

ROTARY ENJOYS DANCE REVUE BY STUDIO PUPILS

A music and dance program was presented at today's luncheon meeting of the Medford Rotary club in the Medford Hotel basement banquet room by Mrs. Lilia Purucker. Little Miss Floradale Campbell entertained with an acrobatic waltz number, while a clever comedy dance team, featuring Rossini and Kent White, delighted the Rotarians and guests with a bawdy dance to the tune of "Sideshow of New York." The three entertainers are pupils of Ted and Evelyn Schrader's dance studio of this city. Carol Dodge, a newcomer to this city, contributed to today's program with two piano numbers.

Due to the fact that Lee Bishop has missed a few of his entertaining thumbnail biographic sketches, he combined in his interesting talk at today's Rotary meeting, a few brief remarks concerning Franz Von Papen, headliner in news from Nazi Germany; Little Shirley Thomas, who has recently straddled to cinema fame; Professor Rex Tugwell, prominent New Dealer, and John D. Rockefeller Sr., aged capitalist. Mr. Bishop's brief Rotary talks continue to be an interesting and popular feature of club meetings.

Visiting Rotarians present at today's meeting were: William Mitchell, of Portland; C. C. Hockley, also of the Rose city, here on PWA business; Leslie Alward of Redding, Calif., and Justin Soule of Laramie, Wyo.; Dr. F. J. Moffatt of this city, a new member of the Medford Rotary club, was also present.

HARVESTING OF PEARS IN ROGUE VALLEY NOW AT HEIGHT OF SEASON

Harvesting of the pear crop of the Rogue river valley, now at its peak, is scheduled to be completed within the next ten days or two weeks, according to County Horticulturist Lyle P. Wilcox.

The harvesting will be ended from three weeks to a month ahead of normal years. Picking and packing of Bosca, Comice and D'Anjou are now in full swing and the packing plants are taxed to the limit to handle the daily pick. All are running night shifts.

According to Horticulturist Wilcox, pears are being picked and packed more efficiently and with less loss than in previous years. He attributes this to organization and management in the orchards and plants.

Most of the packed fruit is going into storage, with some shipments to eastern markets as "foelera." Some of the Bartlett crop is being stored at Portland and Klamath Falls, awaiting orders for export or domestic shipments.

Picking and packing of the apple crop, estimated between 400 and 500 cars, is scheduled to open the first week in September, starting with the Newtown varieties. This harvest is expected to last a month or six weeks.

WILLARD TAKES UP REFEREE RACKET

CAMDEN, N. J., Aug. 21.—(UP)—Big Jess Willard, former heavyweight champion who earned more than $1,000,000 in the fight game and now business, started a tour of the east here last night as wrestling referee, "just trying to pick a few dollars to send the kids to college."

Virtually broke, but with five children who need schooling, the 47 year old giant is following the footsteps of Jack Dempsey, who battered the crown of his towering head at Toledo, and has become an arbiter of grapplers.

"This college education stuff is no egg," Willard insisted as he stood in the lobby of the hotel Walt Whitman, Panama hat in hand. No gray was evident in his thatch of thick black hair, despite all his reverses in recent years. He looked good. Like one of the tens of his circus days, a vast blue suit enveloped his huge body—280 pounds on a 6 feet 6 inches frame.

BOOM IN STOCKS COMING SOON IS WORD OF EXPERT

ularly those of inflationary views—but in England there has been criticism from conservative writers who do not approve of any inflationary tactics.

Angas reviews the various reconstruction problems and tactics of the national administration and sums up the various plans in these statements: "The United States at the moment appears to me to be nearing the end of a period of reaction and after a short dormant period a new upswing should commence."

"Roosevelt's monetary plan, in brief, was 'reflate, then stabilize' and thus to correct one wrong without creating another."

"Since January, 1934, however, the actual inflation of bank deposits has begun; and this gradual warming up of the credit machine will certainly soon bring trade, prices, and shares to higher levels in America."

Inflation Just Begun "Many claim that in America 'inflation' has already failed; the truth is that it has only just begun. It has, in fact, taken a year to prepare the groundwork for the great and necessary expansion of credit which is now being maneuvered."

"All trade slumps require redundancy of money for their cure." He treated the current situation in the United States in simple terms as: "If you go on pumping money into people's pockets and pass books the result will eventually be felt in the shops."

Angas draws a definite line between inflation—wild issuance of printing press money such as happened in many countries—and controlled reflation which he views as the current American condition. He points out that solution of industrial crisis always settled down to a monetary point of view and that the three current attacks by money on the depression include threats of inflation—a powerful psychology which already has resulted in a tremendous spur to prices—bank credit inflation and cheap money and the inflationary printing of notes. The latter, he believes, will not be necessary.

FIRE HALTED BY UPPER ROGUE CCC

The most hazardous forest fire of the season was successfully controlled early this morning by efficient work of the part of 50 men from Upper Rogue CCC camp, after burning briskly over five acres of slashings in the area near the mouth of Flat creek on the Elk creek road. The blaze apparently started about 10 p. m. last night.

Karl Janouch, Rogue River National Forest supervisor, stated today that only the work of the CCC men and use of two pumps prevented serious damage from the fire.

CROW BOUND OVER ON $3000 BONDS IN FORGERY CASE

Introduced as evidence McMahon had previously identified the picture. The hearing was continued from last Monday to give the government time to bring McMahon here to testify.

Crow offered an alibi, tending to show that it was a physical impossibility to reach Boise from this city within the time specified. Relatives and residents of Grants Pass, Merion and Galice, Josephine county, testified that he was in Grants Pass and this city. It was testified that Crow left a mine on Galice creek, where he was employed on May 22, that he spent that night and the following day with relatives, that on May 24 he drove his aunt's car to Grants Pass and to a funeral, and that on the late afternoon of May 24, with his father, he came to this city on an auto bus. His movements were accounted for until the evening of May 24.

The government alleged that the money order was passed on the afternoon of May 26, and that Crow had time to reach Boise, by auto, from this city by a cross-state drive. It was further held that no testimony was offered to show Crow's whereabouts between the afternoon of May 24, and the first week of June. Kenneth Sutherland of this city, and an aunt of Grants Pass testified they saw Crow on the streets of this city during the Diamond Jubilee.

Additional witnesses called for the defense at the hearing yesterday, tended to strengthen the claim that Crow was in this city and Grants Pass, up to May 24.

Crow, now 24, was released from the state prison at Salem last January 15, where he served a two and one-half year sentence for burglary not in a dwelling. The passing of this sentence was used by Agitators Pehl and Banks as a basis for an abortive recall attempt against Circuit Judge H. D. Norton, and Banks persistently heralded the case as a "breakdown of law and order in Jackson county." Crow, in his engagements with the law previous to the prison sentence, was granted parole frequently by the juvenile and higher courts.
