1934 LAMB CROP TOPS LAST YEAR

WASHINGTON, July 31—(AP)—The bureau of agricultural economics reported today that the 1934 lamb crop was 29,330,000 head, or about one per cent larger than last year's crop, but smaller than both the 1931 and 1932 productions.

The crop of 10,559,000 head in the native sheep states was two per cent smaller than the 1933 crop, however.

The increased crop for the entire country was attributed by the bureau to a sharp increase in the number of lambs saved per 100 ewes on January 1 in most of the western sheep states, which more than offset the small decrease in the native sheep states and a marked decrease, 1,003,000 head, in Texas.
