POOR WIDOW'S RICHES FOUND AFTER DEATH

HATFIELD, Mo.—(UP)—Mrs. Rachel Hopper had lived the life of a poor widow woman during the last several years. She was receiving a government pension and wore heavy winter clothes throughout the summer because she apparently was too poverty stricken to buy new ones.

When she died, however, authorities found $1517 in currency sewed up in an undershirt and $2168 in cash and bonds hidden in the flour barrel.

Historians say the Cherokee Indians had 64 populous towns as early as 1775.

CONTROL BOARD WILL DECIDE ON RELIEF ADVANCE

SALEM, Ore., Aug. 24.—(AP)—The state board of control will meet here Monday to determine what, if any, action will be taken by the board in connection with the issuance of certificates of indebtedness against the state liquor fund for unemployment relief, it was decided.

Governor Julius L. Meier indicated in a message from Gearhart that he would arrive in Salem early Monday. He was expected to confer with officials of the state relief committee before attending the meeting here. Other members of the board stated they would be on hand.

Further consideration of the certificates was made necessary following a telegraphic opinion received here Wednesday from a Boston law firm, that it had not been able to find any authority whereby these certificates would not be a state debt under the provisions of the constitutional state debt limitation. The constitution prohibits the state from creating a debt in excess of $50,000 unless it is authorized by a vote of the people.

KEITH PROMOTED BY UNION OIL CO.

G. W. Keith, district manager in Medford for the Union Oil company, has been transferred to Spokane, according to an announcement made public yesterday. His many friends here will welcome this announcement as the transfer represents an advancement in the Union organization, although they will regret the fact that he is leaving with his family at once to assume new duties in the Washington inland metropolis.

While Mr. Keith was in this city at the helm of the Union Oil company staff in the southern Oregon district, he was actively identified with business and fraternal affairs. He returned this week from a conference with Union Oil company officials in Los Angeles.

J. P. Wallace, formerly manager of the Coos Bay district with headquarters in Marshfield, arrived in Medford this week to assume charge of the southern Oregon district. Mr. Wallace, who has had considerable experience in the Union Oil company organization, is well fitted to supervise the activities of this company here. His family will arrive here Sunday and establish residence in Medford.

Rev. Gibson B. Williamson, general president of the national organization, will be the major spokesman for the convention.

A delegation will go to Twin Rocks from Medford, led by the pastor, Fred M. Weatherford, who is one of the convention workers. Other delegates include Miss Geraldine House, Miss Lois Snyder and George Wilson.

SALEM, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Three deaths occurred in the state due to industrial accidents during the week ending August 23, the state industrial accident commission reported today. The report listed 707 accidents during that period.

The fatalities were Edward Degraff, Carlton, donkey engineer; Edward McCann, Parkdale, sawmill laborer, and Fred S. Thomas, Tangent, carpenter.

GRAFTED FOOT ON WORLD WAR VET

SPRINGFIELD, Mo.—(UP)—W. L. Tracer of St. Louis, construction company superintendent here, claims he is one of four men in world medical history to be walking on a grafted artificial foot.

The operation was performed, he said, during the world war after his own foot had been shot off at the ankle by a burst of shrapnel fire. Another man's foot was attached to his leg by a Major Wheeler, a medical corps officer, assigned for Nice, France.

The new foot, he said, had to be broken and reset after he had returned to America because it had not grown straight.

Tracer walks with only a slight limp and says the foot pains him only after a hard day's work.

PIERCE CITY, Mo.—(UP)—Girls and women wearing those cool sun-tan backless dresses must stay off the streets here.

Marshal J. L. Campbell, announcing a one-man campaign against "indecently" dressed women, threatened to arrest and jail all "girls and women who parade around showing off their backs."

The men weren't left out of his edict. They will be thrown in the city calaboose, he said, if they don't wear either shirts and undershirts.

Buster Brown Has Fall Shoe Display

The Buster Brown shoe store on South Central avenue is this week featuring its first showing of fall footwear in attractive window displays which indicate that dark brown and black are the leading colors.

Suede and combinations of patent leather with suede will be popular for early fall and winter, according to Clarence Evans, manager of the local Buster Brown store. Cuban or boulevard heels, plain pumps with gorings, eyelid effects and dressy oxfords are included in the large shipments just received by Mr. Evans.
