

Fair Beauty Queen Inspects Her Realm

WHO WOULDN'T ATTEND CONCLAVE

IOWA'S QUADRUPLTS POSE FOR A FAMILY GROUP

DALL CHILDREN REJOIN DAD

"Buzzie" and "Sistie" Dall, grandchildren of President Roosevelt, had their first outing in months with their father, Curtis B. Dall, when they met him in Chicago. It was the first time they had seen him since their parents were divorced in Minden, Nev. Their mother, Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Dall, continued to Washington while a nurse took the children to their father's hotel. Here Dall and the children are shown as they started a tour of the world's fair. (Associated Press Photo)

This quartet of American league sluggers held no terrors whatever for Carl Hubbell of the Giants when he pitched to them in the first three innings of the all-star game in New York. Hubbell not only fanned Al Simmons, Lou Gehrig, Babe Ruth and Jimmy Foxx (left to right), but also whiffed Joe Cronin and Lefty Gomez in his first two innings of unprecedented performance. The "big four" of American league batsmen are shown at the mid-season classic. (Associated Press Photo)

GEHRIG'S SIZZLER PUTS BABE IN WHEEL CHAIR

The mighty Babe Ruth was disabled for an undetermined period of time when a sizzling drive from the bat of his teammate, Lou Gehrig, struck him in the left leg in a game between the Yankees and the Cleveland Indians. Dr. Edward Castle, Cleveland club physician shown examining Ruth's leg, said it would be several days before the full extent of the injury could be determined. (Associated Press Photo)

COTTON CONTROL BILL SIGNED

President Roosevelt is shown as he signed the Bankhead bill which limits the amount of cotton which may be sold from the 1934 crop to 10,000,000 bales. Behind him are, left to right: Senator John Bankhead of Alabama and his brother, Rep. William B. Bankhead, co-authors of the measure, and Rep. Wall Doxey of Mississippi. (Associated Press Photo)

STOCK EXCHANGE BODY CHOOSES CHAIRMAN

The new securities and exchange commission is shown here after its first meeting in Washington, at which Joseph P. Kennedy, New York financier, was named chairman. That settled an apparent dispute with Ferdinand Pecora, who had indicated he would not serve on the commission except as chairman. Left to right, seated: Pecora, Chairman Kennedy, James M. Landis, former chairman of the federal trade commission. Standing, left to right: George C. Mathews, former trade commission member, and Robert E. Healy, of Vermont. (Associated Press Photo)

WAGNER IN WEST ON STRIKE SURVEY

Senator Robert F. Wagner (right) of New York as he arrived in Portland, Ore., to discuss with employers and employes the Pacific coast maritime strike situation. Wagner, intermediary of the White House, was optimistic and predicted an early settlement. Rep. Charles H. Martin (left) of Oregon was among the delegation welcoming the author of the original labor bill. (Associated Press Photo)

STRIKERS RETREAT UNDER ATTACK OF MOUNTED MEN

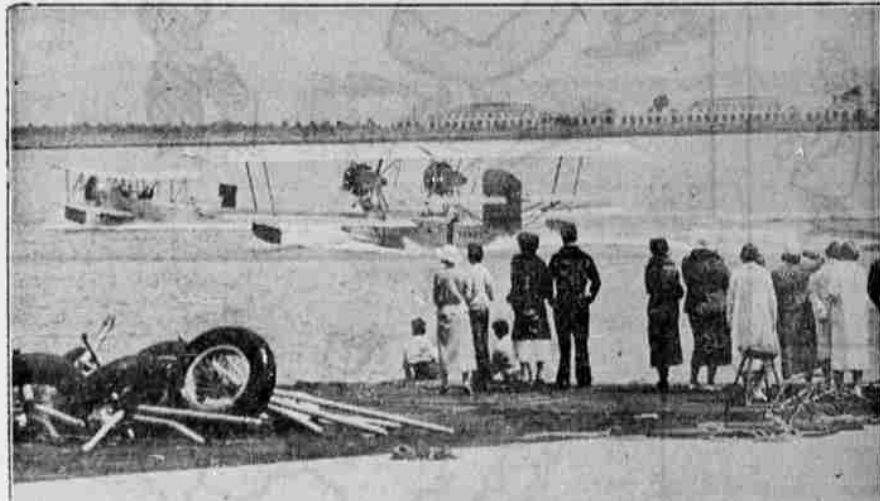

After breaking up picket ranks with tear and nausea gas bombs, mounted police charged some 2000 men half a mile from the Seattle waterfront and drove them down the tracks away from the scene of conflict. The encounter came as an effort was made to open the strike-locked port. (Associated Press Photo)

Premier Mussolini of Italy takes great pride in crops grown on reclaimed Pontine marshes and never misses a chance to visit there during the harvest season. Looking very much like a son of the soil, he is shown lending a hand to a threshing crew. (Associated Press Photo)

NAVY SEAPLANES TAKE OFF FOR FLIGHT TO ALASKA

Twelve planes, manned by 15 officers and 46 enlisted men, left San Diego, Cal., on an 8300 mile flight to Dutch Harbor, Alaska. Two of the naval seaplanes are shown leaving the California base while wives and sweethearts look on. (Associated Press Photo)
