very able assistants; primary department is being led by Mrs. E. E. Wilson and her assistants. Miss Hunderup is directing the junior work, assisted by trained workers.

Any child interested in the work of the school is cordially invited to meet with us each day, from 9 to 12 a. m.

Visit in Portland—Hazel Oliver of this city left on the Shasta this morning for Portland, where she will visit for two weeks.

Sails To Record

Harold Dillingham, Hawaiian sportsman, sailed his 76-foot schooner Manuila from Honolulu to Los Angeles in 15 days, breaking all sailing records for an eastbound trip. FARMERS DRIVE FAMISHED HERDS TO NEW PASTURES

Lean and gaunt from their starvation diets in drought-seared pastures, dairy cattle in parched areas of Wisconsin are being moved many miles, afoot or by rail or truck, to more verdant pastures. This herd from Turtle Lake is shown on the trail to a cattle camp at Bruce, Wis. (Associated Press Photo)

FLUHRER TO BARREL SUPPLY OF BERRIES FOR MAKING PIES

Fifteen thousand pounds of various types of berries will be purchased by Fluhrer's Bakery from Rogue River growers during the next few months as a result of experiments last winter with frozen fruits, it was announced today.

The bakery last year in connection with the Medford Ice and Storage company conducted a number of tests with fresh fruits such as strawberries, raspberries, loganberries, blackberries, etc., and found that by fast freezing immediately after picking that many fruits were preserved for a period of months without loss of any of the qualities of the fresh fruit.

As a result this year Fluhrer's Bakery has purchased the entire crops of some growers and will freeze fresh berries of all types for use in pies for the coming fall and winter. Heretofore all fruits which have been used have been purchased from canneries in various parts of the coast. Thus in addition to using much superior fruit for pie use Fluhrer's are furnishing a market for fruit which has not existed heretofore.

During the past week four women have been kept busy at the bakery stemming 4000 pounds of strawberries purchased from the Ditsworth farm at Prospect.

"We are very much pleased with the results we have had from fruits frozen experimentally last year and have had many compliments from our customers as to the superior quality of pies made from this fruit," said Mr. Fluhrer in commenting on the use of the new type freezing process.

Has Operation—Dorothy Pittenger, route 4, underwent a major operation at the Community hospital this morning.

DARROW CHARGES SECRET CHANGES MADE IN CODES

The report covered 13 codes in all. Included were the petroleum, electrical manufacturing, retail goods and grocery and other fair trade practice codes, but the most serious criticism revolved around the lumber and boot and shoe codes.

Some of the higher-ups in the NRA, in most instances unnamed, came in for criticism. Transfer of the assistant deputy administrator for lumber, whose name was not mentioned directly, was recommended because of what was termed a lack of training and experience among other things.

The report slipped out with but little of the fanfare that attended the issuance of the first. Submitted to President Roosevelt several days ago. It has yet to be made public formally.

Several copies became available in newspaper channels, however, and were quickly published. The first report, containing more startling recommendations and more general criticism, became a center of national interest before its publication because it was held up to allow Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, to make a reply at the same time.

The present report urged immediate revision not only of the boot and shoe industry code, but also the retail trade code. It said changes also were made in that agreement after approval by the industry and prior to the promulgation by the president.

YOUNGER VOTERS AND WOMEN WILL BE WOODED BY GOP

"One issue will be that it will rest on their shoulders to pay this huge national debt being piled up." The new chairman received newsmen in an office at committee headquarters in which the name of Everett Sanders, the last chairman, still appeared in gold letters.

Just before nearly half a hundred reporters filed in, Representative Hamilton Fish of New York remarked: "The Republican party is still alive. We'll go forward to victory." Sitting on the edge of his desk, Fletcher said Chicago would be the western headquarters of the party but that Washington would remain "the clearing house."
