

WATSON LOSES IN EFFORT TO REGAIN TIMBER PROPERTY

Validity of the county court's sale of Dan Watson's timber homestead in the Prospect district, to George L. Jantzer, sawmill operator, for delinquency, and the legality of the Oregon tax law, is upheld in an opinion handed down yesterday by Circuit Judge H. D. Norton.

The case has been hanging fire since last January. The county was represented by District Attorney George A. Coddling, Jantzer by Attorney Frank J. Newman, and Watson by Attorney George M. Roberts. The case and findings held much of public interest.

The brief history of the case is: Watson owned the timber homestead on which he filed shortly after the war. It is located about three miles from the Earl Ulrich mill box on the Crater Lake highway. Jantzer last winter built a sawmill on the road and made ready for spring operation.

Taxes on the homestead lapsed in the sum of approximately $133 and Jantzer purchased the land on a tax delinquency certificate and the county court issued a deed. Watson, then through counsel, proffered the tax amount and sought to block possession by Jantzer, questioning the legality of the sale. The case then wended its way through a labyrinth of legal procedure to the decision of yesterday.

The opinion holds that the county court was acting within its rights and in accordance with Oregon law and that it is sustained by decisions of the state supreme court.

The finding also notes that Watson failed to redeem the property within the time allowed and "doubts his right to question the validity of the sale by the county court," as his legal interest, under Oregon law, expired with failure of redemption.

It is understood an appeal will be taken to the high court.

RAILROADS DENIED DELAY ON PENSION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—(AP)—The railroads of the country today were denied a temporary order in District of Columbia supreme court to restrain the railroad retirement board from starting operation of the pension law passed by the last congress.

Justice Proctor, after being told by Hammond Chaffitz, representing the attorney general, that the board contemplates asking only enough advance of funds by the railroads to start administrative work, held that the railroads were not in danger of sufficient damage to warrant a temporary order.

As a result of the decision further hearings on the case probably will not be held for several weeks.

CROW HEARING IS SLATED THURSDAY

Preliminary hearing from Ewan L. Crow, held on a federal charge of postal money order forgery, was set for Thursday afternoon at two o'clock by United States Commissioner Victor Tengwald. Crow entered a plea of not guilty, and demanded a hearing when arraigned yesterday in the county jail. Bonds were fixed at $2000, which to date the defendant has been unable to provide. Inspector B. L. Freeman of Portland, arrived yesterday to take charge of the government's case.

Crow was arrested by the state police Saturday night on a federal fugitive from justice warrant.

The warrant alleges that Crow passed the bogus postal money order in Boise, Idaho, last May 24.

Federal authorities admit that "at least one other is involved," but are non-communicative on details of the charge.

KIDS TO PARADE FRIDAY BEFORE BIG FREE MOVIE

A lot of fun and excitement, to say nothing of cash prizes and a chance to see Joe E. Brown's newest laugh hit, "The Circus Clown," are in store for the boys and girls of Medford and vicinity.

On Friday, starting at 1 o'clock, a big "Circus parade" will start from the Craterian theater, go through the main streets of Medford and return to the theater in plenty of time for the start of the show. All children are invited to enter the parade, bringing along their pets, the loudest noisemaker, their funniest costume, the most novel entry, and their most unique makeup. There will be $10 in cash to be distributed to those boys or girls who are judged to be the winners in each class.

There's no catch to it—all you have to do is to fill in your name and age and say what you're going to enter in the parade, in the entry blank to be found in this paper, and join in the fun in the Mail Tribune's and Craterian theater's big circus parade and theater party.

All entries should be left either at the theater or the Mail Tribune office not later than Friday morning, and all entrants should be at the theater Friday not later than 1 o'clock, when the parade starts.

And remember this—everybody in the parade, regardless of whether they win a prize or not, will be admitted to the show free, immediately after the parade.

PATTON REACHES 75-YEAR MARK IN JOURNEY OF LIFE

Seventy-five years ago today in County Mayo, Ireland, Owen John Patton—one of the happy Irish—was born, so the well-known and popular resident is receiving the congratulations of scores of local friends.

