

CANTALOUPE CODE LEAVES CARLOADS WITHOUT MARKET

PORTLAND, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Despite recent cut in the San Francisco price, which was considered artificial, undertone of the butter trade continued to reflect strength and considerable activity at late prices. Butterfat was firm.

There was no change in egg prices for the day. With several carloads of cantaloupes held on the track here and unable to find a home at code price, the situation was becoming more daily complicated with further reports of chiseling.

General setback of tomato prices was reported here with many sales reported below code minimums. Several carloads of Californians were here, as were liberal offerings from southern Oregon, some from Walla Walla and heavy stocks from Yakima and The Dalles.

With Washington interests flooding Portland trade with leghorns around 13c dressed, the chicken trade here received a very serious setback.

Slight downward revision of the dressed lamb price to 11@12c lb. was reported. Hogs and veal were fully steady.

Crawford peaches continued to lead the market here in demand with prices held steady through the day.

There was much complaint regarding the marketing of California Elbertas as Hales.

Pea prices were mostly 50@60c for jumble Bartlett.

Walla Walla onions were weaker at $1.10@1.20 cental.

Citrus fruits were about steady for oranges and lemons, but further shading in grapefruit.

Cabbage market appeared a trifle easier.

Best quality potatoes were moving fairly well; others were slow.

Slightly better feeling in local lettuce.

HERO OF GERMAN FIGHTING FORCES DIES PEACEFULLY

astonished that the strong old heart could stand out against these complications for so long. They had given up hope early last night.

All through the last few days the old man's mind had remained clear, but, at the very last, it wavered.

Flag Lives News. Quiet attacks lowered the blue and white Hindenburg flag at the estate.

The news placed a pall of silence over this community and the rest of Germany as well. The sorrow of the villagers was too deep for expression.

To the residents of Neudeck and of the nearby city of Freystadt, the passing of Von Hindenburg meant more than the death of a president—it meant the departure of a close, personal friend.

(By the Associated Press) Death came to Paul Von Beneckendorff und Von Hindenburg just a few weeks after he had stood again as a "sturdy oak" in trying times for his beloved Germany.

The man whose active life spanned the first, second and third reichs, in the stirring days following June 30, stood firmly by his principles as a loyal German and, at the same time, extended a protective hand over a man who had been one of his closest friends—Franz Von Papen.

When Chancellor Adolph Hitler chose to suppress rebellion in Nazi ranks with summary executions, Von Hindenburg was already ill at his country estate in Neudeck.

Told of Events Word reached him of the activities of the Hitler firing squads and, at the same time, he heard how aides of Vice Chancellor Von Papen had been slain and how Von Papen himself was virtually under arrest in his private residence.

The aged president, even then seriously sick enough for the convening of a "major medical council" on July 1, sent word to the reichswahr (regular army) that he held it responsible for the safety of Von Papen.

At the same time he dispatched to Hitler a telegram congratulating and thanking him for the steps he took to save the country from mutineers.

Hitler's plan was given out in Berlin as involving the removal of Von Papen from the cabinet.

Vice Chancellor Blamed It was intimated strongly that the conservative vice chancellor, who had been critical of Nazi radicals, was held to blame because he did not learn of alleged traitorous activities on the part of some of his aides and prevent them.

But when the cabinet met, after hours of discussion Hitler suddenly dashed to Neudeck by airplane—in answer to what sort of summons the public was not told.

The aged president, recovered from the illness sufficiently to be about, received the Nazi chancellor late at night. They were in conference for a long time.

Hitler flew back to Berlin and word was given out that Von Papen would not be removed but that he might take a long vacation.

JACKSONVILLE GRANGE INVITES TOWNSPEOPLE VIEW JUBILEE MOVIES

At the next meeting of the Jacksonville Grange, August 10, the California Oregon Power Co. will present their pictures taken during the Diamond Jubilee in Medford.

According to Miss Doris Conger, the program will start at 8:30 o'clock and all townspeople and non-grangers may attend, since the showing is to be previous to the business session.

At the meeting Friday night there were about 50 grangers present. The membership drive is now in full swing, with Mrs. Wynne Arnold leading one side and Mrs. H. E. Conger the other.

The contest ends September 23, at which time the losing side must prepare a banquet for the winners.

Mrs. Gifford, president of the Home Economics club, announced the dinner to be held at the home of E. H. Niedermeyer on Wednesday of next week. All club members and their families are requested to be present promptly at 8 o'clock.

The special committee appointed to arrange for organization of a drill team has issued a call for all members or anyone who would like to join, to come to the first meeting, Friday, August 3, at the Grange hall.

The lecturer presented a short musical program consisting of community singing, vocal solos by Joyce Sims, and a piano duet by Leona Conger and Florence Gifford. Sliced peaches and butterfingers were served by Mr. and Mrs. Hensper, Mabel Sims, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Niedermeyer and Thomas Judge.

VON HINDENBURG'S DEATH ENHANCES POWER OF HITLER

net adopted a decree revoking a law of 1932 under which the president of the supreme court would become interim president.

When news of Von Hindenburg's end was received, Paul Joseph Goebbels, propaganda minister, rushed to a microphone. He announced to the nation that the two offices of president and chancellor had been merged.

Hitler thus assumed absolute power over the third reich.

Germany in Mourning Germany went into mourning on the 20th anniversary of its conscription of troops for the world war.

The cabinet admonished the German people to go into general mourning. Flags will fly at half-staff from all public buildings and schools.

Ships of the nation will accord the leader a 21-gun salute tomorrow.

Amusement and other public places were ordered closed.

Traffic, shops and factories will suspend operations for one minute during the funeral hour.

Marinoff Beer Now Sold Here

The Northwest Brewing Company's widely known Marinoff beer, which is marketed in one-half gallon jugs, will be introduced in Medford tomorrow, according to an announcement here today by G. S. Grover, special representative of this company.

invented by the Northwest Brewing Company, according to Mr. Grover. This special process assures the flavor of real draft beer, according to representatives of the Northwest Brewing Company, and is brewed by experienced brewers under sanitary conditions with the highest quality malt, hops and other ingredients used.

"Marinoff beer in half-gallon jugs has met a growing demand for use on fishing trips, picnics and parties, as well as home use," G. S. Grover said today. On picnics and outings, Marinoff beer may be kept cold and palatable by wrapping the jug in wet papers with a dry paper on the outside. The fact that this beer will not go flat is one of the main reasons for its constantly growing popularity on the Pacific coast."
