Virginia Gregory Is Bride of Mr. Cook In Church Wedding

In an impressive ceremony, performed at eight o'clock Thursday evening by Rev. William R. Baird, Miss Virginia Gregory, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Gregory of Medford, and Ralph L. Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Cook of Yakima, Wash., were united in marriage at the First Christian church, before a large gathering of their friends.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore white satin and lace, made floor length, princess style. Her veil was of plain tulle, held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms, and her shower bouquet was of pink rosebuds.

Miss Marjorie Gregory, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a frock of pink taffeta with flounces shirred to each side of the skirt at the knee. She carried a bouquet of sweet peas.

The frocks of the bridesmaids were fashioned the same as the maids of honor. Miss Geraldine Latham wore light green taffeta, and Miss Jean Woodford was attired in pale yellow. Both carried bouquets of sweet peas.

Wayne May, who came here from Oakland, Calif., was best man, and the ushers were Gerald Latham and Charles Smith.

Rose petals were strewn down the aisle by little Vera Frances Smith, who wore pink ruffled organdie.

Proceeding the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Marmie E. Olson sang Cadman's "At Dawning," and Miss Eleanor Curry sang as a solo, "Because." Miss Genevieve Brown was at the piano, and also played Wagner's Wedding March from Lohengrin.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the Gregory residence, 829 East Jackson street, to which forty guests were invited. Serving were Miss Betty Gully and Miss Roxie Anna Fry, with Mrs. P. C. Latham and Mrs. Mabel March assisting about the rooms. The house was decorated in bouquets of sweet peas.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding and reception were Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Cook and daughter Miss Vera of Yakima, and Mrs. G. C. Orms and daughter, Jean, of Nampa, Ida.

For traveling, Mrs. Cook wore a two-piece print suit, with white accessories. The couple will be at home to their friends in Medford, following a three weeks wedding trip south.

Resplendent in her royal robes is Queen Myra, who ruled over the 1934 Rhododendron festival at Ashville, N. C., June 13 to 15. In private life, she is Myra Peyton Lynch, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Lynch of Ashville and a prominent member of the younger set. (Associated Press Photo)

Violin Ensemble at Baldwin Piano Shop

Victor Levy, violin instructor of Medford, presented 25 students in a violin ensemble Thursday evening at the Baldwin Piano Shop to a capacity audience. It was a delightful event, listening to the children and their remarkable renditions of difficult music.

They are well trained for orchestra work as well as solo, and the audience was appreciative of their efforts.

There were a few changes in the program. Cyril Sander and Miss Lola Frazer, who were to be guest piano soloists, could not appear. However, their teacher, Sebastian Apollo, well-known pianist of Medford, played two beautiful numbers, "Rigolotti," by Liszt, and "Valse Chromatic," by Godard.

Mr. Levy promised the audience another recital in the near future to which we are all looking forward.

Those participating in the ensemble were Roland Varner, Robert Greaves, Stanley Jones, Doris Wade, Lillian Lynum, Olive Eldridge, Nola Harwood, David Luman, Ray Wolff, Joyce Freed, Viola Cleven, Glen Jewett, Mabel Jewett, Glen Reed, Robert Taylor, Mary Udine, Janice MacDonald, Chloee Elson, Virginia Hammond, Ernest Winkle, Edward Cove, Harriette Wilson and Edwidge Gray.

The following program was given:

Invitations Issued, McDonald-Parsons Wedding June 27th
Of interest to many Medford society folk is the approaching wedding in Seattle June 27 of Miss Elizabeth Pearl McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. McDonald to George H. Parsons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald H. Parsons who has just returned home from Harvard.

Invitations have been issued to the marriage ceremony, which will be performed by Miss McDonald's brother, the Rev. Frederick McDonald, assisted by the Rev. Sidney Morgan and to the reception following at the home of Captain and Mrs. James Griffiths.

A recent issue of the Seattle Times says of the wedding plans: "Miss Mary Bowne Parsons will be Miss McDonald's maid of honor and Mrs. John Curtis Blackford, Jr., matron of honor."

Miss Marjorie Lou Russell of Minneapolis and Miss Mary Lou Sanders, a cousin of the bride, will serve as bridesmaids, while the niece and nephew of the bridegroom, little Natalie Tootell and Geoffrey Tootell will be flower girl and ring bearer, respectively.

"Mr. Reginald Bemis Parsons who arrives June 22 from New York, will act as his brother's best man and ushers will include the Messrs. Lyman Tondel, John Schwager, Arthur Ayers and William Newhall and Bayard Getchell of Medford, Or."

To attend the wedding from Medford, Mr. and Mrs. Bayard Getchell and William Newhall will motor north with Mrs. Delroy Getchell. Upon their return here, Miss Gloria Getchell will accompany them.

The Parsons family, who spend a portion of each summer at the Hillcrest orchard home here, is well known in this city.

The W. C. T. U.

At the Girls' Community club rooms beautifully decorated with flowers arranged by Mrs. Berry, the W. C. T. U. held its annual Flower Mission day with a good attendance.

As this was also Flag day, the program was divided between the two subjects. The devotional period was led by Eleanor Todd with Helen Wilson at the piano. This part consisted of hymns, prayers and a fine talk by the leader.

With the playing of "The Star Spangled Banner" the second part of the program was given, under the leadership of Mrs. Berry. Clarabelle Jenkin's sang very ably a song of "lower day." Rev. E. A. Oldenburg gave a short talk on the flag, saying that our organization works effectively toward a stainless flag.

Doris Wade, accompanied by her mother, delighted all by two very fine violin numbers. Mrs. Bigler gave two beautiful readings, which were much appreciated.

At the business session further plans were made for the rummage and baked food sale to be held June 22 and 23. A county institute will be held in the Little park in Ashland July 14.

Mrs. Russell had a birthday this same day so she was surprised with a beautiful cake. Refreshments were served and the social was enjoyed by all. Flowers were then taken to a number of people who were ill.
