

ANNUAL IOWA PICNIC ENJOYED BY 350 AT GRANTS PASS PARK

CENTRAL POINT, Aug. 15.—(Spl.)—The Iowa annual picnic was held in Riverside park at Grants Pass Sunday with 350 in attendance from different points in southern Oregon. After registering and receiving badges showing where each one hailed from, the crowd mingled, and many surprises developed in discovering some one from the old home town.

At one o'clock, the crowd was seated at long tables, beautifully decorated with gladioli, as profusely grown in the locality of the "climate" city, the Iowa club of which town donated coffee and fruit as an adjunct to the time and varied spread. Included in the program were several musical numbers by the young people's orchestra of Grants Pass, two solos by Mrs. Ed Nichols of Medford, "Iowa Corn Song" and "Iowa State Song" by all, with piano accompaniment. An address by Candidate for Governor of Oregon Charles H. Martin was enjoyed.

During the business meeting the secretary was instructed to send greetings to the Iowa club, which will meet at Champoog August 10. C. H. Demery was reappointed chairman for the next year, the meeting to be held in Grants Pass park. Iowa club women of Grants Pass organized this year, following the first meeting held at Gold Hill in 1933. A club was organized in Medford during the boom days under the leadership of Mr. Hoon from Sioux Rapids, Iowa, who later returned to the Iowa home, and the activities of the club were discontinued.

PORTLAND, Aug. 15.—(7)—George W. Thatcher, 37, president and treasurer of the Inman-Poulsen company here, died yesterday after having been ill only a few hours. Physicians believed heart trouble caused his death.

BARTLETTS GOING TO STORAGE NOW

Rogue River valley pears are now being dispatched to Portland and Klamath Falls storage plants, for release later for eastern markets, and to San Francisco for export shipment.

Tuesday eleven cars were dispatched, according to Southern Pacific freight office data to the storage, three to San Francisco for export, three to the New York market, and 16 to Willamette Valley and California canneries.

Bulk of the canneries Bartletts has been shipped, but shipments are expected to continue all this week. Total number of cars of Bartletts shipped to the canneries, up to Tuesday night was 463 cars—the largest number in the past five years. Packed Bartlett shipments total 54 cars to date. Half this number are estimated as being held in storage plants, to await end of the California Bartlett sales, and improvement of markets.

Orchardists this week are picking Bosses and D'Ansons, with some Comice. Heaviest picking period of the year is now under way and most of the packing plants are working night shifts to handle the rush.

SHELL TOURING SERVICE

—the most complete—by far—at any service stations in the West

HALF THE FUN of any trip is planning. That's where Shell Road Maps start you off right. They're the most complete, most fascinating maps you ever pored over. And when you get under way, there are special In-an'-Out Maps with mileage charts to guide you through the cities. And individual Metropolitan Maps for Seattle, Portland, San Francisco, and Los Angeles. And Shell Auto Cabin Directories along Highways 99 and 101. All these are travel aids that only Shell Touring Service provides you. And to top all this, each station has its own Shell Finger-Tip Travel Information Book for you to refer to anytime. It tells what is worthwhile seeing in that part of the world—and how to get there. It lists resorts and hotels. It describes the fish that are to be found in nearby waters—and even suggests how to catch 'em. Do you wonder so many people are talking about Shell Touring Service this summer?
