

NINE AMATEURS GARNER CROWNS IN RING TOURNEY

112-Pound Chippewa Indian Scores 19th Knockout in 20 Fights to Win Final in Coast Amateur Fiesta

PORTLAND, Ore., July 13.—(AP)—Nine youths today wore mythical crowns forged in the heat of three nights of fierce, gory battling in the Pacific Coast amateur boxing championships.

The fights were scheduled for five two-minute rounds with judges' decision at the end. No draws were permitted.

But little Julius Fleck of Portland didn't wait for a decision. He knocked out Wesley McLennan of Portland in the first round to win the 105-pound title.

Johnny Martin, 112, Chippewa Indian from Phoenix, Ariz., scored his 19th knockout in 20 fights when he stopped the clever boxing Jimmy Camarillo, California state champion from Los Angeles, in the second round.

118-Pounder Has Class
In a beautiful exhibition of scientific boxing, George Crammell of San Francisco annexed the 118-pound championship by outpointing Julio Robletto of Los Angeles.

George Riddle, Spokane, Wash., southpaw, gained the necessary margin for the 126-pound championship by knocking down Joe Stone of Los Angeles in the third round of their bout.

Earl Booker of San Jose punched too hard and accurately for Harry Moyer of Portland. Booker won an easy decision for the 135-pound title.

The classic of the entire tournament was the 147-pound final between rugged George Spiller of Seattle and Edie Booker, California state champion from San Jose. A draw could not be awarded, so the slight edge was given Spiller for his ruggedness and courage to face the fight and withstand Booker's well-aimed punches to land heavier but less frequent ones himself.

Fred Graham of San Francisco landed a jarring blow in the final round to gain a margin over Ed Gralik of Portland for the 160-pound championship.

Californian Clever
Bill Perusick of Butte, Mont., won all his preliminary fights by knockouts, but was unable to land his heavy punches on the clever Earl Baumgardner, California state champion. Baumgardner's superior boxing ability gained him the 175-pound crown.

The heavyweight crown went to the blond head of Roy Babich, University of Montana mauler, who knocked out every opponent he faced in the tournament. In the final he knocked out Tom Gann, 34-year-old boxing instructor from Vancouver, B. C., in the third round.

The fighter originally scheduled to represent the Meraloma club of Portland was inadvertently knocked out by Gann in a practice bout. The lad became discouraged and would not enter, so Gann upheld the honor of the British empire.

In the semi-finals Gann won a surprise knockout victory over Tobbe Hepp of Spokane.

Gann held his own against Babich until dropped by a heavy blow in the third. "Jolly well put, old boy," he said immediately after the fight.

ROGUES TO PLAY IN K. F. SUNDAY

Three games behind the league-leading Grants Pass Merchants, Hal Haight's second-place Rogues will travel to Ewauna next Sunday and battle on the Boxmakers' home diamond in an attempt to reverse the outcome of last week's game and salt down at least one more win before the remaining four games are run off, to end the 1934 season.

Shaw-Bertram will meet Ken Williams' Merchants at the Climate City on the same date in a match between the leaders and the trailers of the pennant race. Only a washout could take the lead away from the heavy-hitting Merchants, who have been credited with the title of the best bush league in the state.

In the Medford-Ewauna clash, Jack Hughes or Bill Sargent will pitch and Billy Calvert, the 16-year-old sensation, will receive for the Rogues, while Carlstrom will pitch and Blanas will catch for the Boxmakers.

Cue King Coming

Johnny Layton, world's champion three-cushion billiard player and a former world's pocket billiard champion, is to appear here at Brown's Billiard Parlors, Wednesday afternoon and night, July 18.

Layton is considered one of the greatest all-around players in the game. He has held the three-cushion title 11 times, with a high run record of 18 in national competition at three-cushion billiards.

Following a series of match games in which Layton will meet the best local cue stars, there will be a lecture on three-cushion and the diamond system. Fancy shots will be given at both three-cushion and pocket billiards.

Admission will be free, and the public is invited to attend.

CONLON WILL MANAGE ASHLAND EAGLES NINE REMAINDER OF YEAR

Bud Conlon, who has been prominently identified with baseball in southern Oregon for some time, has been asked to take over the management of the Ashland Eagles' team, he has announced.

Conlon says that the Ashland club will undergo a complete reorganization, and that Chief McLean, fiery twirler, will be signed for the lineup, which also includes an ace catcher, Hartman, of the Southern Oregon Normal.

The first game of the new club, Conlon states, will be a battle with the Pelicans at Klamath Falls next Sunday. One week from Sunday, the Eagles will journey to Bend for an encounter with the Bend organization, and the manager announces he has another game tentatively lined up with a garage team in Reno, Nev.

Manager Conlon has issued a challenge to any southern Oregon baseball club.

GUS AND TED PLAN FREE-FOR-ALL MIX

PORTLAND, July 13.—(AP)—Gus Sonnenberg, Boston, and Ted Cox, Lodi, Cal., heavyweight wrestlers, head an all-star grappling card to be held in Multnomah civic stadium tonight. It is expected to be a free-for-all affair as both men have asked that there be no interference from the referee.

On the supporting card Bob Kruse tangles with Art Herman, a new heavyweight from Germany; Abe Kaplan meets Howard Cantonwine and Jack Kogut wrestles Henry Johnson.

The first bout starts at 8:30.

GILMORES FACE G. PASS STARS HERE ON SUNDAY

Medford's Gilmore Lions face a tough assignment in next Sunday's game at the fairgrounds when they tackle the Grants Pass Stars, a team composed of college and former high school players, in the first of a two-game series. It will be the Lions' first home game, and a record crowd is expected to see the battle which starts at 2:30.