He came to America with his parents when five years old, and to this city 25 years ago. In the interim, he flashed across the diamond as one of the brightest stars of baseball when the National game was in its infancy. In 1889 he played outfield for Des Moines, with a fielding average of .998. He made one error in 102 games. In his baseball career he played with Minneapolis, St. Paul, Lincoln, Neb., Des Moines, Brockton, Mass., Tacoma, Wash., and Victoria, B. C.

Many of the old time leading figures of baseball knew him. The list includes Connie Mack, of the Philadelphia Athletics, the late John McGraw of the Giants, and Wilbert Robinson of Brooklyn, Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators and scores of other lesser lights. He has many interesting tales to tell of his baseball career.

Oweny came to Medford 25 years ago from Spokane, Wash., and at the tail-end of the boom was sidewalk inspector for this city. He enjoys a wide acquaintance among the older residents, as well as the newcomers.

He is now in charge of the Gates and Lydard Economy Groceries auto parking lot.

"I can't be driving one of the rigs," he said today, "but I'm after knowing how one of the things should be backed up."

He directs traffic with a pine board and handles it as well as he did a baseball bat.

$1,500,000 FROM LIQUOR EXPECTED BY END OF 1935

SALEM, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Counties will receive approximately $1,500,000 for unemployment relief from revenue of the Oregon state liquor commission at the end of 1935, the commission estimated at a meeting held here yesterday.

The meeting was called mainly for the purpose of making recommendations to the control board regarding the recent proposal to issue certificates of indebtedness against the state liquor fund to match federal unemployment relief money. A previously adopted resolution by the board would issue these certificates in an amount not exceeding $1,250,000 and at a rate of not more than $250,000 monthly.

The commission voted yesterday to recommend to the board of control that the final maturity date of the certificates of indebtedness be fixed as of December 31, 1935, with option that they can be retired serially each 90 days after January 1, 1935. In amounts to be determined by the board.

The $1,500,000 estimate of revenue for the next 17 months was considered conservative by George Neuner, attorney for the commission, who cited the fact that sales were mounting and permits being issued daily.

MULTNOMAH FIGHTS FOR HIGHWAY FUNDS

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 15.—(AP)—A pitched battle to secure more federal highway funds for Multnomah county was underway today.

A county-city committee led by protest with Chief Engineer McDonald of the United States bureau of roads, asking that the bureau withhold approval of the Oregon state highway commission's allocation which the committee contends does not give Multnomah county a fair share of Oregon's $3,100,000 highway relief fund.

The committee will seek aid of every civic organization in the county in waging its battle.

MARTIN SPEAKS IN KLAMATH FALLS

KLAMATH FALLS, Aug. 15.—(AP)—General Charles H. Martin today invaded the home town of his defeated primary rival, Willis E. Mahoney, to advance his Democratic candidacy for the governorship of Oregon. More than 300 persons attended a luncheon in his honor.

Mayor Mahoney was not present. Martin, steering clear of state political issues, discussed the future of Oregon. He said he believed the state was on the verge of considerable population increase and felt the country was well qualified for immediate growth.

The general praised the Roosevelt policies and said he believed Oregon had received more appropriations from this administration than any other.

LIQUOR BUYERS TO LOSE PLACE ON RELIEF ROLL

The heaviest drain on Jackson county finances is the relief funds, and the county court feels conservation of the fund funds, for the good of the majority, is consistent with good business policy.

Expenditure of federal funds in large amounts, betterment of labor conditions during the harvest months in this section, and return of prosperity, are also advanced as reasons why curtailment of relief expenditures can be made. All over the nation, counties have taken steps for lessening the relief burden this winter, and eventually ending it, as far as possible, the county officials point out.

There has been an improvement in local relief conditions, scores of those receiving funds striving to help themselves by saving and laying by food and money for winter needs. To this class there is a strong disposition on the part of the public and officials to render aid. A small minority feel that the county relief funds are limitless, and that they are not bound to self-help moves. It is this class for which the restrictions are imposed, the court said.

On Friday evening the Rinky Dinks will clash for the second time with the Henderson All-Stars.

Teams offered a game with Puhl's outfit have been backward about accepting the challenge for fear their home runs and other hits, easily garnered off the Rinky Dink pitchers, might break windows in the vicinity of the grounds.
