SIN PICTURED BY NAZARENE PASTOR AS SOUL OPIATE

Fred M. Weatherford, pastor-evanfrom the topic "A Sleep Peculiar to "Sleep might be defined as the poor man's legacy, the prisoner's freedom, and the unblased judge between the high and the low. The man who is asleep is helpless. His physical vigor and mental acumen is no asset to him and mental acumen is no asset to him temperature.

and mental scumen is no asset to him white asleep. He may be robbed or assassinated without protest. He is oblivious to any impending peril.

"That woman who took five grains of morphine, when she intended to take five grains of quinine, became an almost irresistable sleeper. It was with great difficulty that her physician and friends kept her from sleeping the sleep of death. She begged to be left slome. But to save her they walked her all night. It was the drug that caused all consciousness of danger to disappear. But for the activity of all these who knew her danger, she of all those who knew her danger, she would have fallen a helpless victim.
"That is a picture of sin. It is an opiate. Men who are not duly forewarned, walk right into the death chamber while in the grip of sin, without any protest and without any apparent alarm. But God has painted a graphic picture of ain and its re-morseful consequences, in the Bible. "The Bible has withstood the on-the centuries. It has gone through the crucible and has come forth with-out the smell of fire. Its critics have Boston wielded a heavy hammer, to break Chicago it in pieces, but it has survived the Denver hammer. It pictures sin as non-conformity to the law of God.

"Except for this moral guids, man would have no equitable rule for his Mediord 93 sctions. When man sets up a code of morals of his own, he is subjectomaha ong himself to a peril that is certain to bring him eternal defeat. That faise barricade about himself, which will be exposed as faise construction in the light of the judgment day—he shall be found wanting.

"The natural man is so obsessed in his sinful alumbers that it is difficult to awaken him to compare his checkered record by a check on the word of God. But remember it is by that word we shall be judged. Pew in our day grasp the mighty import of being saved from sin. But I ask

PREDICT JOHNSON'S ASTORIA PREPARES OUSTER IN FIGHT FOR LEGION MEET OVER PRINT ASTORIA, Ore. Aug. 18-(AP)-

Senator Schall (R., Minn.) predicted "fire" Hugh S. Johnson "to set up a Edward A. Hayes, national com grandstand play. He may even fire Johnson outright to set up a Whith House althi. He will doubtless use the opportunity to win the applause of the daily press by a theatrical gesture of discarding the newsprint code or at least, the proposed enlarge-ments."

The senator quoted from testimony he said was presented at a recent hearing on proposed amendments to the effect that "the newsprint trust. under the protective arm of the NRA and by suspension of the anti-trust laws, threatens American newspapers with a charge of $50 per ton for newsprint, which the protected combine sells to Europe at $30 and to South American publishers at $20."

with the Hugh S. Johnson "to set up a white House alibi" in the newsprint code dispute.

Schall, persistent critic of NRA, issued a statement attacking a proposal for a special board with authority over newsprint prices—a plan which publishers have opposed as monopolistic.

Declaring the proposal a "menace to American publishers," Schall said:

"It is a foregone conclusion that, now that the Johnson NRA administration has bee," caught red-handed by the American publishers, Roosevelt will use the incident for a dramatic grandstand play. He may even fire

BRIDE SEES MATE

DE LAKE, Ore., Aug. 13.—(AP)— While his brids of seven months and hundreds of other beach visitors looked on, Mortimer Langham, about 35, of Salem, former teller of a Port-iand bank, was caught by the under-tow and drowned here yesterday.

A tug recovered the body nearly a mile from where Langham had been swimming, but efforts to revive him proved futtle.

Langham is survived by his widow and his parents, who are residents of San Francisco.

Canners Get Slash Code Prune Prices SALEM, Aug. 13.—(P)—The controversy over prices as first fixed by the prime control board was apparently ended taday, following the announcement by the board late Saturday night of a slight downward trend in the minimum price scale on green prines, and a material revision of the grading system. The new price list was the result of an all-day hearing Saturday, con-ducted by the control board, at which regarding the alleged ness of the code price first announced
