MEDFORD BANKS WILL AID HOME REPAIR PROGRAM

The three banks in Medford—The Medford National, the First National and the Farmers and Fruitgrowers have announced acceptance of contracts of insurance under the modernization credit plan of the federal housing administration, it was made known here today.

Word was received by Associated Press from Washington, D. C., that the Medford National bank had accepted. George Frey, cashier at the bank, said he had wired acceptance to James A. Moffeet, administrator for the federal housing administration. The First National bank mailed its acceptance, and Fred Wahl of the Farmers' and Fruitgrowers' bank said the organization planned accepting, but had not forwarded its assent, pending receipt of further information concerning the plan.

The federal housing administration makes loans for alterations, repairs, etc., of real property, under the national housing act. This credit may be applied for, if the person can repay in regular installments over a period of from one to three years.

Issued by the administration, are a number of points, explaining the loans being made:

1. Any property owner, individual, partnership or corporation with a regular income from salary, commissions, business, or other assured source may apply. It is not necessary to be a depositor in the financial institution consulted.

2. Application may be made to any national bank, state or trust company, savings bank, industrial bank, building and loan association, or finance company approved by the federal housing administration; or to a contractor or building supply dealer.

3. Application may be made for sums from $100 to $2000, depending on the person's income, for improvements on any one property, and in connection with not more than five properties unless approved by the federal housing administration, Washington, D. C.

4. Notes may run for any number of months from one to three years. (Notes extending from 37 months to five years may be submitted to the federal housing administration by financial institutions for special consideration.)

5. For security, it is required that the person have an adequate regular income and a good credit record in the community.

6. Assurance necessary is that the applicant own the property, that the income of the signers of the note is at least five times the annual payments on the note; that the mortgage, if any, is in good standing, and that there are no other past due encumbrances or liens against the property, and that the applicant will use the proceeds solely for property improvement.

7. Signatures required on the note are those of the property owner; and (except in special cases) if the owner is an individual and is married, also signature of wife or husband. No other co-signers or endorsers are required.

8. Cost of the credit is that the financial institution may not collect as interest, (and) or discount (and) or fee of any kind, a total charge in excess of an amount equivalent to $5 discount per year per $100 original face amount of note.

9. Notes are payed by regular, equal monthly payments (seasonal payments for farmers) until the note is paid in full.

10. Applications will be considered for credit to improve one-family, two-family, or other residences; apartment buildings, stores, office buildings, factories, warehouses, farm buildings.

11. Regular installment payments will be made in person at the place of business of the financial institution; or by mail; or as otherwise arranged. No payment shall be made to any governmental office or organization.

12. Notes may be paid in full before maturity, at any time. A reasonable rebate will be allowed for prepayment, if charges have been collected in advance.

13. More than one payment may be made at a time, as many as the person wishes, but such payments should be in exact multiples of the agreed payments—that is if monthly payment is $10, larger payments should total $20, $30, etc.—not for example odd sums such as $18 or $25.

14. The maker must not permit his payments to fall in arrears. Should a payment be more than 15 days late, the financial institution's expense, caused thereby should be reimbursed in part at rate of not more than five cents per dollar for each payment in arrears. Persistent delinquency will make it necessary for the financial institution to take proper steps to effect collection in full.

Starts Tomorrow

"Springtime For Henry," an uproarious comedy of a modern Don Juan's romantic adventures, will make its appearance on the screen of the Craterian theatre tomorrow and Wednesday, Behn W. Levy, the author of the play, was brought to Hollywood to rewrite the story. It is reported that the picture, because of the screen's larger scope, is even funnier than the play.

The picture deals with the hectic life of Henry Dewlip (Otto Kruger), a modern young bachelor whose adventures are chiefly concerned with two women. Nancy Carroll is one of the pursuing young ladies in the film. Heather Angel, the charming young English actress, portrays the role of the other woman. Others in the cast are Nigel Bruce, Herbert Mundin, Arthur Hoyt and Geneva Mitchell.

"Born To Be Bad" Held Extra Day

Due to the tremendous crowds attending the Rialto theatre's showing of "Born To Be Bad," starring Loretta Young, the picture has been held over for an additional day, ending its run tomorrow night instead of tonight as originally scheduled.

Telling the story of a beautiful and desirable model, whose moral character is not exactly to be copied, "Born To Be Bad" nevertheless allows Loretta Young a much wider scope for her dramatic talents than many other pictures in which she has appeared.

Little Jackie Kelk, a child actor of no mean ability, is the center of the action. It is about him that the story revolves. Juvenile authorities do not approve of the ethics his mother (Miss Young) teaches him. It is when he is taken away from her that she swings into battle for her child. Cary Grant, wealthy and handsome, and quite happily married, adopts the boy and gives him the proper environment for a growing youngster, teaching him the right from the wrong. But mother love demands her child and she succeeds in compromising Grant to gain her end.

An executive meeting of the local society will be held this evening at the home of Mrs. W. R. Baird at 7:30 o'clock. The Medford group voted to attend the services in charge of Teddy Leavitt to be conducted in Grants Pass Thursday evening. Those wishing to attend are asked to be at the church at 7:15 p. m.
