

STATE TRAPSHOOT TO BE HELD HERE IN COMING YEAR

Local Scattergunners Make Fine Record at State Shoot in Portland — 'Chance' Brewer Juvenile Champion

Although they failed by only four targets in 500 shot at to capture the annual state shoot of the Oregon State Trapshooters' association concluded at Portland on Sunday, the Medford club came home with the main objective accomplished, the state association shoot scheduled for Medford in 1935, and the election of T. E. Daniels, the president of the local club, as president of the state association. It was the first time in many years that the presidency of the association has been selected outside of Portland.

Mendenhall Near Title

As usual, the Medford shooters gave a good account of themselves in the contest, the old reliable S. G. Mendenhall breaking 185 targets out of a possible 200 for the state championship, which went to the invincible Frank Troeh with a score of 195.

The Medford club's junior shooter, "Chance" Brewer, won the state juvenile championship for shooters 16 years of age and under with a score of 80 out of 100 targets, the second shooter in the event breaking 75. Four boys entered in this event for which a very fine silver trophy was awarded.

Pickard Pro Winner

L. R. Pickard, a member of the local club and resident of Medford, won the state handicap for professionals on Sunday with a 92 per cent score on the 100 targets, while Geo. Porter, one of the club's new shooters, had the very fine score of 95 out of 100 on the 16-day event on Friday.

The better scores of some of the Medford shooters at 200 targets were as follows: H. Croissant, 192; C. W. Wood, 190; Sid Newton, 191; William Bates, 190.

Medford club shooters attending the tournament were: Sid Newton, Bill Bates, Dan Daniels, Hank Croissant, S. G. Mendenhall, Geo. Janzer, Dan Hayes, Ed Pease, George Porter, Chester Wood, C. M. Brewer Sr., "Chance" Brewer, Dr. Low, Ed Lamport and L. R. Pickard.

The local shooters returned home much elated by leading that the local club enjoyed the reputation in northwest trapshooting for the liveliest organization in the association during the past year and enjoying the largest paid-up membership, Plan Big 1935 Shoot.

While the Portland shoot was one of the most successful in many years and the largest state shoot in the United States during the present year, indications are promising for an even larger shoot at Medford in 1935 where it is expected the purses will exceed the Portland purses by several hundred dollars.

At Portland, 176 different shooters contested during the tournament, while 145 shot the full 100-bird 16-day event on Sunday. Frank Troeh of Portland, Guy Chiesman of Spokane, Ted Renfro of Dell (Mont.), C. N. Ford of Del Monte, and other crack shots long internationally famous, contested and expressed their intention of coming to Medford for the 1935 shoot. About 90,000 targets were thrown in the four-day Portland event.

THYE AND KRUSE FACE FIRST REAL GRAPPLING TEST

So far as local wrestling fans know, the match tomorrow night at the armory between "Terrible" Ted Thye and "Broccoli" Bob Kruse will be the first time the pair has ever agreed to twist arms in a real test. Thye, former wrestling instructor at the M. A. C. in Portland, taught Kruse the rudiments of the art of muscle mauling and they have both made their headquarters in the Portland area since.

Kruse proved an apt pupil and, due to the physical training received in his younger years, soon outdistanced his teacher in height and weight. In addition to the knowledge of holds received from his former mentor, Kruse picked up a great deal of wrestling lore on his own account and is rated today as one of the best heavyweights on the coast.

Thye has been a consistent winner for years, going about his work with a skill and bulldog tenacity which seldom fails to click. In addition to the Kruse-Thye brawl, Promoter Mack Lillard has matched Chief Little Wolf of Colorado, master of the Indian deathlock, a spectacular and effective hold, against Louie Miller, colorful San Francisco grappler, for the first event on the double-main event card.

VICTORY FOR BAER A SURE CINCH IS CALIFORNIA HUNCH

Example of Stanford, Little and Dutra Cited in Sports World — Main Bout Is Stated at 6 P. M., E. S. T.

Result of the Carnera-Baer championship fight will be available at the Mail Tribune office as soon as the bout is over Thursday evening. Because of the broad-casting of the blow-by-blow account over NBC the Mail Tribune will not provide this type service.

By ALAN GOULD

Associated Press Sports Editor
NEW YORK, June 13.—(AP)—It's no trouble at all for anyone playing the "California hunch" this year to pick Max Adelbert Baer to chop down the ponderous Primo Carnera and bring back the heavyweight championship of the world to the U. S. A. tomorrow night.

College track and field honors already have been taken back to California by Stanford, Lavon Little and Olin Dutra have contributed golfing guests to the Golden State's sporting harvest this spring and the brawny California Bears rank among the outstanding favorites for the Poughkeepsie regatta this week—so why not continue the parlay with the pride of the bellies, Baer?

It has been a long time since California was the capital of heavyweight flaccidness, unless the transplanted Coloradoan, William Harrison Dempsey, is added to the illustrious championship list headed by James J. Corbett and James J. Jeffries. There has been a long time, too, since anything developed so many fantastic angles as tomorrow night's brawl between the former circus freak and the motion picture playboy, but that won't prevent Californians, and the Hollywood colony in particular, from backing Baer to clout his way to the championship.

Baer's Stock Rises

A week ago, so much fuss was made over Baer's apparent lack of condition as a result of Boxing Commissioner Bill Brown's whistle-blowing that the happy-go-lucky Californian's chances took a sharp dip. Today, with increasing signs of interest in Carnera's camp followed by the fact that the champion has developed a sore throat, it appeared Baer's support would rally to the extent of making him close to an even-money choice by the time they climb into the ring in Madison Square Garden's "sunken bowl" tomorrow evening.

The conviction has rapidly grown with the approach of the fight that Carnera, rather than Baer, will be the victim of uncertain condition. Whatever his shortcomings may be, the Californian has crowned himself into a happy state of mind and anticipation. He talks blithely of flattening the big man in less than six rounds. He has the punch to do it, if he can connect.

The main go is slated for 6 p. m. (P. S. T.) and will be broadcast over an NBC network.

FOX TECHNICALS ECKLUND IN 8TH

PORTLAND, Ore., June 13.—(AP)—The weight and experience of Tiger Jack Fox of Indianapolis proved too much for Sig Ecklund and he scored a technical knockout over the Portland fighter in the eighth of a scheduled 10 round fight here last night. But for all his nine pound advantage, Fox, 176, could not knock Ecklund, 167, down.

The crowd warmed to the great midget of Jack Hibbard of Klamath Falls who proved even wilder than "Wildman" Johnny Higgins of Portland and won their six-round slugfest.

Whitey Neal, 127, Portland, and Rio Dunaquiles, 127, fought four furious rounds to a draw. Al Spina, 117, Portland, outpointed Ken Parker, 120, Verona, in four rounds.
