

BUNNY MARTIN TO BE THIRD MAN IN WRESTLING ARENA

When Pete Belcastro, the "Weed Wildcat," steps into the ring with Sad Sam Letchers of Texas at the armory tomorrow night the third man in the wrestling arena will be Bunny Martin, Oklahoma whirlwind, who has appeared here in grappling matches and won the favor of Medford fans. Martin is one of the cleanest, most sportmanlike athletes that ever performed here and according to promoter Mack Lillard, is as fair in his refereeing as he is in wrestling. Advance sale of pasteborders for the Thursday night card indicates the muscle manhandling addicts are eager to see the affair between Belcastro and Letchers. The Weed grappler has had things pretty much his own way here in the past. There is no denying that he is a fast, clever and dangerous opponent for any heavyweight, but it is believed that the rubber-legged Letchers will be on top when the referee goes the back slapping. In addition to the Letchers-Belcastro match, Billy Newman, Denver dynamo, will take on young Pat McGill, the Nebraska Irishman, defeated here last week by Belcastro. McGill gained a big hand in his game go with Pete, but was beaten at the outset when Belcastro launched a series of drop-kicks at the opening bell which allowed the Irish lad up the remainder of the match.

DAVIS ANSWERS BARNEBURG SUIT

Jonas T. Davis, named defendant in a suit brought by Mrs. Nettie Barneburg, wife of the late John A. Barneburg, pioneer resident and former county commissioner, as the result of an auto accident at Sixth street and Central avenue October 29, 1933, yesterday filed an answer. Mrs. Barneburg seeks damages and alleges permanent injuries to her health. Davis, in the answer, denies the allegation of negligence in his driving and further alleges the accident "was inevitable and unavoidable." He alleges that Mrs. Barneburg, who was walking with her husband across the intersection, failed to "stop, look and listen" to see if the way was clear; failed to exercise care, and "darted in the path of his car from behind another car," making it impossible for Davis to stop his own auto in time to avoid an accident. Davis further sets forth that the night was dark and rainy, that the traffic was heavy and that, because of weather and lights, vision was obscured.

Huener-Holmes Wedding Is Event of September

Announcement was made Tuesday of the coming marriage of Miss Joann Huener of Grants Pass to Roland R. Holmes of this city, which will probably be an event of next September. Miss Huener is vacationing this week at the home of her parents in this city, having formerly been employed in Grants Pass at the Grants Pass Co-operative office, and has many friends here as well as in Grants Pass, who will be interested in knowing of the arrangements. Mr. Holmes is employed at the Gold Seal Creamery, and is well known in Medford. Miss Huener, after a few days at her home here, will leave on a trip east, stopping en route at San Antonio, Tex., to visit with Mr. and Mrs. John H. Huener, Jr. Before traveling farther east to visit other relatives, Miss Huener will stop in Chicago at a Century of Progress exposition. The wedding will take place soon after Miss Huener's return to southern Oregon.

Writers' Convention At Portland Tuesday

Next Tuesday, August 14, the international convention of the League of Western Writers will convene at the Multnomah hotel in Portland. A program of interest and advantage to those who write is planned, with several prominent writers taking part. The convention is open to all interested, whether members of the league or not. Several members of the local chapter will attend from here. Mrs. Atlanta Parker Satchwell is on the program for the meeting, to read a poem she has written about "The Oregon Trail." Mrs. Mary R. Graves will represent the southern Oregon branch of the league as delegate, and Miss Maude Pugh of Jacksonville, historian of the league here, will also attend and bring back a comprehensive report of the convention.

Pen Pushers Meet At Mrs. Graves' Home

The Pen Pushers' club met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Mary R. Graves. Answer to roll call was given by reading descriptive paragraphs, together with written comments, given by each member. In the contest which the club is having among its members, Mrs. Satchwell has the highest number of points for creative art, and Olive May Cook for literary work submitted for publication, both during the past two weeks. The usual round table discussion was held, several manuscripts read for criticism, and various phases of writing and marketing taken up. The next meeting of the Pen Pushers' club will be held August 23, when roll call will be answered by each member reading a short poem of not over twelve lines in usual metre for discussion and study.

Dale-Hartley Wedding In Klamath Saturday Eve.

BIG APPLAUSE, Aug. 8.—(Sp.)—A wedding coming as a surprise to their many friends occurred in Klamath Falls Saturday evening, August 4, when Miss Alta Dale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dale of Apple street, Medford, was united in marriage to Ella Hartley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hartley of Applegate. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Bates at the parsonage of the Christian church there. Those attending the wedding were the mothers of both the bride and groom, and Cecil Green and son, Cecil, Jr., of Malin. The newlyweds returned to Medford immediately after the ceremony, and after spending the week visiting local relatives, will return to Klamath, where Mr. Hartley has employment. The bride has resided in Medford during the last year, coming with her parents from Medford, Okla. Mr. and Mrs. Hartley will make their home at Malin.

Miss Bratzel Becomes Bride of Roy Hartley

ASHLAND, Aug. 8.—(Sp.)—A wedding of much interest throughout this vicinity was solemnized at 9:30 Saturday morning when Miss Frieda Ernestine Bratzel became the bride of Roy Clyde Hartley, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hartley, of Civic Center in the Siskiyou district. The service was read at the home of Rev. and Mrs. James E. Morgan, with Miss Elsie Stennett as bridesmaid and Mr. Homer Hartley, a brother of the groom, attending the groom. Other guests were the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Hartley, and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hoagland. The bride was becomingly attired in a tan fall ensemble of fine checked wool with accessories in tan and blue. She wore a corsage of dainty blooms arranged by Mrs. Hoagland. Miss Stennett wore a frock of tan silk crepe. The happy young couple are well known among the residents of Ashland and vicinity. Mr. Hartley having resided here with his parents, and having attended local schools. He is a member of the American Legion, and to the present time has been assisting his father on the home ranch in the Siskiyou.

