

HORSE GETS THE BREAK THIS TIME!

With the mercury dancing near 100 degrees in Chicago, Arnold Baer, a traffic policeman, decided it was time to do something about it for the sake of his trusty steed. He is shown giving the horse a cooling shower and the animal doesn't seem to mind at all. (Associated Press Photo)

From Mrs. Anna Sage (above), the "girl in red" who accompanied John Dillinger on his excursion to a Chicago movie that ended in his death, Chicago investigators sought to learn more about the desperado's recent movements. She denied she tipped off police or knew the man was Dillinger. (Associated Press Photo)

FLIERS OFF FOR ANTARCTIC

Mrs. Bernt Balchen bidding farewell in Los Angeles to her husband, Bernt Balchen (left), pilot, and Harold Gatty, navigator for the Lincoln Ellsworth antarctic expedition as they left for New Zealand. (Associated Press Photo)

EUROPEAN SITUATION LESS CRITICAL

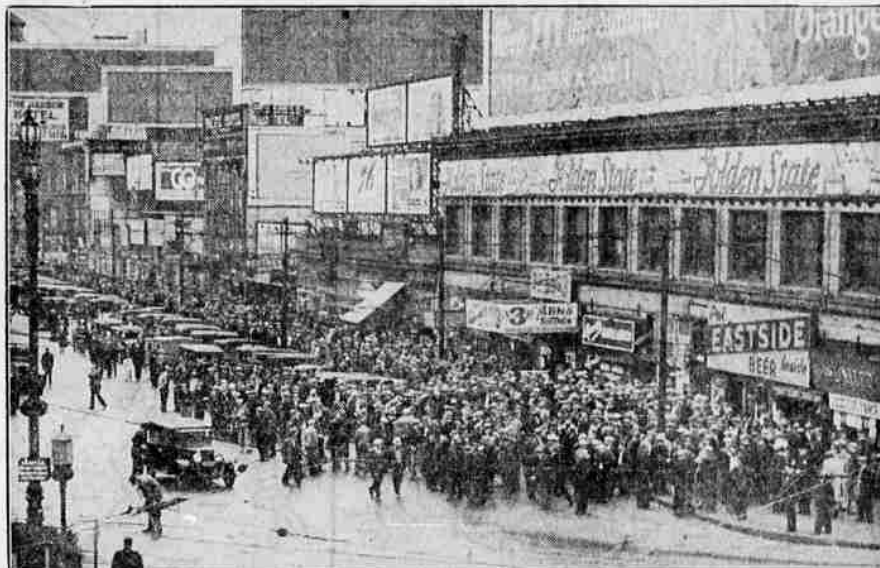

Civil war flared in Austria following the assassination of Chancellor Dollfuss. European powers began negotiations to insure Austria's freedom from a union with Germany. Premier Mussolini of Italy ordered troops ready for action and Premier Doumergue of France as well as London urged "sensible action" and Germany denied it had played any part in the upheaval. (From Associated Press)

JOBLESS PROTEST DISCONTINUANCE OF CWA

Led by Norman Thomas, socialist candidate for President in 1932 (carrying briefcase), unemployed persons from several eastern cities staged a march of protest in Washington against discontinuance of civil works projects. (Associated Press Photo)

SMILING LONGSHOREMEN RETURN TO WORK

This San Francisco waterfront scene was similar to that in other Pacific coast cities as striking longshoremen and other maritime workers went back to their jobs, ending a strike which lasted nearly three months. This picture was taken in front of the hiring hall in San Francisco as men gathered to be assigned to ships for unloading. (Associated Press Photo)

