

SLAPSIE MAXIE DROPS DECISION TO RAMAGE IN TEN-ROUND BOUT

LOS ANGELES, July 11.—(AP)—Slapsie Maxie Rosenbloom's ring years hung heavily on his shoulders today.

A clever Californian named Lee Ramage, not entirely unknown to the heavyweight ranks, outlasted the world's light heavyweight champion here last night in a 10-round non-title bout to walk off with Referee George Blake's decision before 5000 persons.

It was a fast fight, coming on the heels of their draw here two weeks ago. Ramage, something of a ring craftsman himself, forced the battle from beginning to end.

Rosenbloom held a slight edge going into the eighth round, time and again lashing out with his stiff, slapping right to the head.

Sensing his opportunity, the San Diego youth scorned his customary caution as the eighth opened and by the last of the tenth had Rosenbloom draped on the ropes, clinching and defending as best as he could.

Ramage held a pound and a half weight advantage, coming in at 186.

KAYOES FEATURE AMATEUR FIGHTS

PORTLAND, Ore., July 11.—(AP)—Despite use of larger gloves than previously, 10 of 22 Pacific coast amateur boxing championship bouts here last night ended in knockouts.

Eleven went the new five-round limit to judges' decision, and there was one default.

A great favorite of the crowd was 126-pound Joe Stone from the Los Angeles Athletic club. His left hand, said to be educated by the former heavyweight champion, James J. Jeffries, scored two knockouts last night in four rounds.

He knocked out Dan Gaddy of the United States Indian school at Phoenix, Ariz., in three rounds, and stopped James Stewart of the Merloms Athletic club of Vancouver, B. C., in one round.

From this "take" the state receives $28,200 on the basis of a 2 1/2 per cent "cut" of total wagers. In addition, the state gets $18,000 from the Kennel club for a 60-day license and $410 from owners and trainers in license fees.

MAJOR LEAGUERS RETURN TO WORK

By the Associated Press.
Major league baseball returns to normalcy today after a two-day lay-off while the all-star debate was being concluded to the fans' delight, if not to the National league's entire satisfaction.

All eight clubs will swing back into the National league pennant fight, but only two games were booked for the American.

The New York Yankees, setting the American league pace, a half game in front of the Detroit Tigers, were to begin their second western trip against the Cleveland Indians, while Detroit entertained the fifth place Washington Senators.

In the older circuit, the league-leading New York Giants, two games in front of the Chicago Cubs, took their stand at the Polo Grounds against Pittsburgh, in fourth place and 7 1/2 games out of first place.

NAVY RECRUITER TELLS LIONS OF WAR EXPERIENCE

A. P. Walker of the naval recruiting office, stationed at Medford, was guest speaker at the Lions' club luncheon held at the Colonial club this noon.

Mr. Walker gave an interesting talk on his experiences during the World war. His main topic concerning the returning of the U-111, German submarine, one of the submarines captured by the allies and assigned to the United States through the Versailles treaty.

He relates that during the return trip to the United States the submarine was in charge of Lieutenant-Commander J. W. McClellan, one of those killed in the crash of the dirigible Akron.

Walker stated that the submarine was lost from its mother ship en route to the United States during a storm which lasted for five days, and the boat was to have crossed the Atlantic in 10 days. The submarine was first set on a course directly across the Atlantic, but was thrown off the course and forced to take the northern path. While on this longer route, the fuel oil tank sprang a leak and dripped into the tank of fresh water that was supposed to be used for drinking and washing.

However, there was an emergency tank for drinking water but none for washing, and the men went for about 16 days without washing. It took the men 28 days to bring the boat to harbor.

While they were entering the Hudson for docking, they discovered that the fuel tanks were exhausted and that the water tanks were also exhausted, along with the food. The power of the boat was shifted to the batteries and it was taken to dock under that power.

Mr. Walker stated that there is one thing about the whole affair that he will always remember, and that is that when the submarine docked he went to a barber shop and asked the barber to shave off this "one-dollar beard." The barber charged him one dollar and a half for the shave.

POLICEMEN FIRE WHEN UNION MEN BLOCKADE RAILS

shooting occurred, sent in a call to central headquarters a short time later for 500 rounds of shotgun ammunition and a supply of gas bombs. Between 700 and 800 pickets had concentrated in the terminal area. About 350 police were on duty there.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—(AP)—National guard troops fired two shots to frighten prowlers away from the cold storage plant on the waterfront, headquarters of the guard reported today.

The prowlers were observed in the vicinity of the plant last night and the troopers immediately ordered them away, firing two shots into a brick pile to emphasize the command. The prowlers immediately fled.

No report of the incident was made by the battalion commander, who was reprimanded severely by Col. R. E. Mittelstaedt, in command of the national guard which is maintaining order on the waterfront during the maritime strike.

Colonel Mittelstaedt said the pickets of the striking maritime unions had given the troopers no trouble.
