4 LENGTHS LEAD OVER VANDERBILT ENTRY THRILLING

American Turf Title For Three Year Olds Won Besides $35,000 Purse—A Record Run.

CHICAGO, July 14.—(AP)—Surging forward from last place, Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane's Cavalcade won the $35,000 added Arlington classic by four lengths today, capturing the three-year old championship of the American turf in dramatic finish which sent a crowd of 30,000 into a delirium of cheers.

As the three-year old son of Lancelotti-Hastily swept past the judge's stand, the conquerer of Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's "Discovery" for the sixth time, the crowd was on its feet cheering him on while "Uncle" Mack Garner, astride Cavalcade, took a quick look over his shoulder to make sure that he was safely in front.

Half a length back of Discovery was Hadagal, the entry of Warren Wright of Chicago, with Riskulus, the challenger owned by Norman W. Church of Los Angeles, three lengths back.

Today's race at a mile and a quarter was the fastest Cavalcade has ever run. He covered the distance in 2:02 4-5, a second off the track record set by Sun Beau in 1931.

JOHNSON OPPOSES USE OF SOLDIERS TO QUELL STRIKE

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, July 14.—(AP)—Use of troops in the strike in San Francisco was branded today by General Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, as poor policy.

Arriving here by plane from Cheyenne on his way to Portland, where he is to deliver a speech tomorrow, the general answered in reply to a newspaper reporter's question as to whether it was "poor policy" to use troops:

"Of course it is," he added.

"When you get an amateur soldier and put a gun in his hands, he wonders what to do with it, and probably shoots somebody."

"The strike situation in San Francisco, once was that close to being settled," he continued, and held his thumb and forefinger a fraction of an inch apart.

The general, accompanied by Col. R. W. Lea, assistant administrator, and Miss Frances M. Robinson, his secretary, arrived here from Cheyenne at 7:28 p. m. (M. S. T.) and after a short consultation with airport officials decided to spend the night here. It was to be a short night, however, for Colonel Lea said they will leave again at 3 a. m. for Portland, making a refueling at Boise. Lea said the general hoped to draft his speech before retiring.

Advised of the strike situation in San Francisco, General Johnson expressed regret but added:

"The NRA had nothing more to do with labor disputes—thank God."

The general had little to add to his earlier comments on the German situation, but to a reporter's comment that the German government had objected, he said:

"That's just too bad."

Shows a dispatch quoting Senator Thomas D. Schall of Minnesota as describing the general's tour as "a deliberate attempt to fool the electorate so that the tentacles of dictatorship may be fastened upon it," Johnson smiled, and said: "I don't believe I'm to say anything concerning Senator Schall."

He expressed the conviction that NRA, or a modification of it, will become a fixture in American industrial life.

PRESIDENT SAILS AFTER DAY SPENT ON PACIFIC ISLE

ABOARD THE U. S. S. NEW ORLEANS ACCOMPANYING PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, July 14.—(AP)—President Roosevelt tonight set out on his 4,000 mile cruise to the Hawaiian islands after a field day of sport on and about the Cocos Islands, a green spot in the Pacific ocean west of Panama.

Burned by the sun and wind of a day of varied rain storms and smiling skies, the president retired early.

Just at sunset the president's cruiser, the Houston, struck out for the west. The New Orleans followed in her wake and soon the verdant Cocos Island dropped below the horizon.

The unshakable one will become a fond memory to the president for while there he regained the fishing championship of his vacation party.

The president caught a 50 pound ono, a fish resembling the barracuda, also caught an ono, but a shark snapped its tail twice he could get it into the boat. A marine got even with the shark by shooting it, but all hands held the honors of the day belong to the president because of the clean landing of his catch.

John Roosevelt had several sailfish at the end of his tackle, and he almost succeeded in landing one.

Despite a downpour of rain the president, wearing an old blue jersey and fishing boots, kept an engagement at noon for a picnic in Waltham cove, on shore. The cove, a dent in the precipitous rock front of the shore, provided the only place on the island where a landing could be made. The president walked over an expanse of sandy beach and inspected an abandoned shack.

The president said he had no late information of official affairs in the United States which would warrant comment.

COAST GOLF PRO SAW FUTURE FOR 'LOS' LITTLE

By Henry Super
United Press Staff Correspondent
SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Lawson Little, the 1934 British Amateur Champion, came to San Francisco in 1927 and met Larry Brazil.

Had he not met Brazil, Little today might have been a fair to middling golfer. But he met him and therein lies the story of Little's success.

Little's father, Col. William Little, was transferred from Vancouver, Washington, to San Francisco. His father, a golf fan of the first water, joined the Presidio Golf club that year. And Lawson, Jr., at 16, often joined him on the links.

One day he met Larry Brazil, the club's professional. Larry invited the youngster to play a round with him. Little's drives off the tee were erratic; his approach shots were wild; but his putting was good.

"At the close of that round, Little said to Brazil:

"If you think you can make me a golfer the sooner we start the better."

Beat Him to Punch
Brazil had been intending to ask Little whether he had any intentions of ever developing his game when the youngster beat him to the punch with that statement.

You see, Brazil was new to the club himself; he figured that if in time he could make one real champion he would establish himself. Some seven years later his efforts were rewarded.

Brazil at the time realized Little had the makings of a champion; his swing was flat and he hit the ball with his whole body behind the drive. With proper training, Brazil realized Little would learn to hit a "long ball."

SONNENBERG WINS HECTIC MAT BOUT

PORTLAND, Ore., July 14.—(AP)—While referee Verne Harrington was lying on the verge of the ring after going through the ropes from one of Gus Sonnenberg's flying tackles, Ted Cox turned on the Bostonian with a left to the jaw and proceeded to climb aboard for what should have been the deciding fall. When Harrington recovered and re-entered the ring, Sonnenberg suddenly came from behind to clip the Californian and send him to the mat for the deciding fall. Cox had taken first fall in 11 minutes and 15 seconds with a body press. Sonnenberg won the second fall with a flying tackle from the rear in 6 minutes and 53 seconds. The final wild session was over in 6 minutes and 42 seconds.

LEGION JUNIORS MEET CCC TODAY IN WARM-UP TILT

The American Legion Juniors, facing their important tilt with Klamath Falls next Sunday, will meet the Camp Applegate CCC team today at 1 o'clock at the fair grounds. C. L. Walsh, Legion coach, believes the game with the CCC outfit will give his boys the stiff practice they need before the Klamath contest.

Lieut. J. G. Gordon, athletic officer at the Applegate camp, will bring an untried outfit to Medford since many of the players are new to the CCC. In practice in the company diamond they have shown a good deal of promise, however, and Lieutenant Gordon is hopeful of making a strong bid for the Medford district title.

Walsh plans to start Pepper in the pitcher's box for the Legion Juniors, with Johnson behind the bat, Campbell at first, Murphy at second, Lewis at short and Lindley at third. Bayliss will start in left field with Coan in center field and Stanley in right field. Heath and Van Dyke will probably be used before the game is over. Lieutenant Gordon plans to start Pilgrim on the mound with Carlin and Neeson ready to relieve him. Rippy will catch but Hennig will be on hand for the post. Lee will start at first with Gates on second, Anderson at short and Macht on third. Cochran will open in left field with Snyder in center field and Elwell in right field. Rakko, Bellamy, Hansaker, Bruck, Everett and Frye may all see action in the contest.

The game will precede the Medford Gilmore-Grants Pass All-Stars game slated for the fair grounds.