NAZIS KILL AUSTRIAN LEADER

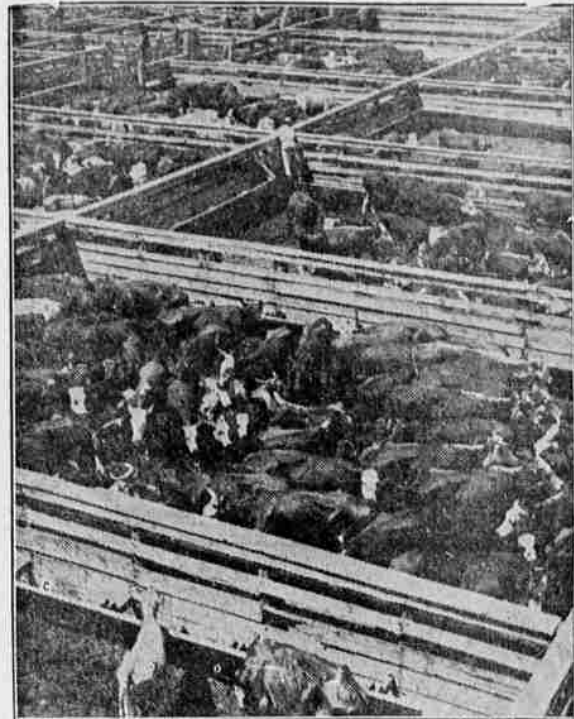

Shown here is a typical group of Austrian Nazi troops, some of whom invaded the federal chancellery in Vienna and assassinated Chancellor Dollfuss, allowing him to bleed to death without benefit of medical aid or clergy after firing several shots into his body. (Associated Press Photo)

THE GIRL DILLINGER LEFT BEHIND

This is the picture found in John Dillinger's watch after the outlaw had been slain in Chicago. Police said she was Mrs. Rita Keesle of Gary, Ind. (Associated Press Photo)

CATTLE JAM PENS IN STRIKE

After members of the livestock handlers' union in Chicago went on strike many of the 75,000 cattle bellowed and milled around in unprotected enclosures and many dropped dead in the heat. Others were shot. Some of the unfed cattle are shown wandering around in their pens. (Associated Press Photo)

HAPPY THEY'RE HOME IN HONOLULU

Duke Kahanamoku (left) and Harold Dillingham piled high with leis given by friends when they reached Honolulu from Los Angeles in Dillingham's yacht, the Manuwa. The duke was a member of Dillingham's crew in the ocean race of yachts which was won by the Manuwa. (Associated Press Photo)

BIT OF OLD WORLD IN THE NEW

Mrs. Joe Gallagher and daughter, Patsy, visiting the bit of Holland in the front yard of the Puget Sound home of Julius Fuchs. It is a picturesque miniature of an ancient Dutch lake colony which Fuchs built near Seattle, Wash. (Associated Press Photo)

Surrenders

A fugitive for nearly three years, E. L. Gares (above), one of seven indicted for the kidnaping of E. L. Gares and his wife in 1930 gave himself up to Hollywood, Cal., police. Five of the seven have been convicted and another turned state's witness. (Associated Press Photo)

Murder Charged In Death of Co-Ed

A murder warrant filed by the county attorney at Norman, Okla., intensified the search for Neal Myers (above), panicky college boy who fled the scene of the death of Marian Mills, University of Oklahoma beauty who allegedly was the victim of an illegal attempt to prevent motherhood. (Associated Press Photo)

Dance Posture

According to Velox and Yolanda, pictured here, this is the correct manner in which a gentleman should hold his partner when engaging in the fox-trot division of the All-American Amateur Dancing Championship contests being conducted in a nationwide hunt for dance talent. The finals will be held in the free Lagoon theater at the new World's Fair in Chicago, September 29.

AVENGE PAL'S DEATH IN DILLINGER SLAYING

This quartet of East Chicago, Ind., police officers had the satisfaction of avenging the slaying of one of their fellow policemen at the hands of John Dillinger during a bank holdup, when they cooperated with federal agents in the surrounding and killing of the desperado in front of a Chicago movie theater. (Associated Press Photo)

Tells Of Putsch

Emil Fey (above), former Austrian vice-chancellor who was imprisoned by the Nazi putschists who killed Engelbert Dollfuss, described his experience in the crisis following his release. He said the Nazis had threatened him with death. (Associated Press Photo)

Federal Agent Held In Slaying

Lear B. Reed (above), department of justice agent at St. Louis, was arrested after the slaying of Mrs. Deslie Masterton, who was shot and killed during a raid by officers on her home. (Associated Press Photo)