Both teams are fresh from victories over the Crescent City Merchants, and the Lions have defeated several leading teams in southern Oregon. Although they have never met the Stars, rivalry is running high between the two clubs from other forms of competition. The second game of the series will be played at Grants Pass July 22.

The Stars have added strength to their lineup with Bernard Chaney and the return of H. Hammrickson and Coleman Richardson and Kirt will be in their starting battery, Manager Joe Stansard announced.

The probable lineup for the Gilmore Lions has been announced by Manager Bob Lewis, as follows: Stoddard, c; Bob Smith, p; T. Kenton, 1b; G. Smith, 2b; Tungate, 3b; D. Lewis, ss; Ward, lf; D. Sakralda, cf; Hurst, rf.

LAST MINUTE SCORE GIVES LIONS 8 TO 7 TRIUMPH OVER KIDS

Darkness intervened last night at the fair grounds in the nick of time for the Gilmore Lions, according to members of the American Legion junior baseball team, who staged a surprise by keeping an even score with the doughty Gilmore until the last half of the ninth, when the Juniors' second baseman was unable to see an oncoming leave, and allowed the Lions' winning run to cross the plate for an 8-to-7 score.

The Lions took the lead in the second with a home run by Bob Smith, which was evened in the fourth, increased by one tally in the fifth, and increased again in the seventh with four more circuits. The Gilmore Lions tied the account in the eighth inning before taking the winning score on the darkness count.

The Legion boys hit Gilmore pitchers freely, and sent back leaves from Bob Smith, D. Lewis, Kenton, and Jack Hughes, who was taken from the ranks of Hal Haight's Rogues. The Lions' catcher, Ward, was replaced by Hurst when he received a hand injury.

One of the Legion players lost a glove on the diamond and would like to have it returned to any of the Legion players or to C. L. Walsh at Tenth and Fir streets.

TIGERS TAKE LEAD AT YANKS EXPENSE

By Associated Press.
The Detroit Tigers had regained the American league lead today by the simple, but effective, expedient of beating the one club that was ahead of them, the New York Yankees.

When it was all over the score read: Detroit, 4; New York, 2; the figures in the percentage column were Detroit .628, New York .627; and both teams were looking forward to three remaining battles of the series.

Spurred on by the largest week-day crowd of the season at Navin Field, 20,000, the Tigers spotted their rivals a run in the first inning, got to Johnny Broaca for two in the same frame and then stayed ahead through Schoolboy Rowe's fine pitching and some great fielding behind him.

SMALLER PIGSKIN NOT POPULAR AT STANFORD

By HENRY SUPER
United Press Staff Correspondent
SAN FRANCISCO.—(UP)—The new and smaller football which was adopted by the football rule makers for use beginning this season has been tested by Stanford university and found to be lacking.

When the ball was made smaller and thinner, the rules committee had hoped that forward passers with small hands would be able to heave it with more accuracy. At the same time it was believed the change would not affect players with normal-sized hands, or make it harder to kick or pass the new ball.

Stanford, in its spring training season that ended at Palo Alto recently, tried out the new ball for ten days and discovered that as far as the Cardinals are concerned the old ball is better.

Claude E. ("Tiny") Thornhill, Stanford coach, lists the following points against the new ball.

1. Spiral punts cannot be kicked with it.
2. Spiral passes cannot be thrown effectively.

3. It bounces crazy when it hits the ground.

4. It can be gripped better, but not thrown as well as the old ball because the players can't seem to control it.

5. It slips through the hands of pass receivers because it is thinner.

Stanford received its shipment of the new pigskins some ten days before its spring training ended and was believed to have been the first college in the country to have tried them out.

After trying out the ball, Thornhill and his players were convinced that it would take some heavy practice next fall to reach the stage of accuracy that had been achieved with the old and larger ball.

A good example of the trouble Stanford encountered was well illustrated during a day's practice.

Bobby Grayson, Stanford's potential all-American fullback, a smart passer, heaved balls all over the lot one afternoon, but only twice succeeded in completing his passes, once to Jim Moersch and again to Johnny Bolander.

Frank Alustiza, a star punter, was unable to get much distance with the new ball, while Stan Anderson, who has quick-kicked as much as 74 yards with the old oval, had difficulty in getting the new one off his toe.

FIRST-QUALITY TIRES AT 18% TO 20% LOWER PRICES*

WITH New Precision-Built FEATURES

EXAMPLE: SIZE 29 x 4.40-21—Only

High Speed Safety

Fig. 1 shows how Latex dipping eliminates the crossthreads (Fig. 2) found in the woven cord fabric of most other tires. Crossthreads add nothing to strength and cause friction heat, greatest blowout cause, especially at today's high speeds. Riverside Latex coating makes each cord lie flat, completely insulated with rubber.

Every day more and more value-wise tire buyers are changing to Wards entirely new, FIRST-QUALITY Riversides because they know that these tires are built for still greater speeds, still greater tire strains than needed for cars of today. Built to give this extra margin of safety and mileage... backed by the strongest unlimited guarantee ever placed on any tire.

The big broad flat tread that Riverside developed has been made flatter than ever. More rubber has been put into it and on the road by nesting center-traction, non-skid blocks more closely, by combining wider running ribs with heavier side-wall buttresses. And it's all new SUPER-VITALIZED rubber—so much tougher that it alone adds 15% to tread wear.

The carcass is more resistant to fatigue—better cords are used. Far safer too because it is double insulated against heat and friction, greatest blowout cause. First by famous Riverside Latex-dipping, second, by layers of insulating rubber between every ply!
