

NAVY COMMAND CHANGES HANDS

Admiral Joseph M. Reeves (right) became the highest ranking United States naval officer afloat when he took command of the fleet in ceremonies aboard the U. S. S. Pennsylvania at New York. Here he is pictured under the ship's big guns as he was congratulated by Admiral David Foote Sellers, the man he succeeds. (Associated Press Photo)

The Dotsero cutoff, shortening the rail route between Denver and the Pacific Coast by 175 miles and putting the Colorado capital on a through transcontinental line for the first time, at last is ready for traffic. The two views above show how the cutoff, 39 miles long, follows the winding Colorado river through the mountain country of western Colorado. The map illustrates the saving in mileage possible through use of the cutoff in conjunction with the famous Moffat tunnel through James peak. (Associated Press Photos)

LONG AND SHORT OF N. C. A. A.

Jack Torrance, 278-pound shotputter and discus thrower of Louisiana state, is shown standing beside the smallest man in the N.C.A.A. championships to be held in Los Angeles June 22-23. Francis Benavidez, two-mile of Southern California, ties the scales at 122-pounds.

CATHERINE GREETS PRESIDENT

When President Roosevelt stopped at Worcester, Mass., on his trip to Groton, Mass., where he witnessed the graduation of his son, John, from Groton school, he was greeted by Catherine Murphy, 9, a victim of infantile paralysis. Catherine was sent to Warm Springs, Ga., for treatment through the instrumentality of the President. She told him she was greatly improved. (Associated Press Photo)

HELD IN GETTLE RANSOM DEMAND

Fred C. Kelley (above), Los Angeles apartment house manager, was held by deputy sheriff's deputies in connection with an asserted attempt to collect $75,000 asked for release of William F. Gettle, abducted Beverly Hills millionaire. (Associated Press Photo)

'RINGSIDE' DOPE FOR BARNEY

Barney Ross, welterweight and lightweight boxing champion, did covered some of the differences between boxing and acting as he got some first-hand advice on the latter from the Misses Grace Saxon (left) and Beatrice Saxon in New York. Barney is shown practicing for his stage debut. (Associated Press Photo)

CHICAGO HAILS CHAMPION BARNEY

When Barney Ross came back home to Chicago with the world welterweight title in his belt, he was congratulated by civic leaders and paraded through the downtown district. He is shown on the shoulders of boyhood friends and other admirers, who cheered his recent victory over Jimmy McLarnin, giving him the welter title along with the lightweight and junior welterweight championships. (Associated Press Photo)

ATHLETE ON HAND FOR N.C.A.A.

Duane Abbey (right), North Texas State Teacher's College and Southern A.A.U. 1500 meter champion, as he arrived in Los Angeles to participate in the national intercollegiate championships June 22-23. The first athlete to arrive is being given a floral decoration by Southern California students. Left to right: Ed Ablowich, co-captain of the Trojan track team; Betty Jones, Maxine Adams and Abbey. (Associated Press Photos)

'THE MOST OUTSTANDING GIRL'

Mary and Martha Davidson of Petersburg, Ind., were chosen as "the most outstanding girl" in the senior class of Indiana State Teachers college at Terre Haute. The girls were nominated along with others, on the basis of character, scholarship, service, leadership and general worth to the school. Unable to vote for them separately, the student body voted for the twins as a unit. (Associated Press Photo)

SMALLEST ENTRY FOR PACIFIC RACE

This 24-foot schooner, Hawaii, one of the smallest craft ever to attempt a trans-Pacific crossing, is the tiniest vessel entered in the Los Angeles Honolulu race. Entered by the Honolulu Ad Club, the boat was shipped to Los Angeles by steamer. Her skipper, Frank Anderson, is atop the Hawaii's foremast. (Associated Press Photo)

SUES FOR ONE THIRD OF ESTATE

Gavin Lippl, 21, brought suit in San Francisco seeking a son's one-third of the million dollar estate of Gavin McNab. Lippl claimed he is the illegitimate child of the noted San Francisco attorney and political leader. In the suit, Lippl asserted his mother had received money from McNab for his support before the latter's death. Lippl and his mother, Mrs. Maria Marraccini, are shown above. (Associated Press Photo)