Miss Anne Livingston Has Guest From North

Miss Anne Livingston has as a guest at her home Mrs. A. C. Dickenson of San Diego, who arrived from the south today. Mrs. Dickenson is prominent in musical circles, having come to Ashland two years ago from Chicago, where she graduated from Chicago Musical college. She is the youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Bratzel, who resided at Oresham, Ore., previous to her sojourn in the east. She is graduated from Gresham high school and Reed college, Portland. Here at Ashland she has a class of students in piano and musical instruction after September 1. Mr. and Mrs. Hartley are on a two weeks' honeymoon trip to Portland, Salem and other points, after which they will be at home to their friends at 505 Boulevard.

Mrs. Wiley Presides At Missionary Meeting

Mrs. Mary J. Wiley, president of the Foreign Missionary society, presided over the joint meeting of the Foreign and Home Missionary societies held yesterday afternoon at the First Methodist church. In the absence of Mrs. R. P. Mortensen, Mrs. C. C. Van Scoyoc acted in the position of program chairman and gave a very interesting talk on the women of Malaya. As this was the last meeting of the year, talks were also given on various other phases of missionary work. Mrs. A. R. Hedges led the devotionals, in which a duet was presented by Mrs. Wm. Andrews and Eleanor Poffenbarger. Refreshments were served by a committee headed by Mrs. E. C. Koppen, Mrs. W. W. Walker and Mrs. A. E. Lyman. Mite boxes were opened at the end of the meeting, giving a nice contribution to missionary work.

Initiate Members At Juvenile Meeting

Louise Lawrence and George Bigler were initiated at a meeting of the Degree of Honor Juvenile club held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the women's club rooms of the city hall. A good attendance made the meeting a most enjoyable one. Guests for the afternoon were Mrs. R. W. Denman, Virginia Buker, Elsie Mitchell and Ruth Protty. Earl Cameron, a visitor from Klamath Falls, was heartily welcomed to Medford, where he plans to remain for the rest of the summer. Jean Goldsmith and Catherine Campbell gave an interesting report on the Degree of Honor picnic held in Ashland on Sunday, July 29. Games were played and refreshments of punch and cookies were served after the business meeting.

JACKSONVILLE TO CONTINUE DANCE CURFEW AT 2 A.M.

The Jacksonville city council, at a meeting last night, voted to continue permitting Saturday night dances until 2 o'clock in the morning, during the balance of the month of August.

The Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce, which sponsors the dances, stated that they had contracted for the music and made other arrangements for the month, and the council thought "it would be snap judgment" to take a definite step before September.

Councilman Severance stated today that "if Gold Hill closes at midnight we will probably do the same—we don't know for sure yet."

Gold Hill started dancing until 2 a. m. recently, after a long shut-down.

The county court has been endeavoring to secure a uniform closing hour for Saturday night balls. Most of them close at midnight. The county court held a conference with the Jacksonville city council last week on the subject. The Gold Hill council was asked to be present, but failed to show up. Commissioner Emmett Nealon said this morning.

The county court feels that with all dances ceasing at midnight, there will be better regulation. The Jacksonville dances have been a sort of social Mecca for devotees of the waltz and two-step, after midnight. They attracted a large number of people and helped sandwich, soft-drink and beer sales. It is alleged some of the dancers roistered hilariously. The dance management claimed they maintained order, and no malicious nonsense was tolerated. The authorities said they received complaints that on the trip to and from the speed laws were apt to be fractured.

In this city all dancing stops at midnight, but in beer dispensing establishments, the state law permits beer drinking until 1 a. m. Councils have charge of dancing hours in incorporated towns.

JOBLESS FILIPINOS MAY BE SENT HOME

MANILA, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Ramon Torres, secretary of labor, said today he would propose that the government of the Philippines take steps to return jobless Filipinos from America to the islands. Although he feared the cost would be prohibitive, Torres said: "If we can get satisfactory bids for the return of these people, I may recommend that the government pay for their transportation." Another problem would be disposition of the repatriates. It has been suggested they might homestead the thinly populated island of Mindanao.

understand he would not accept the Republican presidential nomination if it were offered to him. The story, however, did not contain a direct quotation from the senator.

"Any statement of that kind would have to be well thought out and issued formally over my signature," McNary said in the interview late Tuesday.

Sees Some Bourbon Faults.

McNary said he believed many details of the Democratic proposals in the last congress were unsound, as well as administratively weak. However, such acts as regulation of security sales have received his approval. The broad outlines of the agricultural adjustment administration, he asserted, were not essentially different from proposals in the McNary-Haugen bill.

"We must realize," he stated, "that all manufacturers have long since been forced to control production to keep steady with demand. It is high time we had a national agricultural policy which would rationalize production to demand."

Neutral On Governorship.

McNary avoided committing himself concerning the state's gubernatorial campaign, indicating definitely he would take no part in the contest.

Sun-tanned and appearing in the best of health, McNary said he was enjoying the western breezes after the "eastern heat." And while entertaining many visitors daily on the lawn of his well-kept country place, the Republican senate leader gave the impression others were more concerned over the presidential candidacies than he, although McNary has been prominently mentioned the past two years as a candidate by eastern writers.

Senator McNary will remain at his home here until he goes to Chicago in the fall.
