Yvonne Devaney Is Charming Bride at Wedding on Friday

At an 8:30 o'clock ceremony Friday morning in the Sacred Heart church, Catholic, Miss Yvonne Devaney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Devaney, became the bride of Joseph Dugan, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Dugan. Reverend Father Francis W. Black officiated.

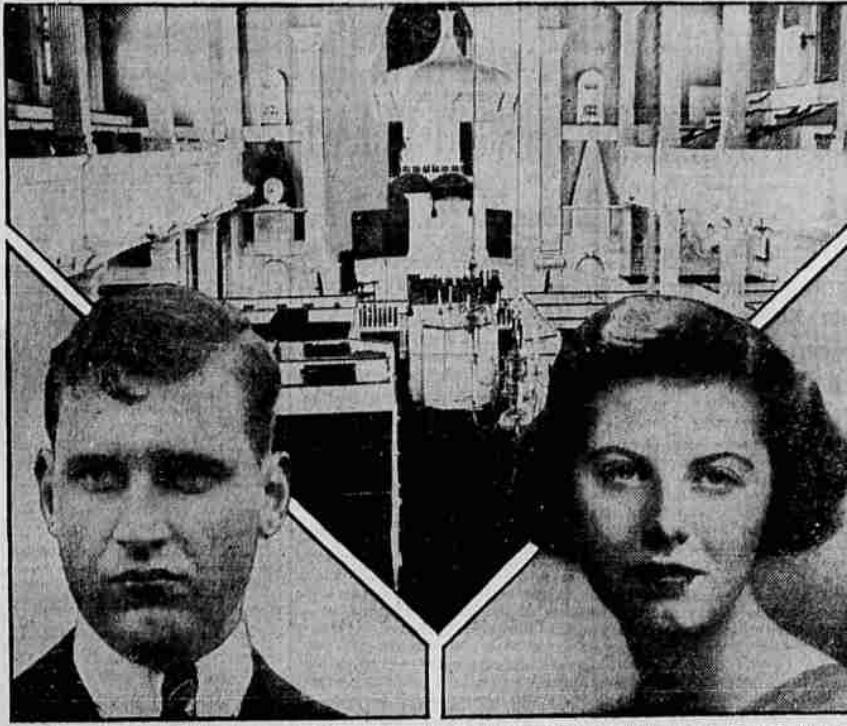

The bride was charming in white satin, with a long veil caught into a cap bordered with orange blossoms. She carried a white prayer book from which hung a white marker. Her maid of honor was Miss Mildred Dugan, sister of the groom, who wore yellow organdy. The bridesmaids were Miss Lucille Barrett, who dressed in blue organdy, and Miss Genevieve Devaney, who was attired in pink organdy. Both wore organdy picture hats matching their dresses, and bouquets of summer flowers.

Richard Dugan was best man for his brother, and ushers were Joe Marshall and Henry Fisher.

Miss Martha DeSouza, as the organist, played "Marche Romaine," by Granov, as the processional, and "Alleluia Con Moto," by Sheppard, for the recessional. During the service, Mrs. Zita Maddox sang "Fons Angelicus," a Gregorian chant, and "Ah, Whence to Me the Bliss."

After the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, to which a number of their friends were invited. Mrs. W. H. Fisher and Mrs. Dugan assisted Mrs. Devaney.

Marry in Haste

Maria Moore knew later what the rest of the old saying meant, learned "by heart" its bitterness... regrets. But the illness of Bob Powers' mother proved her courage, her spirit, her enduring patience. Old Mrs. Powers saw more clearly than Bob as he and Maria practiced their kindly game of deception, saw too what the called the "signpost of Maria's fitness."
