

PARTY FACTIONS HOLDING DANGER FOR DEMOCRATS

Present Situation of Party in Power No Exception to Old Rule — Harmony Efforts Made by Leaders

By BYRON PRICE
Chief of the Bureau, the Associated Press, Washington

Development of violent factionalism always is a prime danger to dominant political parties, and the present situation of the Democratic party is no exception.

In several important states Democratic prospects in the 1934 campaign have been complicated measurably by the appearance of factions where six months ago all seemed harmonious.

One result is that, justifiable or not, the Republicans are hopeful today in localities where six months ago they saw no hope.

Senatorial candidacies have, in most instances, provided the cause of division, or else become the vehicles for deep-seated disputes over local party control.

It is to the harmonizing of some of these situations that Democratic leaders now are addressing major attention. Upon their success may depend in large measure the party strength in the next session of congress.

To date the results have been rather difficult to analyze.

Democratic national headquarters has followed the usual course and announced publicly a complete neutrality as between rival senatorial candidacies.

Yet, in several instances, local politicians have claimed definite administration support, have hinted very broadly to the voters that Mr. Roosevelt wanted them nominated, and have gone unreproved from Washington.

In Ohio, West Virginia, Indiana, Texas and a number of other states, candidates have been put into the field under circumstances which, on their face, set up a presumption of administration favor.

With Farley's Blessing

In the case of West Virginia, National Chairman Farley even went so far as to say in a public statement that candidate Clem Elvax was one of the original Roosevelt men, and, if nominated and elected, be a source of administration strength in the senate.

Such a direct declaration by a national chairman is unusual, and it becomes even more surprising when it is recalled that Mr. Farley also is a member of the Roosevelt cabinet and recognized everywhere as the political spokesman of the White House.

His action will increase national curiosity over the outcome of the West Virginia nomination contest.

In Indiana the candidate who posed as the "Roosevelt candidate" was not nominated. In Texas the reverse was true.

Of course, once nominated, every candidate immediately affirms his support for the administration, but it will be interesting when the nominations are complete to see how many really credit their election to "word from Washington."

It is notorious that the party in power has, normally, far more factional difficulty than the party out of power.

The Republicans had plenty of it when they were the majority party. In each of the four instances when Republicans were voted out of the White House since the Civil war a party split had a good deal to do with the party defeat.

Of course the Republicans are far from united now, but that is an old story. The noteworthy thing about the present Democratic factionalism is that it disproves any presumption that the party has been reunited completely and freed of internal dissension under the leadership of Mr. Roosevelt.

City Marks Century

LORAIN, O. (UP)—Seventy-five thousand persons lined the streets of industrial Lorain as 10,000 marching Lorainians celebrated the city's 100th anniversary with a parade which stretched eight miles and took three hours to pass.

Swiss Do Have "Navy"

TIPTONVILLE, O. (UP)—Switzerland has a navy, says to the contrary notwithstanding. A pilot-driven boat being used here to build an ice guard above a coal dock in the Ohio river bears the name "Swiss Navy No. 1."

NATIONALIZATION NOTHING IN LIFE OF SILVER MINER

DENVER, Aug. 10.—(P)—The silver mines of the Rocky Mountain west, which cheered for "Roosevelt, silver and Santa Claus" last December when the president boosted the price of silver ore to 64 1/2 cents an ounce, will not be affected by the president's executive order Thursday, nationalizing silver at 50.01 cents per ounce.

Silver ore was specifically exempted in the new executive order, along with certain other classes of silver.

The president's new order was interpreted today by Jesse F. McDonald, of Leadville, president of the Colorado Metal Mining Association, R. P. Reynolds, manager of the American Smelting and Refining Co. properties in Colorado, and others as intended primarily to end speculation in the white metal.

"The miners will keep right on digging for gold and silver, McDonald said. "They will get their 64 1/2 cents an ounce for silver at the mine, and that's what they're interested in."

"The increase in silver ore price, effective since last December, has not stimulated silver mining in Colorado as much as was expected then, McDonald said, because of the low price for lead and zinc, with which silver usually is found in this state.

"The only way that the silver miners might be affected," said Reynolds, "in my opinion, would be if the nationalized price of silver were to be increased above the 50.01 cent figure, and the present 64 1/2 cent price for newly-mined ore. In that case, the miner, presumably, would be allowed to take advantage of the higher price."

Yes, in several instances, local politicians have claimed definite administration support, have hinted very broadly to the voters that Mr. Roosevelt wanted them nominated, and have gone unreproved from Washington.

In Ohio, West Virginia, Indiana, Texas and a number of other states, candidates have been put into the field under circumstances which, on their face, set up a presumption of administration favor.

With Farley's Blessing

In the case of West Virginia, National Chairman Farley even went so far as to say in a public statement that candidate Clem Elvax was one of the original Roosevelt men, and, if nominated and elected, be a source of administration strength in the senate.

Such a direct declaration by a national chairman is unusual, and it becomes even more surprising when it is recalled that Mr. Farley also is a member of the Roosevelt cabinet and recognized everywhere as the political spokesman of the White House.

His action will increase national curiosity over the outcome of the West Virginia nomination contest.

In Indiana the candidate who posed as the "Roosevelt candidate" was not nominated. In Texas the reverse was true.

Of course, once nominated, every candidate immediately affirms his support for the administration, but it will be interesting when the nominations are complete to see how many really credit their election to "word from Washington."

It is notorious that the party in power has, normally, far more factional difficulty than the party out of power.

The Republicans had plenty of it when they were the majority party. In each of the four instances when Republicans were voted out of the White House since the Civil war a party split had a good deal to do with the party defeat.

