

ROGUES TO PLAY EWAUNA AT K. F. COMING SUNDAY

Games Will Be Mere Formality So Far As Pennant Concerned—Only Four Tilts Left On Schedule

By BILLY HULEN

Grants Pass	9	2	218
Medford	6	5	245
Ewauna	4	6	394
Shaw Bertram	2	8	182

Shaw Bertram at Grants Pass. Medford at Ewauna. So far as the Southern Oregon league pennant race goes, games next Sunday will be merely a formality, as Ken Williams' heavy hitting Grants Pass Merchants have the consolation game practically stowed away for the 1934 season.

With only four games remaining on the schedule, the Merchants are a full three games in front of Medford, in second place, and only a complete collapse of the leaders could see the championship go other than to the best bush baseball city in the state—Grants Pass.

Nevertheless, fans should witness some good battles next Sunday. Ewauna will try to repeat their win of last week over Hal Haight's Medford Rogues and this time they will have the added advantage of playing on their home field. Carstrom will start the fast balling for Ewauna with Biana behind the bat, while for Medford, Jack Hughes or Bill Sargent will pitch and Billy Calvert, the great little 16-year-old catching sensation, will receive.

After almost a month of bickering, protesting and appealing, the Shaw Bertram-Ewauna game of June 17, which Shaw Bertram won, 11-7, and which Ewauna protested, will be replayed. A. C. Nittinger of Ashland, president of the league upheld the Ewauna protest and ordered the game replayed, but Shaw Bertram appealed his decision and the facts were placed before L. H. Gregory, sports editor of the Portland Oregonian for final decision. Gregory ruled the same as Nittinger so the replay will be July 22 and will be the second game of a double header and limited to seven innings.

Fourth of July games indicated the brand of baseball played in the Southern Oregon league, in comparison with the northern California set-up and the strongest independent team in this section. Shaw Bertram, in the S. O. L. cellar, defeated the Weed Redmen, 8-2, who are in second place in the California circuit, which has nine teams, and Ewauna won from the Klamath Pelicans, 12-11.

'Leftist Movement' Gains Headway Among Coast's Young Slab Stars

By RUSSELL NEWLAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN FRANCISCO.—(AP)—In the matter of young pitching blood this season the Pacific Coast league has undergone a definite swing to the left.

Southpaw mound rookies stand out in the big far western Class AA loop. They're young in years but old timers in experience. Ken Sheehan and Jimmy Rego, both 20 years old and not long out of Oakland, Cal., high schools, are among their first season in organized ball but each has had many years of semi-pro experience.

They are rated as prospects of the first water and both hustled into the role of regular in their opening year. Sheehan, somewhat under-sized as men of baseball go, stands a foot 7 inches and weighs a mere 150 pounds, but the San Francisco Seal owners say he is two years further advanced than was Vernon Gomez when the present Yankees' ace came to the Seals as a clumsy fledgling.

"Another Wilbur Cooper" In mound action Sheehan is likened to Wilbur Cooper, the one-time Pirates' star. The young fellow has fair speed and curves and plenty of courage under fire.

Rego was signed by Oakland as a high school boy two years ago but remained in the bush circuits at home until this season, when the Oaks, desperately in need of pitching help, outtraded him with a Coast league uniform. He made good from the time he fired the first ball across the plate and now the management covets this 5 foot 9 inch youth who weighs 170 pounds as future major league bait.

Unlike his teammate, Sheehan, the Rego boy can make the ball smoke and at the same time he is blessed with good control. Rego was a semi-pro teammate of Harry ("Cookie") Lavagetto, rookie second baseman, now making good with the Pirates, and the Oaks signed the pair at the same time.

Sullivan On Tiger "String" Hollywood is preparing 23-year-old Joe Sullivan for a big league career but already there are strings attached to his husky southpaw from Manette, Wash. The Detroit Tigers, who sent him to the coast on option, have first call on his services.

Sullivan has traveled the baseball trail a bit longer than either Sheehan or Rego. Last year he played for Beaumont in the Texas league. His coast performances stamp him as a polished workman in the matter of minor league play. Sullivan is the biggest of the southpaw trio, bulking 175 pounds and standing 5 feet 11 1/2 inches.

STATE FAIR PROFITS $12,187 ON DOG RACES

SALEM, July 12.—(AP)—The Oregon state fair will receive $12,187.50 of the state's share of the first month's receipts from dog racing in Portland, Max Gehlan, director of agriculture, announced yesterday. The state will receive $28,500, or two and a half per cent of the total, $1,128,019, plus license receipts amounting to $18,410.

Three of the Pacific Coast league's most promising young men this season are left-handed pitchers. Ken Sheehan of the San Francisco Seals is not very big, but he has a style like Wilbur Cooper's and plenty of courage under fire. He and Jimmy Rego (upper right) of the Oakland team are both just 20 years old and not long out of Oakland, Cal., high schools.

In second place is Herman Wakeman, flashy Shaw-Bertram first baseman, with an average of .390, although Billy Calvert, 16-year-old Medford catcher, is hitting .492 in three games for the nominal second spot.

Paul Hoffer is the actual Medford leader, with .308. Grants Pass, in addition to leading the league in percentage, also is the heaviest hitting club in the circuit.

LAVA BED ROADS TO BE FIRST JOB IN DEVELOPMENT

LAVA BEDS NATIONAL MONUMENT, Cal.—(Sp.)—Tentative plans for the development of the Lava Beds National Monument by the national park service were told this week by park officials. The improvement of roads will offer one of the main projects, to be followed by other developments in the due course of time.

While the present roads in the monument have been in use for some time, the proposed improvements will provide motorists with more direct accessibility to the numerous points of interest. A loop route of 35 miles in length is planned for motor trips taking visitors to and by the outstanding lava caverns and to the historical Indian battle grounds where a group of 71 Indians battled hundreds of soldiers for more than five months before finally surrendering.

One of the main entrance roads leading from the north boundary of the monument, reached from Merrill, Klamath county, to Indian Wells, lava beds headquarters, is also to undergo extensive improvements. It is probable co-operation will be forthcoming from other agencies to improve the route from Merrill to the monument boundary line, facilitating motor trips to this scenic attraction.

Composed mostly of lava flows, the 45,000 acres of the area is without flowing water, necessitating plans for the provision of a water supply. It is probable test wells will be drilled to determine where the best supply will be available. In view of the composition of the area, water will probably not be found until a depth between 500 and 1000 feet has been reached.

Engaged for the last two or three weeks making a general geologic survey of the monument, Dr. Carl Swartzlow, ranger-naturalist and geologist, has learned numerous bits of interesting information concerning the area. In a short time he is to make a report which promises to be of general interest concerning the lava beds, of which the public as a whole has not yet a general understanding.

Word has been received by friends in Medford of the birth, July 8, of a son, named Stewart Frederick, to Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Walker of Pasadena, Cal. The Walkers will be remembered by many in Medford as the family in the Union Creek fire last summer, in which one of their children was fatally burned, and Mr. Walker suffered severe injuries. The fire was caused by the explosion of a gasoline stove.
