

BIRTH OF TOMATOES WORST EXPERIENCED IN PORTLAND TRADE

PORTLAND, July 27.—(AP)—Increasing demand for fresh eggs was creating further strength in the market for quality goods, but the market trend in general was more or less mixed as is the quality of the so-called extras.

Most serious shortage of tomatoes known to the local trade at this period of the season, was reported. Sales were being made to $1.25 box for best northwest stock. Market for butter continued to reflect an active and firm tone with price maintained on the open market for all scores. Little change was suggested in the volume of output. Light receipts of chickens were shown in the local trade. Demand was about sufficient to keep stocks cleaned up at current low values. Trading in the country killed veal market was holding firm locally with receipts moderate. Prices were at the high point. Hogs and lambs were about unchanged. Secret chiseling of cantaloupe prices, 10@15c crate below legally established prices, was reported but most interests were trying to obey the code. State staff was therefore accumulating.

Wall St. Report

NEW YORK, July 27.—(AP)—The securities markets recovered substantially today, as the state of jitters over the Austrian situation passed. Yesterday's severe losses were by no means fully regained, but many stocks at the close showed gains of $1 so $4 a share, and bonds were mostly substantially above yesterday's final levels. The rise in stocks was largely scored in the first hour, when prices surged upward in trading almost as active as yesterday's. Thereafter, the list turned dull, and scattered selling cropped out. The close was spotty, with a few issues, notably some of the utilities and oils, actually registering further losses. The majority, however, were higher. Foreign bonds, notably Austrian, Polish and Italian, recovered a point or two, and Germans stiffened. Domestic corporate bonds were mostly higher, and some of the U. S. government issues regained a good part of yesterday's drop. Transfers approximated 2,100,000 shares. Today's closing prices for 32 selected stocks follow: Al. Chem. & Dye 124 1/2; Am. PORTLAND, Ore.—(UP)—The captain wanted beer, but all he got was an empty jug from a distraught Chinese steward. The captain, from the steamer Wisconsin, sent the steward ashore for beer. Pickets intercepted the steward on the way back, learned the brew was for the captain, drank it up.

SAN FRANCISCO.—(UP)—A robber who said he was named Chenny and was a desperate ex-convict from San Quentin, invaded the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Adams, took $25 at gun point, then joined them, chatting amiably, at dinner. Only lack of a fourth, Adams told police, prevented a rubber of bridge.
