

START IMPROVEMENT AGATE-LITTLE BUTTE UNIT CRATER HIGHWAY

R. C. Hall of Eugene, contractor, has started improvement of the Agate-Little Butte unit of the Crater Lake highway. Work will include correcting of drainage, widening grade and macadamizing of the widened portion and resurfacing the remainder. Rock crushing equipment is now being set up and will be in operation next week. It is state highway work.

State drilling crew No. 3, with a force of 45 men, will drill a mile of the Lake Creek road, including the section of the road that passes through Eagle Point. The crew will also drill a mile of the Sams Valley secondary highway east of where the present drilling ends. The crew will also work on the Crater Lake highway between Elk Creek and McLeod. I. H. Hoffman, contractor for the building of the Pacific highway underpass at Ashland, has the work well under way, according to V. L. Goodnight, resident engineer of the state highway department. The Southern Pacific has about completed its temporary trestle for routing of trains around the work. It will be completed in from a month to six weeks. Hoffman built the Jackson county court house.

No county work is being done on county roads. The last budget committee cut the levy for this. Many of the roads are becoming badly rutted and corrugated. Some requests have been made for smoothing, graveling, etc., before school starts in September.

farm supplies will also be handled as local needs demand. At a special meeting of the Pomona Grange at Central Point July 15, George A. Palmiter, past state Grange master of Oregon, explained this co-operative, which has been in successful operation in Washington for several years. Thirty-three stations have been in operation in eastern Washington, doing a business of more than $2,000,000. Contracts have now been secured for all of Washington state, Oregon and Idaho and Grange members are expected to make a great saving on their gas and oil bills. There is, however, another co-operative in the making, recently organized by the Pacific Supply Co., which is also soliciting business from farmers and orchard men. This is a new concern, not yet established, while the Grange gas and oil co-operative has been doing successful business for several years. All Grangers are urged to co-operate with their organization, as the greater the sale the lower per cent the overhead and consequently the greater the profit. This matter will be taken up at the meeting at Applegate next Saturday and all Grangers are urged to be present and learn all about this membership co-operative which many have been looking for and which has been in successful operation for a period of years. This is not a stock co-operative. Pomona Grange. Applegate Grange will be host to the Jackson County Pomona Grange Saturday, July 28, in an all-day meeting opening at 10 a. m. This meeting had been scheduled for Sams Valley but, due to an agreement between Sams Valley and Applegate Granges, Pomona Grange will go to Applegate on Saturday and to Sams Valley next January. Please let everyone reading this notify all Grangers possible of the change. A large attendance is expected for important matters will come up for attention, one of which is the consideration of the establishment of a Grange gasoline and oil co-operative buying and selling station.
