

SAVOLDI COMING TO ARMORY RING SAYS PROMOTER

Joe Savoldi, former Notre Dame football star and well-known grappler, will appear in this city on a mat card about August 11. Promoter Mack Lillard announced today. His opponent will be chosen from four likely contenders who will grapple at the armory next Thursday, July 26, on a double main-event card.

Sam Lethers colorful matman from Dallas, Texas, will match grips with Oswego "Broccoli King" Bob Kruse, farmer, in one of the one-hour matches, while Harry Kent, former O. S. C. grid star, will tangle with Al Karasick, Russian muscle-mangler, in the other main-event bout.

Karasick has just returned from an invasion of the Hawaiian Islands, where he is reported to have impressed the islanders favorably, and will bring a good deal of interest with him when he returns here.

Next week's card will offer a variety of talent that may reach a new high for this season's local bouts, but despite the prospects of a fine show, Lillard announces that new reduced prices will be put in effect.

DEATH, SUFFERING INCREASE IN EAST AS HEAT MOUNTS

of 95, Lake Michigan breezes being absent.

There was no immediate relief in sight in the weather man's forecast for the torrid area.

The plains states, from the Rockies to the Mississippi, were the hardest hit, with temperatures of 110 at Omaha and Keokuk, Iowa—a new high record for Omaha for July and an all-time record for the Iowa city. Unofficially it got as high as 120 in the sun at Quincy, Ill. It was 88 in New York. In Massachusetts forest fires added to the menace of the heat.

Farmers in the grain states renewed their cries for rain. The corn crop was badly damaged in many of the northern states. Nebraska was one of the hardest hit. A. E. Anderson, Nebraska agricultural statistician, said one-half of Nebraska's corn area would not even produce satisfactory forage.

Must Haul Water.

At Falls City, Neb., the flow of the Nemaha river was reduced to a dribble, and water had to be hauled from a nearby lake to supply restaurants and other public establishments. Well diggers in Iowa were doing a rushing business as residents sought to tap new sources of water supply. Creston, Iowa, continued to receive water from railroad tank cars.

The situation, though extremely serious, was not without its humorous aspects. In Des Moines, Iowa, where the temperatures soared to 108, Patrolman Everett Franford left his car parked on the police station lot with its windows closed. When he reentered it he found the dial thermometer inside registering 134 degrees. It was so hot, he said, that part of the rubber steering wheel came off in his hands when he touched it.

BUTTER MARKET HOLDS UP WELL

PORTLAND, July 20.—(7)—Local butter market was fully firm and appeared due to close the week in that position despite the stoppage for several days or some out-of-state shipments.

A brisk retail demand somewhat offset the curtailment of outgoing business and the surplus moved into storage. The trade had a particularly good call for grade "A" stuff. Prices were held.

The egg market was about unchanged, having been firm all week on top quality. Prices ruled evenly with those early in the week.

Cheese ruled about steady and unchanged.

Local veal market continued to hold chief interest in country-killed meats. The market was fully firm at $14.50 locally, and good calves were scarce.

Open Refrigerator Service Shop Here

S. M. Wade and E. C. Jones have recently opened a complete refrigeration service shop in the rear of the Medford Cycle and Repair Shop at 23 North Fir street. William Stinson is also a member of the repair force.

Mr. Wade has had 17 years' experience in ammonia service work and Jones has done factory service for Copeland, Servel and Frigidaire for a number of years. The new Fir street shop features authorized Frigidaire service.

Talk About Real Value—

Fresh apricots were very reasonable this year, and we made quite a good sized purchase and placed them in cold storage for use in our pies.

We have had many compliments on the pies made from this fruit and tomorrow we will feature these pies at a price which represents the savings made in the purchase of the fresh fruit in large quantities direct from the grower.

SUPER MEAT MARKET

Should the authorities ever realize the importance of regulating the sale of meats as they do milk it would be a step in the right direction for meat is surely as susceptible to impurity as any other food.

That is why we are so finicky—why we have arranged with the Huber Packing Co. for modern scientific dressing and pre-cooling—why we hold in our automatic cooler just the right length of time—why we installed the finest porcelain non-absorbent cases and why our meat clerks are not allowed to handle money.

The finest quality—clean—at popular prices—spells real economy.