Of course the Republicans are far from united now, but that is an old story. The noteworthy thing about the present Democratic factionalism is that it disproves any presumption that the party has been reunited completely and freed of internal dissension under the leadership of Mr. Roosevelt.

City Marks Century

LORAIN, O. (UP)—Seventy-five thousand persons lined the streets of industrial Lorain as 10,000 marching Lorainians celebrated the city's 100th anniversary with a parade which stretched eight miles and took three hours to pass.

Swiss Do Have "Navy"

TIPTONVILLE, O. (UP)—Switzerland has a navy, says to the contrary notwithstanding. A pilot-driven boat being used here to build an ice guard above a coal dock in the Ohio river bears the name "Swiss Navy No. 1."

FRESH FRUITS —AND— VEGETABLES

LETTUCE
Fresh, Crisp, Solid Heads

2 heads 9c

LEMONS
Lunkist Quality Full of Juice

Dozen 23c

TOMATOES
Large Red Ripe Ones

4 lbs. 13c

Watermelons
Local Growth, Guaranteed Ripe

lb. 1 3/4 c

POTATOES
Local Growth Good Cookers

13 lbs. 19c

PEACHES
Tuscan Clings, Elbertas and J. H. Hales at the Pretailing

LOWEST MARKET PRICE

DISTRIBUTION WITHOUT WASTE

Shopping Suggestions
Saturday and Monday, August 11 and 13th

VALUES for 25c

PEANUT BUTTER
Your Choice 2 lb. Jar 25c

BEANS
Small White For Baking 6 lbs. 25c

PORK and BEANS
Van Camps, 16-oz. can 4 cans 25c

SWANS DOWN
For a Perfect Cake Regular Package 25c

NOB HILL COFFEE
The Aristocrat of Coffee. Fresh Ground Insures Freshness. Lb. for 25c

... and they are hard to beat! People say our VALUE sales are getting better every week. There is no denying that today and tomorrow anyone with a "quarter of a dollar" is going to receive some extra good VALUES in quality foods. Miss your afternoon bridge or the matinee, but don't, under any circumstances, miss these values!

Quality FRESH MEATS

FANCY BABY BEEF
Rib and Sirloin Steaks
Lb. 18c

SUGAR CURED PICNICS
Lb. 18c
Half or whole

BONELESS BEEF CUBES
2 Lbs. For 29c

GROUND ROUND STEAK
2 Lbs. For 29c

BABY BEEF LIVER
2 Lbs. For 25c

BABY BEEF POT ROASTS
10c up to 13c Lb

Everything for the Picnic Basket!

AIRWAY COFFEE
A Good Quality at a Low Price

lb. 21c
3 lb. 59c

MARSHMALLOWS
Fluffiest. Cellophane Package. 1 lb. 15c

FLOUR
Grater Lake Hardwheat. 49 lb. $1.79

MAYONNAISE
Best Foods, in the Crystal Jar. Pint 23c. Qt. 33c

LION BRAND . . . 49 lbs. $1.53

PORK & BEANS
Van Camps. 16 oz. can. 4 cans 25c

MILK
Maximum, Tall can. 4 cans 23c

DEVILED MEAT
Libby's. 3/4 can 3 cans 10c

FRUIT JARS
Ball or Kerr Mason. Regular. Quarts. Dozen 85c

POTATO CHIPS
Nalley's. 10c size. 2 Pkgs. 15c

VINEGAR
Full Strength. Bring container. Gallon 22c

CHEESE KRAFTS
Swiss, Pimento, American. 8 oz. Pkg. 15c

ROOT BEER EXTRACT
French's. Makes 5 gallons. Bottle 14c

CORNER BEEF
Libby's. Slice and Serve. 12 oz. can 15c

NUCOA
For Cooking. Pound 12c

JELLO
Assorted Flavors. 3 Packages 17c

FRIDAY IS FAMILY CIRCLE DAY
ASK FOR YOUR COPY
It's Free!

3 for 25c Your Choice

PINEAPPLE Hibiscus Crushed. No. 1/2 can
TOMATO JUICE Libby's No. 1 can
DOGGIE DINNER A perfect dog food . . No. 1 can
RAISINS Sun Maid Seeded or Seedless 15-oz. pkg.
KELLOGG'S WHOLE WHEAT FLAKES . Reg. pkg.

5 for 25c Your Choice

SOUP Phillips. Assorted varieties. Clean-up price
SARDINES Blue Jacket in oil No. 1/4 can
TOMATO SAUCE Dei Monte 8-oz. can
IVORY Medium bar
KOPPO METAL SPON. Note the price

6 for 25c Your Choice

TOILET TISSUE Zee, Waldorf
TOILET SOAP White King Reg. bar
LAUNDRY SOAP Crystal White Large bars
SUNBRITE CLEANSER Reg. can
MATCHES Favorite Reg. box

Here's Wise Food for Hot Weather

Keeping cool is largely a matter of what you eat. These hot days, instead of a breakfast that makes you feel dull and lousy all morning, try cooling, nourishing Shredded Wheat, fruit and milk.

You won't need anything else. If you wanted to, you could live, grow and work, on this fine combination of food—and nothing else.

Shredded Wheat is whole wheat, nothing added—nothing taken away, in a most appetizing and digestible form. It gives you carbohydrates you need for energy, proteins for tissue building, minerals for bone structure, vitamins that help you to resist disease, and bran to keep you regular.

Children grow strong bodies, red cheeks and happy alert minds on Shredded Wheat. Grown-ups find it is good hot weather food that helps them sail through the summer smiling and full of pep. Start Shredded Wheat today!

SHREDDED WHEAT

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY
"Uneeda Bakers"

SAFEWAY STORES

Store 41, 113 No. Central
Store 471, Main and Holly